Patrolman Donald Baezler Lies wounded on Sixth avenue, between Fiftieth and Fifty-first streets in New York, after being shot in the chest in chase of gunmen who held up offices of a firm dealing in American and foreign currencies in the Rockefeller Center area. One of the bandits was reported killed after a chase through a lobby.

African States Ask Congo-UN Accord

Resolution Jolts Lumumba as Premier Apparently Gets Set For Invasion of Katanga

BY LYNN HEINZERLING

Leopoldville, the Congo —(AP)— The Conference of independent African states jolted Premier Patrice Lumumba today with a resolution calling for frank and loyal cooperation between the United Nations and the Congo.

Lumumba, who has described the United Nations as imperialist, harassed Sec. Gen. Dag Hammarskjold and even called for the withdrawal of U. N. troops, sat in silence as the resolution was read in the conference hall.

The conference, which brought together delegates of 13 African states, wound up as Lumumba's government built up troop strength in neighboring Kasai province, apparently for an invasion of rebellious Katanga.

Lumumba had won one of his main demands. The United

Kalonji Declares Bakwanga Retaken

Elisabethville, the Congo —(AP)— Albert Kalonji, president of his self-styled mineral state in southern Kasai province, declared today his troops have recaptured his capital, Bakwanga.

He said that his capital was recaptured at 2 p.m.

He told newsmen: "My liberation army has retaken Bakwanga, Luputa, Ganyika and Mwena Bitu" (other towns previously reported occupied in southern Kasai by Congolese troops).

Red Germans Forbid West To Visit Berlin

Assert They Want To Bar Militarists, Revenge Seekers

BY GEORGE BOULTWOOD

Berlin —(AP)— Many West Germans cancelled trips to Berlin today because of threatening gestures by East Germany's communist regime.

The red regime suddenly put into effect at midnight a 5-day ban on travel into the east sector of Berlin by citizens of West Germany who did not have a special permit.

The reds said their special target was an association of former war prisoners and Germans expelled from communist territories who open their annual convention in West Berlin today. The communists said they were trying to protect their territory from "revenge seekers and militarists."

Western authorities warned all travelers to Berlin of the communist order.

Consider Order Illegal

Officials of the United States, Britain and France regarded the edict as illegal, but the only countermeasure in prospect was a protest to the Russians. They will probably ignore it.

The U.S. state department issued this statement in Washington:

"It is not our practice to dignify propaganda statements by the East German regime. It is obvious, however, that in this instance, as in others in the past, the danger to peace in Berlin lies in the aggressive threats constantly being made by the Soviet puppet regime in Eastern Germany . . . Berlin is not now and never has been on East German Soil."

In London, a foreign office spokesman said the implications of the East Berlin order was not clear but reaffirmed the position of the western powers that any attack on West Berlin is an attack on themselves.

Eastern Area Drenched by Sudden Storm

Subway Stations Flooded, Traffic Snarled in New York

New York —(AP)— A sudden summer storm drenched the New York metropolitan area yesterday and turned the evening rush hours into a nightlong nightmare.

Brief but violent downpours ushered in by thunder and lightning raked the region from Connecticut to New Jersey.

Flash floods sent water pouring into subway stations, inundated expressways with water and mud and tied traffic in tortured knots clogging streets from the East river halfway across Long Island.

An estimated 100,000 homeward - bound New Yorkers were stranded. At least 20,000 subway riders were trapped in broiling heat as more than a dozen trains ground to a halt in steaming tunnels. Some 150 persons on a stalled train under the East river suffered heat exhaustion.

Storm Elsewhere

The storm hit in Connecticut, struck suburban Westchester and Rockland counties in New York and parts of northern New Jersey. In New York City, heavy rains fell in Manhattan, Brooklyn and Queens. Queens and Long Island's Nassau county appeared hardest hit.

The storm was so scattered there was no official measurement. Queens residents described the downpour as "in inches."

At least 18 fires were touched off in Nassau and burned several homes. Power failures left nearly 19,000 homes along the north shore without electricity.

Youth Crushed By Trailer

Dies as Truck Rolls Back on Loading Dock in Kaukauna

Kaukauna — Winfred Rosenthal, 19, 917 Terry lane, Kaukauna, died about an hour after he was crushed between a semi-trailer and a loading dock Tuesday at Badger Northland, Inc., 215 W. Second street, Kaukauna.

Rosenthal and two other men had been tying a tarpaulin over the loaded 55,500-pound vehicle when the driver, Louis P. School, 37, route 3, Kaukauna, prepared to move the truck away from the loading dock. Rosenthal apparently had gone behind the trailer to finish tying the tarpaulin and was crushed when the truck rolled back against the dock, School told Coroner Bernard H. Kemps.

Crushing Injuries

Cause of death was crushing internal injuries, Kemps ruled. Rosenthal was injured about 5:30 p.m. and died after partially regaining consciousness at Kaukauna Community hospital.

He was single and lived with his sister, Mrs. Mary Pomeroy. He was the son of Walter Rosenthal, route 2, Kaukauna. Funeral services are being arranged by the Fargo Funeral home, Kaukauna.

Rosenthal, School and Kenneth Zerbel had taken some farm machinery off the truck because it earlier had been overloaded, Kemps was told. The truck rolled about two feet in crushing Rosenthal, Kaukauna police said.

The accident is the second industrial death in Outagamie county this year. The first killed a workman is Appleton in a sewer trench cave-in.

Conferees Disagree on Extra Funds

Washington —(AP)— Disputes over sugar import controls and extra foreign aid funds today stalled adjournment by congress members eager to get home to election campaigning.

Because of these difficulties, leaders shied away from saying when the dog-days session of congress might end.

"We'll have to see how we get along," Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas told newsmen when asked if congress could wind up tonight.

He said refusal of house conferees to accept $190 million of extra foreign aid funds — tacked on to the final catch-all money bill by the senate — probably was the key roadblock.

The house conferees asked the house to vote backing for their stand.

Too Many Strings

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois told newsmen that the house had attached too many strings to a sugar quota bill, asked by President Eisenhower to cut purchases from the Dominican Republic.

Asked by a reporter if the administration would prefer no bill to the one that came through the house, Dirksen said "you just can't operate under the house bill."

He said the outcome might be that no sugar legislation would be enacted.

Failure to get the $190 million extra for foreign aid would be a sharp blow to President Eisenhower. The senate put it into a supplemental appropriation bill after Eisenhower protested that

Girl's Body Found Buried in Yard

Palm Springs, Calif. —(AP)— A widespread search for a missing 10-year-old girl ended tragically —in her own front yard.

Juanita

A bloody two-by-four was found nearby. Investigators said she may have surprised a burglar in the Zapeda home.

"We believe she was murdered to keep her from identifying the intruder," said Roland Wilson, district attorney's chief trial deputy.

A strongbox containing $200 was stolen early Monday from the Zapeda home. Detectives believe she was taken from her bed in a thin cotton nightgown and a yellow bedspread which also disappeared from her room.

Sheriff's officers put out a broadcast for a former boarder at the Zapeda home, who was evicted two weeks ago. Capt. Lawrence E. Brooks said the family accused him of taking money and a rifle. Officers said they wanted to question him.

The girl's body was found by Ruben Zapeda, 21. He said he dug in a spot which appeared recently disturbed.

Absentees Tested Firm's Position, Witness States

Racine—(AP)—William Chown, a former official of the J. I. Case company, testified Tuesday that two officers of striking United Auto Workers Local 180 were testing the firm's position when they refused to report for work March 1.

Chown was the first witness at a national labor relations board hearing on charges of unfair labor practices filed by both the union and the farm machinery firm, struck by Local 180 on March 9. About 1,900 UAW members were idled by the dispute.

He testified that Anthony Valeo, Local 180 president, and Ralph Steiner, the union's recording secretary, asked him and other Case officials on March 1 what would happen if they did not report for work the following day. Chown said he told the men that disciplinary measures would be taken. The two men subsequently were laid off for three days.

Senate Acts to Keep Housing Plans Alive

Washington —(AP)— The senate today quickly passed and sent to the house a stripped-down 3-point bill to keep three housing programs alive until congress comes back in January.

The three items are:

1. A 1-year extension of the FHA home improvement loan program. It is due to expire Oct. 1.

2. $500 million of additional loan funds for college dormitories. This program is out of money and more than $250 million of applications are piled up.

3. $50 million of new loan money for the community facility program covering such things as city water plants and sewage systems. Funds for these also are exhausted.

3 Men Held In Theft of Cartier Gems

New York —(AP)— Three men were arrested today in connection with the spectacular $30,000 theft of gems from a show window at Cartier's famed Fifth avenue jewelry house June 25.

Police said they found what they believe to be all the precious stones, stripped of their platinum settings, in a plain brown paper bag. They also recovered a bundle of valuable securities.

The arrests, climaxing a weeks-long joint investigation by city police and FBI agents, came after an elaborate trailing operation through the city last night.

Follow Suspects

About 30 men in seven cars, keeping in touch by radio and taking short turns to allay suspicion, shadowed two of the men as they drove meanderingly from Manhattan to Brooklyn and back.

Around midnight, the two men in the car, Kingdon Denormand, 51, of the Bronx, and Joseph Coffey, 23, of Manhattan, were finally stopped. A third man, Juan Pasquale Fuca, 27, was arrested at his Manhattan home.

Police found the bag of jewels in the car trunk with a tape, sound hammer. In Denormand's pocket, police said, was a packet of negotiable bonds estimated to be worth $50,000. Police said the bonds were believed stolen in burglaries last month.

The three men, all with criminal records denied any part in the Cartier burglary. Denormand told officers he got the gems and bonds from "a friend of mine named Frank."

Denormand was charged with receiving stolen goods, Coffey with burglary and Fuca with vagrancy for associating with known criminals.

Battle Ties Up Traffic

Bandit Dies in Fight, 2 Policemen Injured

New York —(AP)— A gunman was shot to death and two policemen were wounded in a running gun fight in the heart of Manhattan yesterday after a daring $10,000 holdup in crowded Rockefeller Center.

Hundreds of bystanders witnessed the spectacular afternoon gun duel on crowded Sixth avenue above Fiftieth street. Traffic was snarled for blocks around. A radio network employe joined the chase.

The battle erupted when three bandits, clutching bags of stolen money, dashed from a currency exchange firm opposite Radio City Music hall and commandeered a taxi.

Shouts of alarm brought patrolmen rushing to the scene, trading fire as the holdup men blazed away through the back window of the departing cab.

Seriously Wounded

Castro Sees U. S. Plot to Murder Roa

BY RICHARD VALERIANI

Havana—(AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro accused agents of the United States last night of plotting to shoot down Foreign Minister Raul Roa on his way home from the San Jose conference.

Castro's charge was the only new note in a day of marathon speechmaking touched off by the western hemisphere foreign ministers' condemnation of Soviet and Chinese communist penetration of Latin America vie Cuba.

Ahead of Schedule

The presidential palace said Roa and the rest of the Cuban delegation to the San Jose conference came home ahead of schedule in a chartered Costa Rican airliner because "counter-revolutionary mercenaries" planned to intercept the delegation's special plane and force it down.

The Costa Rican director of civil aviation said in San Jose that he had held up the delegation's own plane while his office checked the possibility it might have been sabotaged.

Body in Septic Tank

2 Women Missing; Police Seek Suspect

Seattle —(AP)— Detectives seeking the former wife and step-daughter of an antique dealer found the remains of a young woman yesterday in a septic tank beneath a creaky old house where the three had lived.

They stepped up their search for a man known as Raoul Guy Rockwell, 45, who had an antique shop as well as his home in the 2-story house.

The missing women are Mrs. Manzineta Rockwell, 40, and her daughter, Dolores Mearns, 18. They disappeared April 1, detectives said. In May, Rockwell told reporters he had been awarded a Fulbright scholarship and was going to Africa.

Charged Desertion

In July, he divorced Mrs. Rockwell on grounds of desertion. Eight days later he married again, for the third time. Detectives said his first marriage also ended in divorce.

The step-mother of the third Mrs. Rockwell has brought a grand larceny complaint against Rockwell, charging he kept $10,000 given to him to buy Indian artifacts.

Police started looking for the two women after the coed's father, William Mearns of Vancouver, British Columbia, reported his former wife missing. Until April 1, he said, Mrs. Rockwell had made monthly visits to their two other children, who live with him.

Two detectives discovered the remains after noticing what appeared to be a cement patch on the septic tank.

The King county coroner's office said last night that the remains it had examined were those of a young woman. The possibility that there were portions of two bodies was not ruled out.

Rockwell, in the May interview, said he had been awarded a scholarship to study Ashanti gold pieces, used as counterweights for gold and salt on the Gold Coast. He said he would leave Sept. 1.

His third wife, Mrs. Evelyn Emerson Rockwell, 41, said she last saw him Aug. 3 when he told her he was going to Vancouver to buy a collection of antiques.

In San Diego, Calif., Michael Muldaven said Rockwell was his brother, Guy Muldaven, 36, born in Brooklyn. Rockwell told newsmen he was born in France.

Hussein and UN Agent to Confer On Assassination

Amman, Jordan —(AP)— U.N. representative Pier Spinelli arrived today to confer with King Hussein, who has charged that "responsible people" in the United Arab Republic were linked with the bomb assassination of Premier Hazza Majali.

Spinelli, U.N. chief in the Middle East, was ordered by Sec. Dag Hammarskjold to rush here from Geneva to deal with the new crisis threatened in the Middle East.

At a news conference yesterday Hussein charged that "people in Cairo" were aware of the bomb plot in which Majali and 10 other people were killed. More than 80 persons were injured.

Two employes of the Jordan press bureau are reported to have fled to Syria after planting the two time bombs that exploded in Majali's office and the press bureau Monday.

Hussein demanded extradition of the two suspects from the U.A.R.

If there is no response from Cairo, Hussein told a news conference, "we will place our demand through the Arab League and, if necessary, through the U.N. Security council."

Parties Juggling Stumping Schedules

Nixon to Speak in Racine Sept. 14, C. J. Jasper Says; Kennedy Flies to New England

Washington —(AP)— Democratic and Republican campaign schedules are being juggled.

In Madison, Claude J. Jasper, Wisconsin state Republican chairman, confirmed the report that Vice President Richard Nixon will make a major campaign speech in Racine Sept. 14.

He said he withheld announcement of Nixon's visit until final arrangements were made with Nixon's staff and that he was making the announcement now because of rumors started because of the vice president's knee injury.

Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, will head into New England Friday. The trip originally was planned for Thursday.

Kennedy will be in Boston for a $1,000-a-plate fund raising affair, then fly to rallies at Manchester, N. H., and Presque Isle, Maine. He will speak at a dinner Friday night in Bangor, Maine.

Republican campaign planners announced Henry Cabot Lodge, GOP vice presidential nominee, will fill in at some political functions for Vice President Nixon while the party's standard bearer is hospitalized. Nixon is expected to be sidelined until about Sept. 12.

Resign from U.N.

Lodge will be free to devote his time to campaigning after his resignation as U.N. ambassador becomes effective this weekend.

White House Press Sec. James C. Hagerty predicted Tuesday that Nixon and Lodge will be the winners in November. Hagerty, addressing a gathering of GOP party public relations consultants and speaking on his own "as a seasoned political observer," predicted "a large breakthrough" for the Republican ticket two weeks before the end of the campaign.

Nixon was revamping his campaign plans from his hospital bed, dictating speech drafts and contacting party leaders by phone. Aides said his infected knee was responding favorably to treatment.

Voice Sides

As congress moved toward a probable adjournment by the end of the week, party leaders were not at all hesitant in giving their views on which side had profited from the post-convention session.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and GOP House Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana said Nixon had collected valuable political dividends.

Sen. Mike Mansfield, Montana, assistant senate Democratic leader, said the session "has hurt congress as a whole, but has hurt the Democrats the most." He said President Eisenhower "must take the responsibility for defeating some measures with veto votes."

YOUR CHILD'S HEALTH PROTECTED THE NATURAL WAY

The need of immunization against various children's diseases is being stressed at the present time. Parents desire to do all in their power to protect their children's health, so proceed to have them vaccinated. There are those however, who believe that vaccination is not necessary, and that if the body is in the right condition it will build up resistance to all disease naturally. These people do not wish to subject their children to the dangers attending vaccination. They have a right to their opinion.

Parents who desire to do more to protect their children's health should investigate Chiropractic Spinal adjustments allow the body to build up a natural defense against all disease. Don't let it be said that you have neglected your child's spine.

Youth Charged in Bomb Attack Dies In Car Accident

Gadsden, Ala.—(AP)—A nazi-inspired youth who was slated to go before a grand jury in connection with an attempt to bomb a synagogue has been killed in an automobile accident.

Authorities said Jerry Hunt, 17, apparently had been speeding back and forth in front of a junior high school and firing a shotgun from a window when the car crashed into a tree Tuesday.

The school band was drilling and Coroner Noble Yocum said Jerry, driving a taxicab owned by his father, apparently wanted to attract attention.

Yocum said Hunt apparently lost control of the car just after rounding a curve about two blocks from the school in nearby Attalla. He apparently was killed instantly.

Jerry had been charged with two counts of assault with intent to murder in the synagogue incident March 25. He had been free on $10,000 bond.

Last Stab Made to Stop Rail Strike

Pennsylvania Road To Halt All Trains Before Midnight

Philadelphia —(AP)— Negotiators make a last stab today — with apparently faint hope of success — at preventing a strike which will shut down the entire Pennsylvania railroad.

More than 20,000 non-operating employes were prepared to strike the nation's largest railroad at one minute past midnight. The railroad has notified most of its remaining 54,000 employes that they will be furloughed so long as a strike might last.

Five-man negotiating committees from the railroad and the transport workers union met until 1 a.m. today and then recessed for seven hours rest.

Slow Progress

"Progress is painfully slow," said Frank Sheehan, the TWU's director of organization. There was no one from the railroad contradicting him.

"We are going ahead with our plans to strike," Sheehan added. "There is no hope of a settlement."

However, Francis A. O'Neill, chairman of the national (railway) mediation board, said "we are making progress."

Meanwhile efforts failed to bring together in a "summit conference" Michael J. Quill, president of the TWU; James M. Symes, the PRR's board chairman, and Allen J. Greenough, the railroad's president.

Never Met

They were to have met Tuesday afternoon, but Quill, after talking to his negotiators, said, "I don't think it is necessary to meet together at this time."

He added that a high level meeting depended on the negotiating committees making at least some progress toward a settlement.

Symes replied with this statement:

"We had expected to meet Mr. Quill and his associates this afternoon, but in view of his announcement it is apparent that he desires to leave the matter to the negotiating committees."

Cancel Trains

Later, Gov. David L. Lawrence tried to arrange the high level meeting. He talked to the three men, but they never got together.

Quill also said that wildcat walkouts might break out before the strike deadline. The railroad has said it will send out no trains which cannot reach their destinations before the 12:01 a.m. deadline.

The railroad operates on 10,000 miles of tracks from New York and other east coast cities to St. Louis. It already has laid off some employes because of a decline in freight business.

Home-Loving Man Flies To Wacky Marine Party

Melvin Miller, Peoria, Ill., Willing Victim of Practical Joke in California

Peoria, Ill. —(AP)— Melvin Miller, a quiet, home-loving man, flies west today, straight into the welcoming arms of what he thinks is the wackiest bunch of marines in the corps.

Miller, a 40-year-old tractor factory foreman, is the puzzled, but willing, victim of a practical joke that has assumed gigantic proportions.

Name From Air

Capt. Joe Gestson, now a major, was at the Sandpiper one night and mislaid his car. A buddy suggested "try Peoria" and he did just that. Pulling a name out of the air, he asked the telephone operator to get him Melvin Miller in Peoria.

Good ol' Mel, as he's known now, answered the phone and —well today he's going to California, all expenses paid by Maj. Gestson and scores of his buddies who in marine hangouts the world over learned the saga of good ol' Mel in Peoria.

Level Headed

But Mel is keeping both feet on the ground.

Lunch with actress Jayne Mansfield?

"What's so special about that?" he asked yesterday. "If I was home I'd have lunch with my wife."

Mrs. Miller, Mel's partner for 19 years on a quiet Peoria street, isn't going. She's not worried about all those fast-moving marines leading her husband around for a week.

"Mel has a pretty level head," she said, "and I'm sure there won't be any funny stuff. He just doesn't drink."

So, Melvin Miller, an elder in his church and who believes in 8 to 4 at the shop and then home, will board an airliner carrying a key to Peoria and a miniature tractor for Laguna Beach's mayor.

A motorcade and band will meet him at Los Angeles international airport.

Man Bitten By Shark Off Jersey Coast

Ocean City, N. J. —(AP)— A terror-stricken man was hauled aboard a rescue boat Tuesday night screaming, "I've been bitten, I've been bitten by a shark."

Chung

Richard Chung, a 25-year-old medical student, was swimming in 30 feet of water about a quarter of a mile off shore when the attack occurred.

Although his leg was bitten through to the bone, doctors at Shore Memorial hospital in nearby Somers Point listed Chung's condition as astisfactory and said he would not lose his leg.

Less than two weeks ago, 24-year-old John Brodeur of Jersey City was attacked by a shark just 20 yards off a Sea Girt Beach. As a result, Brodeur's right leg was amputated Monday.

Called Lifeguards

A boardwalk patrolman saw Chung in the water, thought he looked as if he was in trouble, and called for lifeguards.

Two lifeguards hopped into a boat and headed for Chung. When they pulled him aboard, they saw that his leg was badly ripped.

One of the lifeguards applied a tourniquet in the boat. Later, Chung underwent emergency surgery. Like Brodeur before him, his right leg was the injured one.

At the hospital, officials said that Chung appeared to have been bitten by a fish but they did not say specifically that it was a shark.

Find Signs of Corruption in ICC Activities

House Committee Checking Regulation Of Truck Operators

Washington —(AP)— House investigators are working on a case which Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark) says already has turned up indications of possible corruption in government regulation of some truck operators.

Congressional sources hinted the investigation, based on Interstate Commerce commission activities, would penetrate the New York underworld and garment industry. It also was learned the justice department has probed the same area.

Harris said that "no deliberate act of the commission itself" is involved in the possible irregularities which he said have been occurring for years.

Under way for many months, the inquiry was brought into the open Tuesday when the house legislative oversight subcommittee heard briefly from two subponaed officers of New York trucking firms.

Hands Over Records

Joseph Reznitsky, president of Gold Star Freight lines, handed over several records demanded by the subcommittee. Jack Lieberman, secretary and treasurer of Interstate Dress Carriers, balked. He said that to produce subpenaed documents might tend to incriminate him.

Further hearings were put off until some indefinite future date.

Harris, subcommittee chairman, said investigators have been scrutinizing ICC administration of the federal motor carrier act for some time.

"We have information indicating certain inefficiencies, irregularities and even possible corruption in connection with the commission's regulation of certain certificated motor carriers," Harris said.

He singled out Interstate Dress Carriers, saying the subcommittee has information suggesting the garment trucking firm has been able to obtain favorable ICC action on various applications although the ICC knew — or should have known—that it violated government regulations.

Broadway Will be Blacked Out in Honor Of Oscar Hammerstein

New York —(AP)— Broadway will be blacked out for one minute Thursday at 9 p.m. in memory of famed lyricist Oscar Hammerstein II. Mayor Robert F. Wagner announced today.

The blackout will extend from Forty-second to Fifty-third streets on Broadway and Seventh avenue and will include the side streets between Sixth and Eighth avenues.

Theaters, hotels, restaurants, motion picture houses, owners of display signs, and stores will cooperate. Traffic will be halted.

A signal flare will be set off at Duffy square — north of Times square — three minutes before blackout time. Taps will be played to signal the start of the blackout.

Hammerstein, 65, died of cancer a week ago Tuesday.

Houston Asks Texas To Invoke Interposition To Prevent Integration

Governor to Place Self Between Dstrict and Federal Government

Houston, Texas—(AP)—Fighting a last-ditch battle against integration, Houston has asked the state of Texas to invoke the ancient doctrine of interposition to prevent racial mixing in its public school classrooms.

The Houston school board, under federal court order to integrate the first grades when school opens Sept. 7, appealed to Gov. Price Daniel to interpose himself between the district and the federal government.

The board said Daniel is the district's last hope for keeping schools segregated.

Integration of first grades of New Orleans public schools was delayed at least until Nov. 14 by one of the federal judges who recently enjoined Louisiana Gov. Jimmie Davis from interfering with the Orleans parish school board. U. S. District Judge J. Skelly Wright said the board informed him it would be impossible to comply with the Sept. 7 integration date because of Davis' seizure of the schools Aug. 17.

In Darlington, S. C., four young Negroes bearing anti-segregation placards were arrested as schools opened on their traditional segregated pattern but with indications that an integration attempt might be made.

Nashville, Tenn., quietly began the fourth year of its grade-a-year integration program and several Negroes were expected to register today in previously all - white Knoxville schools in the first year of a similar plan.

Indians Successful

In Dunn, N.C., 10 Indians unsuccessfully fought to enter the all-white high school, and in St. Louis, the 8th U.S. circuit court of appeals ruled that the Dollarway, Ark., school district had applied the state school placement law illegally.

While still endeavoring to delay integration, Houston opened registration for its first grades and kindergarten Tuesday. No Negroes tried to enroll in all-white schools.

The board's appeal for a delay recently was turned down by the 5th U.S. circuit court of appeals in New Orleans. But Atty. Joe Reynolds has mailed another request to the U.S. Supreme court

Claims Nelson Road Program Is a Failure

By The Associated Press

Philip G. Kuehn, Republican candidate for governor, claimed Tuesday that the Democratic state administration has failed to provide a highway program that is in pace with modern needs.

Kuehn presented his views on the state's roadway needs in a "Program Paper" prepared for presentation at a meeting in Hudson.

"There is no doubt that we are building up a huge backlog of highway deficiencies," Kuehn stated. "Gov. Gaylord Nelson has not faced up to the increasingly critical highway sin's shifting population."

Kuehn called for advance acquisition of corridors of land for future highway use in areas of rapid development. He also proposed an additional road from the Illinois line to Green Bay through Kenosha, Racine and Milwaukee counties and between Lake Michigan and Lake Winnebago. Major beltlines around such cities as Wausau, Chippewa Falls, Portage and Green Bay also were suggested by the candidate.

Prince Philip Becomes One To Make Peace in Industry

London —(AP)— Prince Philip emerged today as an industrial peacemaker but was accused of going too far.

With three letters the husband of Queen Elizabeth II appeared to have broken a deadlock between Britain's Automobile association and 32 girl clerks fired because they struck for higher pay and shorter hours.

It was the first direct royal intervention in a labor dispute since King Edward VIII make some sympathetic comments about the plight of striking Welsh coal miners 25 years ago.

Sent Letters

Philip is president of the AA and the girls who worked in its Birmingham office, appealed to him for aid. He wrote to Anne Godwin, general secretary of the union backing the strikers; to the AA chairman, Viscount Brentford, and to the labor ministry asking to be kept informed about the dispute.

Buckingham palace denied the prince was intervening on anyone's behalf, but after refusing for two weeks to talk with union representatives, the AA consented last night to negotiate.

"I feel the prince has demonstrated very clearly that he has a real interest in industrial matters," said Miss Godwin.

Leading Spokesman

But one leading employers' spokesman said the prince's intervention "will be regarded as highly unusual by all employers." Even the pro-labor Daily Mirror commented that the prince's "undoubted talent for public service . . does not qualify him to dabble in industrial arbitration and his place in the royal family must disbar him from even contemplating the idea."

"Has the lively, forthright, independent Prince Philip gone too far?" asked the liberal News Chronicle.

"Has he overstepped the vague but important frontier of constitutional propriety within which he must confine his words and action?

"The duke," concluded the Chronicle, "has blundered."

Are You too good to lose— not good enough to promote?

• Your employer realizes men he moves ahead must meet demands beyond job knowledge He looks to you to make decisions and take action without running to your superiors He must know you can express ideas clearly. He must be sure others work willingly with you He wants proof you have real interest in the business and understand your part in it.

The qualities are based on abilities you already have but may not be using Your employer has no time to pry them out of you You must bring them to practical life — or risk being judged capable, but not promotable.

We have spent 47 years guiding people out of this dilemma We have shown more than 750,000 men and women that they can speak effectively, inspire confidence and enthusiasm, and clear-headedly handle responsibility.

Airline Endorses Joint Port Plans

The Post-Crescent has obtained a copy of a telegram sent to the chairman of the Winnebago county board Aug. 22 by Frank N. Buttomer, vice president of North Central airlines, stating the airline's support of joint airport construction.

Joseph Drexler, chairman of the Winnebago board, refused to read the telegram at the public hearing held in Oshkosh when Leigh Fisher, airport consultant for Outagamie county, explained his report.

That report's primary conclusion was that Winnebago and Outagamie county should construct a joint airport west of Neenah-Menasha.

Drexler told Supv. Mark Catlin, Jr., chairman of Outagamie county's airport committee, he (Drexler) would not read the telegram at the hearing even if challenged to do so. Drexler also told a Post-Crescent reporter it was his (Drexler's) opinion that the telegram had no bearing on the public hearing.

"I have been advised by Leigh Fisher that the Winnebago County board is meeting with representatives of Outagamie county and other interested parties to consider the feasibility of a joint airport program. North Central Airlines strongly endorses developments of this nature and feels that such projects strengthen aviation everywhere — particularly local service operations. From the public standpoint, fewer and better airports mean greater schedule frequency and larger and faster equipment. From the carrier's standpoint, they mean less duplication of facilities and less expense. From the community's standpoint, through the years they mean considerably less expense by the single item of maintenance alone.

Advantages Manifold

"Going it alone in an airport project is very costly indeed for a single community. Over the long pull several cities are far better off to consolidate their efforts. It is unfortunate that a joint effort was not considered by the Fox River cities before expenditures were made by several communities. Even now over a period of years the advantages are manifold to the entire area, if the two counties can agree on a joint program.

"In stating our opinion in this matter, I must make it clear that North Central has no intention of disturbing our fine relationship with Oshkosh and Winnebago county regardless of the outcome of the present proposal. We do hope, however, that your board will give a joint project most careful consideration because of its long range advantage."

Fall Retreat for Scouters Planned

A retreat for scout leaders, purpose of which will be to bring the Catholic faith into scouting and scouting into the faith, is scheduled for Sept. 24 and 25 at Gardner Dam camp, Fred Dormand, diocesan chairman of the Catholic Committee on Scouting, announced today.

The Rev. Robert Carson, O. Praem, who is an Eagle Scout, will be retreat master. The program will begin Saturday afternoon and end early Sunday afternoon.

At the closing ceremonies the St. George award will be given to four outstanding scouts in the diocese. The award is presented to an outstanding leader on the basis of his past service, upon the recommendation of another person and his pastor.

This is another dramatic demonstration that item for item Prange's will not be undersold by anyone

You'd think that with Prange's offering so much in variety, reliability and service, it would be enough if we'd MEET the prices of the so-called "wholesale" catalogs. But frequently our everyday prices are actually LOWER than those of the so-called "wholesalers". The Prange Co. has spent 73 years learning how to keep our prices at rock-bottom without sacrificing those qualities you've come to take for granted at Northeastern Wisconsin's great store. To make sure we have what you want, our buyers cover the whole world buying each kind of merchandise where it's best and most economical. To make sure our prices are kept at a competitive level, our comparison shoppers make the rounds all over town, including the so-called "wholesalers." In short, we leave nothing to chance to maintain our year-round policy that Prange's will not be undersold. If you discover a lower price anywhere, please call REgent 3-5511, ask for Mary Miles, and tell us about it.

The Kohler Strike Decision

The 6-year strike at the Kohler plant still is going on but this is more of a theory than a condition. The company is operating with a full crew and claims to be getting more work done with 200 less men than it employed when the strike began. Most of the strikers have left the scene to find work elsewhere. A few pickets are visible near the plant but they are seated in automobiles which bear signs mentioning the strike. There is no interference with people coming and going from the plant. It is in this setting that the National Labor Relations Board offers its decision.

The board's decision is made to appear that it is against the Kohler Company and in fact most of the punishment is leveled at the company. However, the board did find the union guilty of violence and illegal "belly to back picketing" in the early days of the strike. This is a severe indictment of the union and its tactics but it is not emphasized in the board's report and the public is led by all reports to believe that the Kohler Company is the only wrongdoer.

The board held that what began as an economic strike, after a breakdown in contract negotiations, was converted by the Kohler Company into an unfair labor practice strike on June 1, 1954, when the company granted "an unlawful wage increase to non-strikers." The board also criticized the Kohler Company for its employment of detectives to report on what strikers were doing and for its use of detectives to "spy upon and investigate" the National Labor Relations Board's own attorneys.

In contrast, the board decided that the company was within its rights in firing 13 members of the union's strike committee because of their activities when non-strikers were prevented from entering the plant. Three members of the board, which is a majority, overruled the examiners' decision which held that 64 strikers who participated in mass picketing, in demonstrations at non-strikers' homes, or in coercive picketing, had been illegally discharged.

One must wonder whether granting a wage increase and employing detectives is more reprehensible than importing goons from Detroit to promote violence on the picket lines. There can be no doubt there was violence on the picket line and that it was brutal violence including the activities of such men as John Gunaca, who was not only active on the picket line, but beat up a non-striker and his father at their filling station some distance from the Kohler plant. The father later died but Gunaca was not brought to trial for five years because he had fled to Michigan where Gov. Williams refused to surrender him. He finally was returned to Wisconsin and sentenced to three years.

The order was drawn and presented to make it appear that the company was in the wrong and was being punished by the National Labor Relations Board. The accompanying statement by Joseph E. Jenkins, a member of the board, helped to build this impression. However, a more careful reading of the news stories gives force to the comment by L. L. Smith, executive vice president of the Kohler Company. Smith said, with respect to the charge that the unilateral wage increase prolonged the strike, that the board "found us guilty of something we were not charged with. They also find us guilty of an act of surveillance which does not appear in the record. The law clearly does not contemplate that union officials can openly and flagrantly violate the law and engage in vicious violence and coercion, and then, when the violence and coercion has failed, expect to be bailed out by the very law they have held in contempt."

In spite of the fact that both the company and the union have complained of the decision, and both are appealing it, the decision has one good point. The board has refused to condone violence on the picket line and elsewhere. It is interesting to note that board member Jenkins was one of the three members of the board who supported this finding against the union. This part of the ruling is decidedly in the public interest and it is much to Mr. Jenkins' credit that he joined with two other members to make this decision. While he appeared to be very partisan in his statement, he has indicated clearly by this action that violence must go from the picket lines and never can be permitted to influence labor policy, whether by management or by labor.

The decision also pinpoints a vital legal question in our labor laws which now will go to the courts for final determination.

A strike is the ultimate weapon in the hands of organized labor in its legitimate seeking for better wages and working conditions. On the other hand, an employer has as his final weapon the fact that he may be able to continue to operate without union personnel. Our laws compel both employes and management to bargain in good faith but they do not compel either side in a labor dispute to settle on the other's terms.

The Kohler Company would seem to have been in its legal rights to open up again and employ non-strikers. The board now says that it violated the law when it granted a wage increase to those employes. Maybe the courts will hold that at this point the company had an obligation again to offer the strikers their jobs back at the new wages. It isn't logical that the Kohler Company could never grant wage increases to the new employes under any condition.

The multitude of persons in this country vitally concerned with how labor laws affect strike situations eagerly will await a court determination on the rights of an employer to protect himself when a strike has been called against him by a union.

Sec. Mitchell on Insurance Funds

Sec. of Labor James P. Mitchell has turned down the appeal filed by Gov. Gaylord Nelson from Mitchell's decision on the use of short term funds which the state holds in readiness for the payment of possible unemployment claims. As a part of the regular state investment program, Gov. Nelson had authorized the investment of these funds under terms that would make them available upon 24 hours' notice. This policy netted the state government $53,142 during the past two years.

Sec. Mitchell recognized the efficiency of the Wisconsin investment plan but refused to sanction it on the ground that to do so would bring in similar requests from other states. He pointed out that his office would be required to examine investment policies in all of the applying states. If that were done, he said, any return from the investment of the funds should be credited to the unemployment compensation program and not to the states.

The secretary appears to have a point but it is not as clear as his statement indicates. It seems that the federal government or the insurance fund would be entitled to the income if the federal government invested the funds and took the risk of possible loss. In this instance the state is investing the funds, is risking any possibility of loss and is guaranteeing to have the funds available within 24 hours. Wisconsin is surely financially good for such a trifling amount as its unemployment compensation fund and it is difficult to imagine any state that could not supply a similar guarantee. We still think the ruling should be changed, and even if the interest does go to the unemployment compensation fund, the result will be a corresponding gain for the American taxpayer.

More Than a Wrist Tap

The Organization of American States made a precedent-breaking step toward hemispheric unity in its condemnation of Rafael Trujillo of the Dominican Republic for his assassination plot against President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela. Members of the OAS now must consider what really effective measures they can take against the threats of dictatorship from the right or the left.

After the evidence against Trujillo was presented, the OAS voted to break diplomatic relations down to the consular level and to apply economic sanctions against the Dominican Republic beginning with an arms embargo. Trujillo had shown he was aware of his increasing problems by his attempts to soothe the Roman Catholic church and his removal from the presidency of his puppet brother. After the Dominican representatives walked out of the conference in Costa Rico, the Dominican Republic was isolated.

But Sec. of State Christian Herter proposed that the OAS set up a special committee to oversee free elections in the Dominican Republic. The OAS tabled the suggestion for the present but it probably will come up again as the OAS considers the case of Communist-leaning Cuba.

In effect, Mr. Herter's proposal would make the OAS responsible for democracy in this hemisphere among member nations. This is a strength which the United Nations, NATO or SEATO do not have except in word. It would be acknowledging that curtailing a people's right to choose their own leaders in one country is a threat to the right in every country. It would make true sovereignty anachronistic.

From the practical point of view the OAS then would need troops to enforce free elections. And that would inevitably bring around the somewhat similar affairs that plague the U. N. Emergency Force, that the orders of the OAS could be enforced in the small compliant nations but not in the big or stubborn ones.

Trujillo has been condemned by a jury of his peers and he may be on the way out of power because of the increasing signs of unrest and dissatisfaction at home. But a land of dictatorship is ripe for another one of a different flavor. If the Dominican Republic gets a Red regime, helped along by agents from Cuba, the OAS might well look over Sec. Herter's proposal for an OAS sponsored government. There are weaknesses and flaws in the plan but the dangers of one totalitarian regime after another and the ties to the Soviet Union may be greater.

Asks Whether Helicopter Service Won't Feed Airlines of Future

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Friday, Aug. 26, this column contained a letter addressed to you by Mr. Gordon A. Bubolz. I read this letter with mixed emotions, to say the least. First, let me explain that I know absolutely nothing about the operation and set up of an airport. I've only flown twice in my life and on both occasions they were strictly pleasure trips and due to weather conditions both consumed more time than if I had taken a train.

I thought when I began reading this letter that I was about to discover what the basic issues of this "airport hassle" was all about. But I still don't know. However, it puts me in mind of the "good old days" when Dead Gulch and Piney Flats were feuding over who got the railroad depot. Everybody got into the act probably because it brought a little excitement into their lives and who cared if actually it was a matter of who got the railroad money for their land and who lost out. But no matter how much shouting went on or how many politicians took credit for it, the final location was paid for by the railroad with perhaps a persuading kick-back here and there along the way.

Now it seems the people who pay for a seat on the plane must also through taxes, pay for the airport. An airport, not only with runways for the planes but also a dining room, gift shop, etc., etc., which, if the posters are correct you won't have time to use anyway.

This whole business of relocation is apparently based on the present percentage of people using the airport and where they live. Where were the percentage figurers when Winnebago port was built? It just does not seem logical to me that in this day of speed that the distance between Oshkosh and Appleton should cause all this to-do.

The claim is made that more industry in this area uses the airport facilities. The way I hear it, many big industries have their own light planes set up to handle this very situation of transportation to larger ports. However, even if this weren't true there is a way to fill in the air-gap and you can still spend money.

Instead of building a new airport, leaving the city of Oshkosh high and dry why not join hands and funds not only with them but with other surrounding areas and really improve the present location to compare with the Milwaukee ports. Then set up a system of copter ports radiating around it. The landing area for the whirlybirds as you know is not large and the time it would take for a longer passenger flight to travel between Oshkosh and here is no more than it takes for a jet to warm up.

With the new highway system it won't be long before the county is going to regard just such a port anyway for use of patrol copters.

The very fact that the airport is located in Winnebago county makes me to think that Outagamie county is short of hindsight. Let's look forward, shall we?

Looking Backward

Black Republicans on Way Out

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Sept. 1, 1860.

Some of the black Republican journals are trying to stigmatize the union ticket Presidential electoral ticket which has now been secured as a union of the Douglas and Bell factions of New York State.

They are [illegible] very ill down and term well meaning people [illegible]. But their efforts are [illegible]. The union has sprung up from the hearts of the people and it has [illegible] spite of the [illegible] and corrupt demagogues and wirepulling cliques. Mozart Hall has not trammelled over Tammany, nor has Lafayette been able to subdue Mozart.

This union ticket will sweep New York State and the commercial and manufacturing states contiguous to it as the whirlwind sweeps the western prairies. The sticks and chaff of black Republicanism will be scattered to the winds, never again to be united in a great political party.

The [illegible] revolution now [illegible] as complete as it has been in the south and the proclamation of the [illegible] Seward and [illegible] respectively will [illegible] be hailed, and all [illegible].

25 YEARS AGO

Wednesday, Aug. 28, 1935

[illegible] report arrived in Neenah-Menasha from Washington that [illegible] would be completed [illegible] to expedite construction of flood control projects to Wolf river in Packwaukee.

Fourteen more works progress projects were to be approved and funds made available through concern to many states. An Associated Press survey of 21 states and the District of Columbia found less than a half dozen states reporting could say definitely where they stood.

A Works Progress Administration allotment of $701,000 for farm to market roads was allocated to Outagamie county, according to announcement made by A. K. Bentley, Green Bay district director of the program.

The personnel of the work division of the FERA was to continue until reports on the closing of projects were completed. J. C. McConnell, director of relief, was informed.

The construction of the new shop building for the Appleton Vocational school was planned in anticipation of the added attendance due to the new state law making full time attendance at school compulsory up to 18 years of age.

10 YEARS AGO

Wednesday, Aug. 30, 1950

With overwhelming house approval a bill designed to put the spotlight on activities of Communists and their fronts moved to the senate after a house committee had failed to report on the measure.

The Korean war front blazed with action as allied forces lashed back at mounting North Korean forces probing furiously for a breakthrough.

Miss Laura Gulnick Outagamie county nurse, Miss Margaret Feisgang her secretary and Mrs. C. C. Schroeder chairman of the Outagamie county health committee were to attend a 2 day meeting of the Wisconsin Association for Public Health in the Memorial union at Madison.

Reports on the state convention of the Auxiliary to the Wisconsin Paid Firemen's association were to be given by Mrs. Conrad Plach and Mrs. Norman Pieper at the Appleton auxiliary's meeting at the home of Mrs. Duane Arts, Appleton.

Under the Capitol Dome

Mrs. Smith's Charges Becoming Tiresome

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — In a peculiarly desultory statewide primary election, it is probably a good thing that Mrs. Dena Smith, the former acting state treasurer, is raising a little storm about the fact that her party organization passed over her claims to a renomination this year and endorsed another for the lowest office on the state ticket.

Wyngaard

The Republican delegates at Milwaukee had three announced candidates to examine. They picked Ivan Kindschi, a young Dane county farmer who makes no bones about the fact that he is interested in a political career and that the state treasury may offer the toehold.

Mrs. Smith is now denouncing the endorsement of her rival as an example of "bossism." She is trying to exploit the fact that some of the organization's endorsements in the past went sour, and notably the effort to repudiate Sen. Alexander Wiley in 1956.

She is the only candidate who is really qualified for the office of state treasurer, she says, and offers as proof the fact that she served there something more than a year by appointment and about a decade as secretary to her late husband, Warren R. Smith. Mrs. Smith also talks vaguely about aspersions, in directly suggesting that the same "bosses" are responsible.

* * *

THE RECORD

All of which would no doubt be a good deal more interesting if a really important office was involved.

But it is not an important office. The chances are that those voters who are aware of this little spat in the Republican primary will yawn. The office has been steadily reduced in stature, as legislatures over the past two or three decades have removed from it all policy making and discretionary functions. In the electoral consciousness it has so little importance that Mrs. Smith's late husband, through whom she got into elective politics, was able to capture it through name association. He bore the same name as a popular man who held the office before him.

Perhaps more interesting, however, is Mrs. Smith's complaint about the endorsement process. She is saying in effect that endorsement is good and honorable and worthy, when a candidate is able to get it; but it becomes dishonorable and undemocratic when the convention decides that it prefers another.

Mrs. Smith went to the Milwaukee convention seeking the endorsement. She was reasonably certain she was going to get it. She was disappointed when Kindschi turned up at the last moment — but she can scarcely deny that he had as much right to aspire to a place on the ticket as did she. It was when she was turned down that the organization turned out to be run by dictators "self-appointed and self anointed," in her phrase.

TIRESOME

The time may come when these incidents will become tiresome to the electorate. The facts in the matter are fairly plain.

Mrs. Smith was, of course, qualified to be state treasurer. But several hundreds of other active Republicans would be qualified. Any college boy with enough discipline to keep his hand out of the till and enough sense to let the staff run the routine business of the office would have qualified — for the limited duties of treasurer.

The Republican organization was seeking something more: an active aggressive able candidate to help the ticket — as well as to handle the simple tasks of the state treasury.

It found that kind of a candidate in Mr. Kindschi. It had some reservations about Mrs. Smith. It was just as simple as that.

All of which is not to say that the results can be predicted with any confidence. Mrs. Smith bears a name that has been on the state Republican ballot for nearly 20 years. As her husband once inherited some of the good will of one of his predecessors, so she may well inherit the good will of both.

Rapids Drum, Bugle Corps Liked Contest

Editor, Post-Crescent:

It has been some time since your Fiesta Musicana however, our unit has been travelling almost constantly since then.

We, the Wisconsin Rapids Scouts drum and bugle corps, the executive committee, parent group and myself as director want to compliment all those who participated or made possible your contest at Appleton. The hospitality demonstrated, sincere friendly help to our needs, good food served and the efficient well run contest are to be commended.

The city of Appleton is indeed very fortunate to have men of the caliber of those who run and train the Americanos drum and bugle corps. Their contribution to the welfare of youth of this city and to the city as a whole should not go unmentioned.

It is indeed seldom that we find men who are willing and able to devote their entire free and personal time to the training and advancement of youth. More important the citizens of tomorrow.

Africans Ask Cooperation of Congo and UN

ed Nations announced that the last Belgian combat troops have quit the Congo, leaving only a few hundred technical specialists to look after the big treaty bases at Kamina, in Katanta, and Kitona, on the Lower Congo river.

The conference expressed regrets at the incidents which have troubled relations between the Congo and the U.N.

It expressed the wish that similar incidents be avoided and "that necessary measures be taken with the view of a mutual understanding until the end of the United Nations mission in the Congo."

Last Saturday Congolese troops brutally beat the crew of a U. S. Globemaster that had taken U. N. communications equipment to Stanleyville.

Dispute With Tunisians

In both cases, the Congolese assailants said they mistook their victims for Belgians.

The conference was marked by briefly strained relations between Tunisian delegates and their Congolese hosts.

Tunisian Foreign Minister Sadok Mokkadem and Mongi Slim, Tunisian U.N. representative, walked out of a dinner given by Congolese government leaders last night.

They objected to an editorial in the Leopoldville newspaper Congo which accused the Tunisians of fashioning their tactics in the security council to further negotiations concerning Algeria, which the Tunisians would like to see independent of France.

The African conference pointed out that the U.N. entered the Congo "at the express request of the government of the Republic of Congo" and intended to "safeguard her independence, her unity and her territorial integrity."

It noted that the U.N. mission was designed to prevent the Congo from becoming a part of the cold war between the east and west.

The conference paid homage to the organization "for the work of peace it brings to the Congo." It praised it for bringing about the withdrawal of Belgian troops and taking over the Kamina and Kitonga bases.

The evacuation brought quick demands from Katanga's Premier Moise Tshombe that the U.N. turn control of Kamina over to him or he would block its runways with bulldozers, trucks and oil drums.

U.N. Wants Base

The United Nations wants the big base 360 miles northwest of Elisabethville neutralized and banned to all troops but those of the U.N. Tshombe, however, fears that U.N. forces, with their policy of not shooting unless fired on, will not prevent Lumumba's invaders from landing at the base and using it as the springboard for their campaign to establish Lumumba's authority in the province.

The Katanga premier's forces control all other airfields in the province and can block them to incoming planes. Unless Lumumba can land his men at Kamina, they will have to take overland routes over the few roads and railways, which Katanga officials say have been mined and will be vigorously defended.

Lumumba meanwhile returned to Leopoldville after a provincial tour. There was no indication whether, with the last Belgian combat troops gone, he would revive his earlier demands that the U N force also leave the country.

Showing he had taken to heart the counsel of leftist advisers who have penetrated his government, the Congo premier announced he had ordered a "profound reform of the ancient structure" of society in Oriental province. Territories formerly ruled by tribal chiefs would now become rural communes, he said. He also told of a decision to create peasant cooperatives to "mobilize all the forces of the country for a vast economic and social program."

Robber Slain In Gun Fight

bers jumped from the cab and dashed off in different directions.

One of the men disappeared in the crowd and escaped, but Patrolmen Gallagher and George Maine shot down the other, and a National Broadcasting company employe, Dick Jennings, 40, doggedly tracked the third man for a mile until he was nabbed.

Early today police announced the arrest of the man who escaped and identified him as Gennaro "Butch" Pacifico, 23.

Pacifico was said to have readily admitted participation in the holdup but had only $22 with him when taken into custody.

Carried Money

He was shot while running through a parking lot, still carrying his pistol and two bags of money. Clawing his way over a back fence, he dropped the bags, staggered into the back room of a restaurant, collapsed and died. He had had $5,000 of the loot.

Meanwhile, Jennings was trailing another of the trio on foot and by cab, hoping to spot a patrolman on the way.

At Forty-Second street, Jennings, still keeping the bandit's cab in sight, stopped his cab long enough for a quick explanation to Patrolman Joseph Vacchiano, who jumped in with gun drawn.

The pursued cab had nearly reached the entrance to the Lincoln tunnel to New Jersey when it was overtaken. Vacchiano rushed over, shoved his gun in the window and shouted: "make one move and I'll blow your brains out."

The man was identified as Charles Tritschler, 22, of Hoboken, N. J., a burglar with a police record. He had $765 on him.

The holdup took place on the ground floor office of Lionel Perera, Manfra and Brookes, Inc.

2 Killed in State Traffic Accidents

Milwaukee—(AP)—Wisconsin's 1960 highway traffic toll has risen to 511, compared with 520 on this day a year ago.

Dale Bachel, 25, River Falls, was killed Tuesday when the car in which he was riding struck a small bridge over the Rush river 12 miles north of Ellsworth in Pierce county.

Clarence L. Allen, 76, Wyona, was killed Tuesday when his automobile and a bus driven by a neighbor collided on Highway 22 at the Wyocena village limits. Loren McGinnis, 69, the bus driver, was not injured. The bus carried no passengers.

Explosion Rips Chemical Plant

Buffalo, N. Y. —(AP)— An explosion tore out half a 3-story chemical plant on Buffalo's industrial south side Tuesday night, injuring two workers and showering debris over a wide area.

Flames boiled skyward from the blast and were seen 10 miles away. People living nearby said their houses shook.

the $3,722,350,000 provided by the regular foreign aid appropriation bill was too little.

He appeared likely to win on another foreign affairs front, however. The house agreed to take up a bill to authorize an extensive development program for Latin America. The senate already has approved the bill, asked only this month.

With hope all but abandoned for a minimum wage bill this year, the senate-house dispute over the final money measure provided the last major hurdle to adjournment of the post-convention session.

The windup could come tonight, but appeared more likely to be delayed until tomorrow.

An apparently hopeless deadlock developed over efforts to compromise differences over minimum wage legislation. House members rejected two more senate compromise offers, and no further meetings were scheduled.

Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the Democratic presidential nominee who led the senate conferees, pledged in a statement "to take this fight to the American people."

The conference broke up over how many additional workers should be brought under wage-hour law coverage. The two bills had differed also on how high to raise the present $1 an hour wage minimum.

Senate May Back Down

The dispute over foreign aid funds was likely to be less bitter, although the senate may be forced to back down on that.

Rep. Albert Thomas (D-Texas), who led the house conferees on the money bill, said he is convinced "the house will not agree to vote this additional $190 million of foreign aid giveaway." He said agreement was reached on other items in the $305,042,732 bill.

Many house members were irked that the senate, after agreeing to a compromise on the regular foreign aid bill, had switched position in voting the added money in a separate bill.

A house vote supporting its conferees, rejection of the extra money would send the bill back to the senate for a reconsideration of its position.

The Latin American aid program involves no actual money at this time. Eisenhower asked that the program be authorized in advance of an inter-American conference in Bogota, Colombia, next week.

The program envisions a $500 million U. S. contribution to a program of helping the other American republics raise the standards of living of their citizens. Another $100 million would be authorized specifically to help Chile repair damage from a series of severe earthquakes.

The Bogota conference is expected to start other nations on a planning program, and money for the projects would be appropriated later.

The senate was busy, meanwhile, with a bill to set up an academy for developing and teaching cold war tactics to combat communism. The bill has not been considered by a house committee, and little hope was held for its passage this late in the session.

Ahead lay uncertain senate action on a sugar bill the house passed yesterday. It would authorize the president, under certain circumstances, to cut sugar purchases from the Dominican Republic.

That country was awarded an extra 322-000-ton quota under a bill which permitted reduction in Cuban sugar imports last July, but this country since has broken off diplomatic relations with the Dominican Republic. The house bill also would extend the sugar act from next March 31 to Dec. 31, 1961.

Both houses passed yesterday a compromise $4 billion money bill for harbor, reclamation and other public works projects.

The house, by voice vote, sent on to the White House a bill to provide criminal penalties for such broadcasting practices as rigging quiz shows and payola.

Nixon's Knee Getting Better

Vice President Works on Campaign From Hospital Bed

Washington —(AP)— Vice President Richard M. Nixon was reported responding satisfactorily today to treatment for a knee infection while he worked on campaign matters from a hospital bed.

Nixon entered Walter Reed Army hospital late Monday for treatment of an infection that damages red blood cells. He is expected to be hospitalized for about two weeks.

Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press secretary, reported treatment of the vice president's knee with five antibiotics was progressing satisfactorily. He said the infection was localized in the left knee joint and the swelling on the outside of the knee had gone down to some degree. The leg is in traction, weighted with sandbags to keep it immobilized.

President Eisenhower visited Nixon late Tuesday and reported "he looks fine." The two talked about the presidential campaign and about Eisenhower's old football knee injuries, among other things.

Nixon worked on campaign matters sitting up in bed. He dictated speech drafts to his executive secretary, Miss Rose Mary Woods. He conferred with other aides by phone.

Mrs. Nixon visited her husband in the presidential suite he is occupying at the hospital. An aide said Nixon is paying the bill for the $34-a-day suite which includes a large sitting room, bedroom and sunroom.

Nixon's running mate, UN Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, will fill in for him at some campaign functions while the vice president is sidelined. Lodge's resignation from his diplomatic post becomes effective Saturday.

Plan Space Trip Between 1965-70

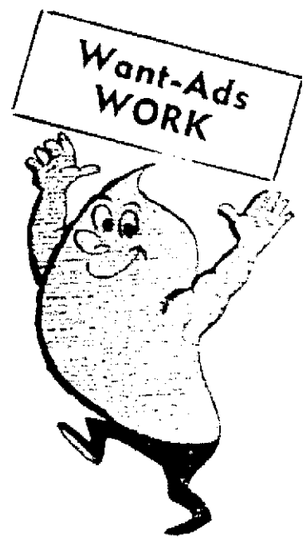

Washington —(AP)— Three men will be aboard the U.S. Project Apollo spaceship planned to circle the moon sometime between 1965 and 1970.

The spacecraft will be stocked with food and other provisions needed for a trip of several weeks.

Additional details of the moon flight were announced Tuesday by Robert R. Gilruth, director of the space task group of the National Aeronautics and Space administration.

He said the space agency will try to enlist industry participation in developing the first Apollo vehicles. A formal bidders' briefing will be held Sept. 12 at Langley field, Va. The craft is planned for use primarily with the Saturn booster rocket which still is in the development stage.

Gilruth said provisions for carrying the Apollo program beyond the study stage will be included in the budget for the year starting next July 1.

Experienced Camera Bug

Retired Photographer Has Seen Most of Profession's History

BY TOM TORINUS
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The development of photography, from the first box cameras to the most modern precision equipment, has been intimately witnessed by an Appleton camera bug and professional photographer.

Frank Koch, now 75, first became interested in snapping pictures and photofinishing when he was 8 and formally retired from his photographic occupation this year.

He can recall the days when flash pictures were taken with unwieldy equipment and unpredictable explosive power, but he also has worked with the most modern flash equipment.

Early in his career he used cameras which had to be returned to the factory after each load of film was exposed so that the company could unpack the camera and develop the film, but he is also well acquainted with the relatively new contrivances that develop film within the camera in a minute.

Frank Koch

Only Camera Store

For a long time Koch operated the only camera store in Appleton, supplying early enthusiasts with equipment, finishing service and advice and encouraging others to take up the hobby. The shop was in the rear of a drug store, where he also worked as a pharmacist.

The camera store run by Koch at 231 E. College avenue that many Appleton residents, young and old, are familiar with was started in 1928. There he expanded his sales and photofinishing operations and did a large volume of commercial photography for business concerns in the Fox valley.

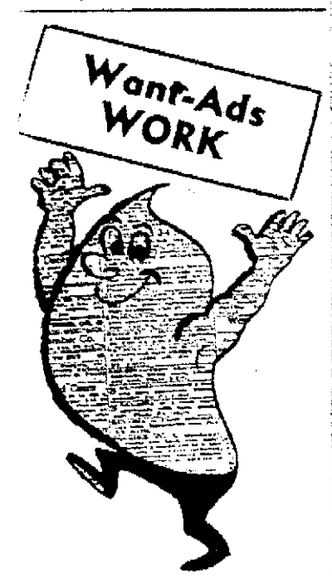

Before he came to Appleton in 1910 Koch studied pharmacy in Milwaukee, where he was born, worked for a time for a drug firm in Los Angeles before taking a job with Mulford Biological house in northern Wisconsin.

Some of the photographs he values most in his extensive collection were taken in an Arizona mining camp where he worked as storekeeper when he was 22. Prospectors and their hangouts in the wildcat mining towns of those days are well preserved on his early films of that period.

Photographic Museum

In his home Koch has a fair sized photographic museum, although he doesn't call it that. The first box camera produced in 1890 by the Eastman company, parent of the present Eastman Kodak company, is one of his prize pieces. In all there are eight of the earliest cameras made in this country. Printing frames, a maskcutter and early flash equipment made in the early part of the 20th century are included.

An instruction manual that goes with his Eastman box camera is in striking contrast to the technical literature on camera operation put out today. In quaint old type it tells the photographer to keep the sun at his back, hold the camera level and be mindful to keep his fingers off the lens. A whole section is devoted to making lantern slides, which occupied the television set's place in home entertainment in Koch's earlier years but are almost never seen today.

New Record Set In Simulated Space Journey

San Antonio —(AP)— Two air force pilots, in the midst of a simulated trip to the moon, Monday broke the record for time spent in a make-believe space ship.

Capt. William D. Habluetzel, 36, and 1st Lt. John W. Hargreaves broke the record at 6:50 p. m. Habluetzel is from Ingleside, Texas, and Hargreaves calls Castle AFB, Calif. his home.

They eclipse the old record of 13 days, 20 hours and 40 minutes set last February by Tech. Sgts. Hobard M. Craft of Wedowee, Ala., and William W. Henderson, 30, of Alice, Texas.

There was little fanfare with the record breaking and observers at the School of Aviation Medicine said the pair took no notice of their achievement.

The two men were sealed in the tank Aug. 15. They plan to stay inside their "space ship" at least 17 days, which is the length of time believed necessary for a flight to the moon and back using equipment and fuel expected to be available in the near future.

Counterespionage Exacting Work Charlie Discovers in Interview

DePere — Espionage may not be so much cloak and dagger as it is checking details, as a former counterintelligence corps officer avers, but getting his story might have required some counterespionage skills, too.

House

The modest but reticent former CIC man is Richard E. Calnin, 36, teacher of languages at St. Norbert college here and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Calnin, Black Creek.

His four and a half years as a peace-time operative in counterespionage has left the speech expert with a wealth of touchy stories, most of which cannot be told.

"My assignments," he said, "came from CIC headquarters, and most of them may still be classified information."

Some of his assignments, however, required him to mingle with communists and enemies, to attend their meetings and garner whatever information he could. From these, as well as other assignments, he was to develop a wholesome respect for skill in languages.

"When you sit in a commie meeting," he said, "and you chat with the members, you had better not have an accent." Consequently, he labored diligently to excel in the language he had to speak.

Intense Research

Peeping into keyholes and gum-shoeing after a suspect is not the CIC way, Calnin said. Instead, his work involved intense research, tedious interviews with many persons in pursuit of a few important facts.

Although ranked as a lieutenant in the U.S. army, Calnin's European work required that he function as a civilian. But some of his chores required little more than detailed checking and re-checking of facts.

One assignment was an abortive attempt to determine the identity of the person who smuggled the poison with which Ex-Reichsmarshall Hermann Goering cheated the hangman at Nuremberg prison.

No fewer than four persons "confessed" to the act of bringing the vial of cyanide potassium to the arch Nazi. One of the claimants to the honor was no less a person than German Gen. Vaclv Von Zelevski.

Under the circumstances, Calnin said, it was hard to ascertain the facts.

Mum's the Word

Another assignment was to apprehend two agents from a foreign country who were seeking information on the factory production of Germany. Interrogation followed the capture, and a study of documents in their possession, but the results of the capture is not available to us. Mum's the word of the silent CIC men.

Only once did Calnin face possible exposure and capture as a foreign agent. He was questioned on a train by two Russian officers. His guilty knowledge—he had false papers and another's identity — made him well aware of the fear which has come to many another man in like circumstances. He was permitted to pass over the border, however, and he confessed to a deep sigh of relief.

Calnin, now teaching alternate courses of German and Spanish at St. Norbert college, entered the counterintelligence corps in 1948 after some training in languages at St. Francis Major seminary in Milwaukee. After two months of basic training at Fort Knox, he attended a specialists school at Camp Holabird, near Baltimore, where such quaint subject were taught as "surreptitious entry," and "Undercover operations," and even an intensified course in the Russian language.

Perfects German

He was sent into Germany where, in Bamberg, he perfected his linguistic skill and where he learned how to be as one with Germans. Most of his later work in counter intelligence was concentrated in Munich and Nuremberg.

In Nuremburg he met and married a commercial artist, Mechtild Drotthoum, a remarkably beautiful woman who now lives with him in DePere. Mrs. Calnin will teach a course in the German language this semester in Green Bay.

Calnin retired from the CIC as a result of his marriage, it is an inviolate rule of the CIC, and Calnin already had determined to turn his life to something far quieter. He was back in the United States in three months.

Devout Linguist

He studied Spanish at Mexico and then took his M.A. in Spanish at the University of Wisconsin in 1957.

Calnin, dark-eyed, intense and handsome, is a devout linguist. He holds strongly to the belief that Americans can serve their country's interest the better by mastering more than our own language.

So strong is his opinion that the first language of the Calnin household is German. This is princially for the benefit of his three sons, Wolfgang, 6, Norbert, 5, and Roland, 3, who now seak both German and English with fluency.

"If they have an adventure in English, they discuss it with us in English," Calnin said, "but for all interests and purposes, the principal language in our home is German. I do not believe the children are conscious of speaking German or English. They simply speak naturally, and use the languages as they come to them. This," he said, "is a good way to learn."

Navy Announces New Enlistment Plan for Service Veterans

A new reenlistment plan for the navy has been explained by Chief Howard Waggoner, recruiter in charge of the U.S. Navy recruiting station in Appleton.

Ex-servicemen discharged or released from active duty in pay grades E4, E5, E6 or E7 from the army, air force or marines or reserve components of those services, may be enlisted in the navy in the same pay grade within 12 months of the anniversary date of their discharge or release, provided experience gained in the service is comparable to one of the navy's open rates.

The navy's open rates cover such fields as electronics, engineering, aviation electronics, guided missiles, communications technicians, nuclear weapons, sonar and radar.

New Electricity, Drafting Courses Offered at School

New technical courses in electricity and mechanical drafting are among the trade and industrial classes which the Appleton Vocational and Adult school is taking registrations, E. H. Funk, department coordinator, has announced.

There also are openings in printing, linotype, presswork, machine shop, tool and die and cabinet making courses. Auto mechanics and body and fender mechanics, electric motor repair and architectural drafting classes are filled, but late applicants may be put on waiting lists, Funk said.

Highway drafting and radio courses have been discontinued.

Electricity courses include AC and DC theory and lab, oratory, mathematics and drafting. Mechanical drafting courses are drafting, machine shop ies, science, machine shop theory and machinery hand work.

The classes, taught between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday thru Friday, are open to both school graduates, veterans and others 18 years old with high school education or equivalent.

Registration will continue from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily until school begins Sept. 7, but those who register early will have the best choice of classes.

Registration for night classes in trades and industry, which begin Oct. 3, will be during the day the week of Sept. 19 and in the evening on Sept. 20, 21 and 22.

Registration for business general, sale and day courses also will be on Sept. 19 and for evening courses the evening of Sept. 20. These classes begin the week of Oct. 3.

Social Security Officer Defines Disability Clause

"Many people are asking about the disability provisions of the social security act," Frank M. Donnick, manager of the Appleton social security district office, declared today.

"These provisions have drawn the interest of some people who are temporarily out of work because of an injury," Mr. Donnick continued. "However, the law was not written to insure the risk of temporary disability."

Donnick explained that under the law the definition of disability is "inability to engage in any substantial gainful activity." The condition must be expected to continue indefinitely or to result in death. It can be either physical or mental, but it must be so severe that it is not likely to be improved by medical treatment to the point of making it possible to return to work.

Examples Given

An example might be a worker who breaks a leg. He knows he will probably be off the job for as much as three months. This might have some effect on his social security record, but when his whole working history is considered upon retirement, the effect would be small. This worker would have every reason to believe he would return to work within the foreseeable future. His disability, because it is temporary, would not qualify him under the social security disability provisions.

On the other hand, a worker who discovers he has a severe case of tuberculosis that prevents him from doing any kind of work has no way of knowing when he will be able to return to work. When he has been disabled six months, he can apply for benefits if he is age 50 or over, or to have his record frozen if he is under age 50.

Mr. Donick noted there are other requirements that must be met before a worker's social security record can be frozen or benefits paid. Among these is the work requirement which states that a worker must have social security credit for at least five out of the ten years prior to his date of disability.

New Books

How to Plan Luxurious Vacations on Budgets

If you plan to take a trip over the Labor day weekend and need some advice on where to go, what to see and how much it will cost you, a new book on display at Appleton Public library contains some helpful hints.

"Better Vacations for Your Money," by Michael Frome, tells how to combine frugality with luxury for an enjoyable vacation and includes a travel guide to specific areas.

Historical themes dominate several of the new non-fiction books displayed across from the library's main desk until Friday. Walter Lord recalls the "Good Years" from 1900 to World war I by tracing the personalities and events of those days through old letters, diaries and newspapers. "The Edge of Objectivity," by Charles Coulston Gillispie, is a narrative essay of scientific ideas from the law of gravity to evolution and relativity.

Practical and theoretical politics are the subject of three new books.

Eight speeches and papers by Adlai E. Stevenson, compiled in "Putting First Things First," express his regret at what he calls the lack of direction foreign and domestic policies have had in the U.S. during the 1950s.

23 Politicians

"Politics, U.S.A." is a guide to the winning of public office, edited by James M. Cannon. Essays written by 23 successful politicians and their advisers cover the allocation of campaign funds as well as the responsibilities of specific jobs.

Edward McNall Burns analyzes the political theories of the contemporary world in "Ideas in Conflict." The theories of politicians as well as lawyers, poets, psychologists and theologians are explained from progressivism to new conservatism.

Among the fiction books on display is "The Traces of Brillhart", a novel of suspense and immortality by Herbert Brean. A song writer asks his boyhood friend who is now working for a large national magazine to investigate the whereabouts of a dead man who's been turning up regularly at Broadway haunts.

"Stories and Satires", by Sholom Aleichem, portray the people the author knew and saw in the Jewish cultural life of the Ukraine. Although 40 years have passed since his death, these 19 sketches and a 1-act play have not been translated and published before.

The story of a young woman who bears the worries of the world in an irresponsible family is told by Vinnie Williams in "Walk Egypt." The romantic woes of a sophisticated 14-year-old girl and her 15-year-old sweetheart from the country unfold in the middle of the English countryside in "Diana" by R. F. Delderfield.

For the last year she was the state Luther league's recreational secretary. She will be a freshman at the University of Wisconsin Fox Valley center this fall.

Other Trinity delegates were Pamela Wulk, Lynda Granger, David Griffths and Steve Adams.

The convention voted to discourage leagues from buying and selling to raise money. Funds should be obtained solely from free-will offerings, it was said. Other ULCA auxiliaries have also adopted this policy.

Little Change in Trial Procedures

Precise, Formal Patterns Have Been Used Long Time, Judge Says

Much progress has been made in revamping legal pleading and practice in courts, but trial procedure has followed the same precise formal pattern from time immemorial, Circuit Judge Andrew W. Parnell commented last week.

Parnell

Judge Parnell was a speaker on a panel discussing court congestion, its causes and problems arising from it during the National Conference of State Trial Judges in conjunction with the American Bar association meeting at Washington, D. C.

Minor regard has been given to the simple presentation and speedy determination of issues after they have been entrusted to trial courts for determination, the jurist noted.

"Perhaps some day the agencies for better judicial administration will see the need for and benefit from a complete study and overall survey of the entire field of procedure in jury trials in civil actions.

Retain Good

"The purpose of the project should be to reevaluate each step in a trial, with a view to retaining the good and necessary aspects of our procedure and discard its bad and useless features," Judge Parnell declared.

It is a common complaint that changes in procedural law occur in slow, deliberate and difficult measure, having to combat the current of resistance generated by an aversion against change, the judge commented.

The problem of improving trial procedure is a continuous one, and it acquires prominence and urgency in the light of the strides of advancement in science, industry and other professional fields, Judge Parnell added.

Hastening Process

Any examination of jury trials might offer many potentials for hastening the judicial process, the jurist pointed out. A rule might make it compulsory for the court to make the preliminary statement in the case, identify the parties and counsel and conduct the examination of the jury, rather than the opposing attorneys each taking the opportunity to deliver orations, he explained.

"There is nothing sacred about the 12-member jury. Procedure could be changed to allow the court, in its discretion, to direct calling of a jury of six members to hear appeals from lower courts and actions involving small amounts," Judge Parnell suggested.

Special Verdicts

Procedural rules could allow the court to employ simplified special verdicts calling for finding ultimate facts (which party was responsible) rather than the infinitely detailed special verdicts often demanded by procedure, he theorized.

There has been a change over the years, Judge Parnell observed, in the type of attorney practicing in trial courts.

The orator, the thespian of the past has given way to the modern good attorney—well-prepared and ready for trial, the judge commented.

Suggestions Offered

Judge Parnell offered some suggestions for attorneys, commenting on their interest in the expediting of justice in the trial court.

Attorneys should have their file in order, their exhibits indexed and accessible, a synopsis and index on their adverse examinations, index of names and statements of witnesses, exhibits premarked by the court reporter and permit the court to make the preliminary statement and examine the jury before the actual trial opening.

Attorneys should follow the court's examination of the jury with general non-repetitive questions, if necessary, the judge suggested.

Attorneys shouldn't argue facts on direct arguments and should give simple opposing statements, should avoid (except in special cases) asking for a jury view of the scene, avoid calling the opposing party on adverse questioning, avoid leading, repetitive and immaterial questions, avoid the use of "was this the question asked you and was this the answer you gave" in adverse examination, avoid arguing with opponents objections unless the court requests an opinion, avoid haranguing colloquies and arguments with opposing attorneys and avoid rambling, fishing or pointless examination.

Attorneys should make firm direct examinations and legal objections without argument, present exhibits to witnesses for identification before use or introduction and allow opposing attorneys to examine them, have witnesses present and ready, have proposed verdicts written and ready, have proposed jury instructions written and ready, hold table consultations to a minimum, use some discretion on final arguments, and be prompt for trial, Judge Parnell concluded.

Union Leader Describes U. S. Shipping Ills

Calls for Support of Lake, Ocean Ports in Rebuilding Position

Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay — America's merchant marine is "a sick industry" and it is a problem affecting Green Bay and other Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Seaway ports, delegates to the state AFL-CIO convention at the arena were told Tuesday.

Harry O'Reilly, Washington, D.C., executive secretary of the maritime trades department of the AFL - CIO, and a director of the Manitowoc Trades Council called for support from lake ports, as well as from east and west coast and gulf ports in rebuilding the United States position as a maritime power.

"We believe the United States should be first, instead of fifth or sixth in the world," he said.

O'Reilly said there are now fewer than 60 deep sea cargo vessels flying the American flag. Before World war II, he said, there were more than 356 vessels in coastal shipping alone, 50 fleet operators, over 12,000 deep sea American sailors and 75,000 shoreside workers.

Wartime Fleet

America's merchant marine disappeared in World war II when vessels were "rightly commandeered" by the government for the war effort, he related. During the war, he added, there were more vessels of American registry carrying more tonnage than all of the rest of the world's maritime powers combined.

O'Reilly listed several reasons for America's shipping decline since World war II.

One main reason, he claimed, is the transfer of cooperation-owned fleets to "flags of convenience" or "monkey" flags. He said the small nation of Liberia on the west coast of Africa "doesn't have a harbor good enough to tie up a good-sized rowboat." But, he added, 1,000 cargo vessels are sailing the high seas under Liberian registry.

Cargo fleets owned by United States business interests fly foreign flags because of "the low wages setup, only one-fourth of American seamen's pay," because there is no ship inspection in small foreign countries and because American interests can avoid paying United States taxes.

Inadequate Security

He warned that foreign ships with foreign crews coming into American port cities, including such ports as Green Bay, offer an opportunity for spying, infiltration and espionage. Where there is foreign registry of ships plying American waters, there is no adequate security, he emphasized.

The maritime union executive called for support of all union men and of citizens of Great Lakes port areas for an AFL-CIO program to establish port labor councils to promote unionization of American seamen and dock workers.

Other speakers at the convention Tuesday morning were Robert Ozanne, director of the University of Wisconsin School for Workers, and James Karnes, commissioner of the Wisconsin motor vehicle dept.

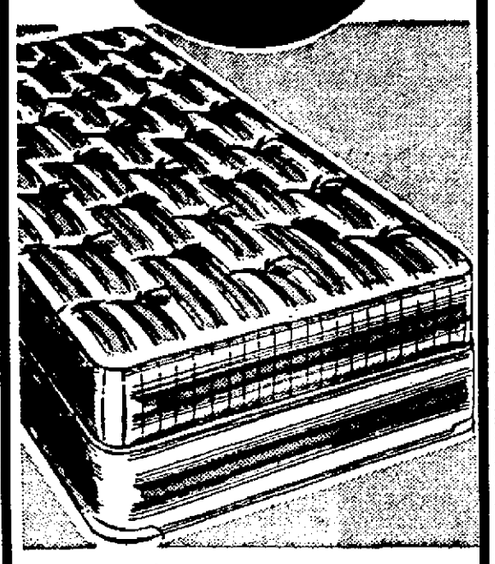

Reviews Program

Ozanne reviewed the service program he heads to meet the educational needs of members of organized labor unions. He underscored the need for training and retraining of shop stewards to enlarge the core of union leadership."

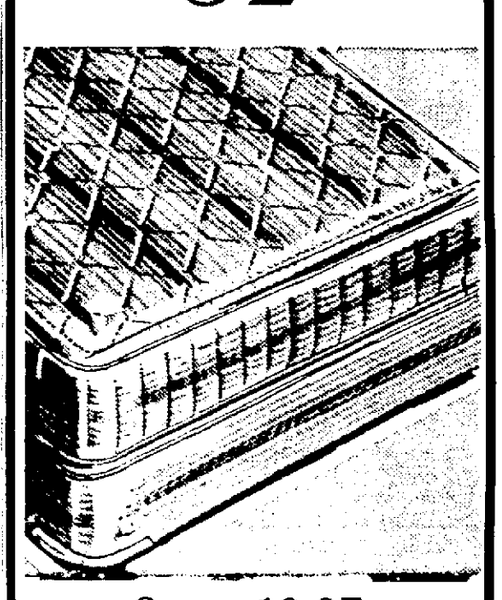

Karns pointed out the need for continued education in driving safety. He cited the state's record of 821 highway deaths and 30,000 injuries in road accidents last year. "The main key to the problem," he said, "is developing the proper attitude in both drivers and pedestrians."

Karns also called for an improved industrial safety program for employes at terminals and docks. This is an area with an unusually high accident rate, he said.

Lawrence Says

Revolution in South May Reach Climax

Economic, States Rights Issues May Turn South to GOP

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — The political revolution in the south may reach its climax in this presidential campaign.

Lawrence

It was easy enough to explain the defection of Texas and four other southern states in the 1928 election as based on the so-called "religious issue," but when in 1952 and 1956 several states in the south again voted Republican, there was developed another alibi—the personal popularity of Dwight Eisenhower.

But it has been generally overlooked that Eisenhower in his campaign speeches repeatedly touched on a sore spot in southern politics—the tendency of the Democratic party to veer away from states' rights. Nixon is saying the same thing now in his tour of the south.

Ike Sides With South

Eisenhower's speeches in 1952 gave the impression that he sided with the south on states' rights. He hasn't since gone along with the south's viewpoint on segregation, because he has felt that his sworn duty is to enforce the constitution as the supreme court has construed it. But in his heart Eisenhower feels—as Nixon does—that basically the issues are moral and social and that new laws or court orders will not alone bring a change of thinking or custom.

But the south may contribute electoral votes to the Republican ticket this year for reasons wholly disconnected from the segregation-integration controversy, on which the two party platforms do not differ materially. Much of the south has been slowly concluding that the main reason for remaining Democratic in the last 100 years is disappearing. The Democratic party, long faithful to the states' rights doctrines of Thomas Jefferson, has been abandoning them in favor of the Madison and Hamilton doctrines of centralization of power in the federal government. The Republican party in recent years, on the other hand, has taken a position in favor of states' rights more in line with southern thinking.

GOP-Southern Condition

Again and again northern Republicans have voted in congress along with southern Democrats in a coalition that seeks to preserve the rights of the states. This means more from an economic and political standpoint to the southerners than does the civil rights issue, important though it still is in local politics.

The practical obstacle against the rise of the Republican party in the south is that for generations the Democratic state and city organizations have been supreme. Selection of a candidate in Democratic party primaries has been equivalent to election because of the absence of organized Republican opposition. In most instances in southern states no candidates for congress or for state and local officers are nominated by the Republican party.

This means that campaign funds flow from the national Democratic party to the local Democratic candidates.

New Issues

There has been talk of third party tickets or independent electors, but all these plans are likely to be of little avail for practical reasons. The Republican candidates for president and vice president are on the ballot and are well known.

Many southerners, feeling that this year both party platforms and the utterances of the candidates are about the same on civil rights, will turn to other issues.

The pledges in the Democratic party platform to get rid of right-to-work laws and the endorsement of Sen. Kennedy, Democratic nominee, by the AFL-CIO may cost him more electoral votes in the south than he can gain on this issue in the west and north.

Economic issues—conservatism versus radicalism, and decentralization versus centralization—are tending more and more to swing the electoral votes of the south away from their traditional support of the Democratic party.

Shiocton Has Small Book Stock, Big Room

BY BONNIE BARSTOW

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

On low shelves around the large room where Shiocton's village and volunteer fire department meetings are held is the village library — 2,200 volumes, most of which are for adults.

The room, like the 5-year-old village fire hall, is modern. It has large windows, fluorescent lights and tile floor. Folding chairs surround two reading tables.

The books, arranged by type but not cataloged, include fiction, westerns, reference books — including a 10-year-old encyclopedia — and children's books. There are no periodicals.

The only money the library has for new books comes from the $180 the county contributes annually. The village pays only the salary of Mrs. Richard Caesar, who has been librarian for the last 12 years. There is no library board.

Organizations Donate

The library bought about a dozen new books last year, and some were given by village organizations.

Mrs. Caesar estimates that about 60 people use the Shiocton library. About 30 to 40 of these are from the village and the rest from surrounding rural areas. The library is used more during the summer than during the school year, she said.

The library is open from 2 to 5 p. m. Tuesdays and from 7 to 9 p. m. Fridays. Friday evening is the busiest time, the librarian said.

Biography of Gen. Marshall Set for 1963

New York —(AP)— An authorized biography of the late Gen. George C. Marshall, expected to illuminate obscure and controversial aspects of World war II, is headed for publication.

The first of three volumes to be brought out by the Viking Press is due early in 1963. The biography will be based on a half million personal papers and more than 50 hours of tape-recorded and stenographic interviews.

General of the Army Omar N. Bradley, head of the George C. Marshall Research foundation of Lexington, Va., made the announcement Monday.

Marshall, who was wartime army chief of staff and who died Oct. 16, 1959, left all his papers and archives to the foundation.

Dr. Forrest C. Pogue, director of the research foundation, is preparing the biography with four assistants.

All income from the biography will go to the foundation to finance a Marshall library at the general's alma mater, Virginia Military institute, at Lexington.

The "Paul L" Is Representative of the flat-bottomed, stern-wheeler, coal and wood burning boats that plied the Wolf-Fox complex and Lake Winnebago. The 150-foot long, 400-passenger craft docked at Tustin in Waushara county and made an Oshkosh-Tustin round trip daily. Because of the boat traffic, Tustin was a thriving river port community during the stern wheeler era.

Memory Lingers

Tustin Once Was Active Port for Lake Plying Freight Steamers

BY STERLING SORENSEN

Tustin — Today a park-playground preempts the Poygan lakeshore complex of docks, warehouses, fuel yards and a sportsmen's clubhouse standing there in the years this Waushara county village was an effervescent port.

Clinging to a western arc of Lake Poygan, not far distant from the Wolf river's channel, Tustin remains a lake-river town of fishing, boating, hunting, resorting and area trading.

But even in memory and its gallant history live the scenes and maritime names of the past, names that reverberate yet in the lore and recounting of the bygone heyday.

Boat Ghosts

Most frequently mentioned are the "Paul L," the "Arden L," "Leander Choate," "Fashion," "Thistle" and "John Lynch."

These and other flat-bottom, side and stern - wheeling freight-passenger boats made Tustin a bustling anchorage and shipping point.

Poygan is connected by the Wolf to Lake Winnebago. The lakes and river provided earlier day transportation, speedy and inexpensive as compared to horse-drawn carriages and freighter wagons.

Brisk Traffic

Consequently, lake traffic was brisk. This village, the terminus of the Tustin-Oshkosh run, was the home port of a goodly flotilla and roadstead for much other lake-river navigation.

But the "horseless carriage," big trucks and hard-surfaced roads came on to displace water transportation and today, only pleasure craft tie up here.

Daily Run

Daily the "Paul L" would make the Tustin-Oshkosh round-trip, freighted with goods, materials, supplies and passengers. Leaving at 6 a.m., the 2-decker would make stop-offs at Winneconne, Butte des Morts and wayside piers and dock at Oshkosh at 9 a.m.

Returning, its cargo was an assorted one, including much that went into construction work and to merchants' shelves of Waushara, Green Lake, Waupaca and Winnebago counties.

There were summertime excursion runs, fair and circus specials and moonlight cruises. The "Paul L" boomed large in the economy, pleasure and mode of travel of a widely ranging region.

The "Arden L" was a smaller, sister ship.

To the roster of ships' names could be added many including those who touched here, although they kept principally to Winnebago waters, with Tustin side trips.

John Lynch

The "John Lynch," freighted with hay, burned "at sea" in a dramatic episode of Poygan lake navigation. Passengers, crew, including the woman cook, had to swim nearly a half-mile to safety.

Besides the shower of sparks and blazing materials, the destruction of the "John Lynch" was made more hazardous since it took place at night.

All the wood and coal-burning paddle wheelers of yesterday have long since harbored in their last port of call. The "Paul L" was decommissioned back in the late 1920s; beached and used as a lake cottage until she burned.

Others met similar fates, beached or burned.

2 Individual Titles Won by Neenah Police

Sgt. Schmidt and Duane Nelson Place In State Shoot

Neenah — In addition to the championship of the Class C team event, a number of individual titles were won by members of the Neenah police department pistol team in the state shoot at LaCrosse.

Sgt. Donald Schmidt won second place in the Class D rapid fire event and Duane Nelson copped third place in Class D aggregate scores.

Schmidt won second in rapid fire with scores of 93, 86 and 85 for a 264 point total. Nelson posted scores of 267, 259 and 279 for an aggregate mark of 805.

Team Totals

The Class C team won the championship with a total score of 1,079. Individual score included Nelson, 279; Capt. Lawrence Malouf and Sgt. Schmidt, 275 each and Kenneth Foster, 250.

This is the second championship title for the team this year. Recently, the squad won first place in Fox Valley Pistol league competition.

The Class B team had a 1,077 total. Individual scores included Rupert Lehman, 274; James Hawley and Leslie Parrott, 270 each and Lee Konitzer, 263. The Class B title was won by Green Bay.

Individual scores for Class A shooters, Lehman and Hawley, were 286 and 285, respectively. Class B scores for the individual event included Konitzer, 268; Parrott, 276; and Foster, 263. Capt. Malouf had a 274 Class C individual mark.

Class D Event

In the Class D individual event the Neenah scores included Sgt. Schmidt, 262; Nelson, 267; Richard Toeppler, 227; and Charles Harding, 222.

Scores for rapid fire included Lehman, 250; Hawley, 274; Konitzer, 257; Parrott, 271; Foster, 261; Malouf, 254; Schmidt, 264; Nelson, 259; Toeppler, 237; and Harding, 216.

Individual aggregate totals for all shooting included Lehman, 810; Hawley, 829; Konitzer, 768; Parrott, 817; Foster, 774; Malouf, 803; Schmidt, 801; Toeppler, 713; and Harding, 623.

Smoke in Basement

Neenah—Smoke in the basement of a house on the Mowry Smith property at the east end of Nicolet boulevard brought out three Neenah fire trucks at noon today. Firemen reported there was no blaze.

Art, Drama Festival Ends At Green Lake Assembly

Green Lake — Music, drama and art were featured at the Worship and Arts conference which ended Monday at American Baptist Assembly.

The first opera ever presented at the Assembly, "The Prodigal Son" by Claude Debussy, was sung by Edward and Alice Thompson of Northern Baptist seminary, Robert Young, Oakland, Calif., and accompanied by Earl Ness, organist at First Baptist church, Philadelphia.

Three plays were presented by members of the Assembly staff under the direction of Richard Arnold, director of the summer drama program at the Assembly.

In a series of five lectures on "The Church and the Arts" Dr. Harold Ehrensperger of Boston University school of Theology, said, "When a musician or an artist creates something worshipful, he shares in God's creative process.

"One of the greatest lacks in comtemporary life is the lack of imagination Protestants should use imagination to dramatize our heritage and the great figures of the Bible. Instead, much of religious art is copying, not creating."

Dr. Ehrensperger explained "I cannot comprehend God, but I know His love, His joy, His greatness Communicating this to his own generation is the business of the artist."

In addition to workshops on music, art and drama, the conference program included four recitals by staff and conference musicians, a concert by the Oshkosh Civic band, a panel discussion and a religious music festival.

2 Dormitories To be Completed At Assembly

Green Lake — Among the gifts and appropriations totaling approximately $350,000 applied toward construction and building improvements this year at American Baptist Assembly was a $175,000 gift to provide two dormitories, accommodating 96 members of the student staff. This gift was received from the Robbins foundation of Detroit.

From the Kresge foundation also of Detroit, a $25,000 pledge augmented the fund for the dormitories. Construction began in April and the men's dormitory has been completed and the women's building is expected to be finished within the next month.

From the Pillsbury foundation of St. Louis, a $15,000 gift was received toward the construction of a 4-apartment building for resident staff members and a 24-bed dormitory for summer staff. Both have been in use this summer.

Other gifts have been used for a new house for the resident director, beginning of a fund for a new dormitory to house students studying at the Christian Writing Center and trailer court facilities.

Final action on plans to remodel the admnistration building and expansion of the gate at the Assembly entrance will be acted on this week when the Assembly board of directors meet.

Handicap Club To be Honored At Lawn Party

Neenah — Mrs. Lorete Hawkinson, 433 S. Commercial street, will entertain members of the Hopeful Future club at a lawn party from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday.

Her garden will be decorated with lanterns, colored balloons and glass chimes for the event, which will include games, a fish pond and refreshments. Neenah merchants and individuals have contributed prizes for the party.

Deny Permit For Home on Unplatted Land

Menasha Planning Group Reverses Previous Practice

Menasha — The city planning commission this morning reversed earlier practice by denying a building permit for a new home on unplatted land.

The proposed home in question would have been at 705 Ida street, on a 60-foot frontage lot only specified in a legal metes and bounds description.

State law and city ordinance provide that any parcel of land containing more than five lots must be platted to simplify records of municipal assessors, treasurers and engineers and of county registers of deeds.

The area involved in today's action was accepted by the council May 16, 1950, as 10 complete blocks on Ida, John, Melissa and Arthur streets, north of Seventh street. The blocks were not divided into lots.

Until today's planning commission action, the practice had been to approve building permits in the area, using the legal metes and bounds descriptions.

The commission approved issuing two new home permits and informally decided against an inquiry to move the former Olive Esslinger home at 376 Water street to 316 Water street because it could block safe exit from the rear of the Brin theater in case of fire.

The Water street home is believed to be the oldest frame dwelling in Menasha, constructed in 1848 by Elbridge Smith. The city is attempting to sell the home for removal to provide added off-street downtown parking.

Church Women Give Dinner, Hear Panel

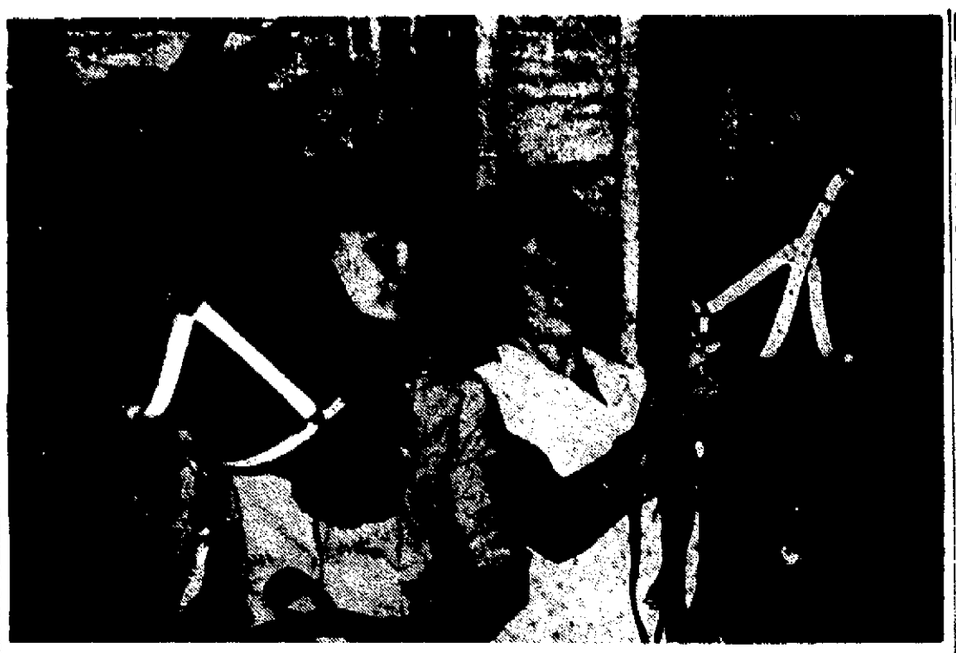

Winneconne — Mrs. Jennie Jacobsen and Mrs. Lucille Johnson are co-hostesses at the potluck supper to be held at 6:30 p.m. Thursday by the United Presbyterian women.

Assisting them will be the Mmes. Ethel Cowling, Irene Pride, Mary Luce, Eleanor Wentzel, Clara Kasier and Miss Mildred Severson.

Following the dinner a panel discussion on "Youth in Our Church" will be given. Chairman is Miss Edna Palacek. Students of the high school will be members of the panel.

Family Reunion

Neenah — The second annual reunion of the Kruse families was held Saturday in Doty park. About 33 members of the families of Henry, Herbert, Arthur, Ernest and Ervin Kruse attended the picnic.

Driver Fined for Running Auto Off Ramp Into River

Menasha — Robert A. Lappen, 22, 235 S. Grand avenue, Little Chute, paid $10 fine and costs today in Police Justice Arthur J. Ales' court after pleading guilty of driving too fast for conditions.

He was charged as a result of driving his car into the Fox river off the Manitowoc street boat landing ramp early Thursday. He was unable to negotiate the right turn into Paris street.

Bernice L. Elmer, 625 McKinley street, Neenah, forfeited $5 and costs for ignoring a red traffic light at Third and Racine streets. She had pleaded innocent Aug. 22 and was to have been tried today.

Four speeders who forfeited $10 and costs each were Margaret Glaser, 208 W. Prospect avenue, Appleton; John E. Kobinsky, 31, Pomer way, town of Menasha; Jack Lee George Brinkman, 18, 1405 N. Kenilworth avenue, Appleton; and Thomas R. Bergman, 20, 215 W. Quincy street, New London.

Neenah Rotary

Neenah — Frank Hamilton of the Bergstrom Paper company will give a vocational talk at the Neenah Rotary club meeting Thursday noon at the Valley Inn.

Delay Sentencing Menasha Burglar

Oshkosh — Sentencing of Robert Stepanski, 22, 186½ Main street, for three May burglaries, has been further postponed to 11 a.m. Sept. 8. Municipal Judge Arnold J. Cane set the new date.

He pleaded guilty Aug. 4 to breaking into the Jefferson park concession stand the nights of May 23 and 30 and into N. Beck and Son market May 25.

After his arraignment June 1, Stepanski was committed to Central State hospital, Waupun, for psychiatric examination. The judge asked a presentence investigation Aug. 4.

2 Allenville Groups Postpone Metings

Allenville — Because of the Winnebago county fair this week at Oshkosh, two organizations have postponed their meetings.

Missionary circle of Community Baptist church will meet next Thursday evening, Sept. 8, at the home of Mrs. Betty Vesperman instead of this Thursday night.

The Allenville Subordinate and Juvenile Grange meetings have been set for Friday evening, Sept. 9, instead of this week.

Sent to Jail for Negligent Homicide

Waupaca — Frederick J. Tork, 23, Milwaukee, was sentenced to 90 days in the Portage county jail and fined $250 by Circuit Judge Herbert A. Bunde Tuesday. Tork pleaded guilty of negligent homicide.

Tork was charged in connection with an accident April 12, 1959, on Highway 10 three miles west of Stevens Point in which Myron T. Kaminski, 27, Milwaukee, was killed.

Tork drove his car into concrete bridge abutment and Kaminski was thrown from the car and died of injuries later at a Stevens Point hospital.

Tork testified he could not recall the happenings of the evening from the time the pair left a tavern until he regained consciousness in a Stevens Point hospital.

Pick Neenah High to Test Biology Study

Gundlach Among Writers of New Course Series

Neenah — John J. Gundlach of Neenah High school attended a 6-day meeting last week at the University of Colorado campus at Boulder, Colo., to make plans for using a new high school biology program in his classes this year.

This new program was developed by the Biological Sciences Curriculum study which has been financed by grants from the National Science foundation of about $750,000 thus far.

The curriculum study group was set up in 1959 to contribute to the improvement of biological education. To date, it has had the assistance of more than 1,200 indiviruals including outstanding educators, research biologists, psychologists and editors, in carrying on its program. Its first job is the improving of high school biology courses.

60 Selected Teachers

It brought together 60 selected high school biology teachers and college research biologists for a summer writing conference for seven weeks this summer. Gundlach was a participant in this writing conference. During this time the writers prepared three new biology programs for high school.

These new texts and laboratory manuals will be used on an experimental basis by 117 teachers in 15 testing centers and 12 independent test schools in the United States during the 1960-61 school year. Neenah High school will be one of the independent test schools using the new BSCS material this year.

MHS to Give Tests To 2 Class Groups

Menasha — Prin. L. A. Wienbergen of Menasha High school today urged parents of high school freshmen and juniors to make sure the students report as directed for their Iowa Tests of Educational Development next week.

Tests for freshmen will extend from Sept. 6 to 8. All freshmen will report at 1 p.m. Tuesday in the school auditorium. Tests will be 1 to 3 p m. Tuesday, 10 a.m. to noon Wednesday and 10 a m. to noon and 1 to 3 p m. Thursday

The junior test schedule will be 8 to 10 a m and 1 to 3 30 p m Wednesday and 8 to 10 a m. Thursday.

School buses will run those days to accommodate students taking the tests. The Tuesday schedule is a pickup beginning at 12 30 p m. and return at 3:30; Wednesday 7 30 a m and 12 30 p m. pickups and noon and 3:30 p.m. returns; and Thursday 7.30 pickup and 10 15 returns.

Magazine Tells K-C Envelope Mill Expansion

'Cooperation' Gives Employes Look at Newest Company

Neenah — A look at the Kimberly - Clark corporation's newest member among its "family of plants" is given employes in the current issue of "Cooperation," employe magazine, which contains an illustrated article on the American Envelope company.

The envelope manufacturing firm, acquired last year, is busy with expansion as additions to the Moraine Paper mill will triple the mil's capacity.

The Moraine mill, employes are told, differs from Kimberly-Clark mills in two ways — about 40 per cent of its base pulp stock comes from selected grades of waste paper and it produces a wide variety of colors, basis weight and sheet sizes in its various papers.

The company has 385 employes in West Carrollton, Ohio, who manufacture finished envelopes, the Moraine mill with 250 employes producing paper for the envelopes and a variety of business and specialty printing papers, and the Karolton Envelope plant with 110 employes in Chicago who also produce envelopes and a line of fine paper.

Seven million envelopes are produced each day. More than 1,100 different shapes and sizes of envelopes are manufactured and about 11,000 boxes and covers also are made up each day to accommodate the envelope production. One type of envelope alone probably reaches nearly every family in the United States as the firm turns out millions of the little envelopes used for financial contributions to churches.

Chemicals Feed Fire At Fertilizer Plant Of Wautoma Co-op

Wautoma—(AP)—A fire feeding on exploding chemicals destroyed the fertilizer plant of the Farmco Co-op of Waushara early today.

The old 1-story frame building, 100 by 50 feet, was burned to the ground. Firemen kept the flames from spreading to two bulk gasoline storage tanks 15 feet from the structure.

Plant Mgr. Herbert Zellmer estimated the loss at $25,000.

The fire was discovered by a passerby shortly after 6 a. m. As the building burned, containers of nitrate and other chemicals exploded.

The building, a former pickle warehouse, was unused for several years until taken over by Farmco a short while ago.

New at Menasha Library

'America's Wonderlands' Is Picture Tour of Major Parks

Menasha — The incredible beauty and variety of America's national parks comes vividly to life in a new book added to Elisha D. Smith public library's collection.

"America's Wonderlands," published by the National Geographic Society, contains 512 color-bright pages that take the reader to our national parks.

A further telling of the inspirational story of healing the sick in remote and primitive lands is to be found in Dr. Thomas Dooley's "The Night They Burned the Mountain." This book tells of the bringing of modern medicine to a remote section of Laos. (Dr. Dooley spoke last fall at Lawrence college about his medical establishment in the jungle.)

Other new non-fiction available this week includes "How to Put Up With People (Including Yourself)" by Richard Loveland, a book about avoiding psychoanalysis; "The Savage Country" by Walter O'Meara, a history of the North West company and the lands its men conquered; "The New Shape of American Religion" by Martin Marty, a sharp and profound study of contemporary religion; "Our Lady and the Mass" by Rene Laurentin; "Midwest Gem Trails" by June Zeitner, and the latest editions of Reader's Digest Condensed Books and American Heritage.

New adult fiction this week includes four books with historical backgrounds; "The Yankee from Tennessee," a biographical novel about Andrew Johnson, our 17th president; "The Fiercest Heart" by Stuart Cloete, telling of a quest for new lands and new beginnings by the Boers in South Africa; "The Fourth King" by Norbert Coulehan, a novel set in the year of 2 B.C. and "Earth Giant" by Edison Marshall, the story of Hercules.

"The Incredible Charlie Carewe" is the first novel of motion picture actress Mary Astor. Ira Wallach's "The Absence of a Cello" is a hilarious satire on scientists and the man in a gray flannel suit. "Soldier in the Rain" by William Goldman satirizes army life.

Bonnack Allows 2 Hits In Gilbert Paper Win

Gilbert's 12, Neenah Paper 0.

Neenah — George Bonnack hurled a 2-hitter and struck out 14 as Gilbert Paper blanked Neenah Paper 12-0 in the American division of the Twin City Industrial Softball league Tuesday night at the Recreation field.

The victory assured Gilbert's a share of the second round championship. It already has won the first. Strange Paper is the only team which could tie for the crown but it would have to win its last three games and Gilbert's lose two for that to happen.

Strange's eliminated Neenah Paper from title consideration with a 5-1 victory Tuesday night at Jefferson park.

4-Run First Inning

Gilbert's scored four times in the first inning, added three in the second and fourth and two in the third in beating Neenah Paper. Losing pitcher Jack Johnson and Derr each had one hit off Bonnack, who walked three.

Gilbert's made 10 hits off Johnson. He walked five. Mory Quick and Gary Lautenschlager each had two safeties. The latter doubles in the 4-run first.

Strange's led Wooden Ware 3-1 until the fifth when it came up with two more runs. Both of Wooden Ware's hits off Harry Huff were garnered by Don Rae. Strange's made six safeties off John Zielinski, two by Don Koepke. Huff walked six; Zielinski five.

Koerner Paces Junior Legion With .494 Mark

Two Others Exceed .400; Menasha Nine Posts 16-7 Record

Koerner came within one hit of connecting every other time he came to the plate, posting 39 safeties in 79 trips.

The Menasha club had two other .400 plus hitters in infielder Bob Shukoski and catcher - Pitcher Bill Becker. Shukoski chalked up a .404 mark on 36 safeties in 89 tries and Becker pounded the ball at a .402 clip, making 35 hits in 87 attempts.

Other regulars above the .300 mark, according to the unofficial averages, were Pete Snyder with .339 and Bill Neubauer .329.

Louie Hemauer, import from Stockbridge, topped the pitchers with a 9-4 record. Becker had 4-3 and Phil Keller and Ray Dietz won their only decisions.

41-21-1 Record

The Lenz-Gazecki post club closed its season with a 16-7 record. One of the wins was a forfeit over Kaukauna. Since resuming play under the guidance of Coach Bill Ciske three years ago, the Legion squad has won 41 games, lost 21 and tied one.

This year's record was 10-4 in league play, 4-2 in tournament competition and 2-1 in exhibitions. The Legion won one of three tournament games from state champion Green Bay, lost by one and 3-run margins to league champion Oshkosh, bowed once each to Mayville and Fond du Lac and dropped a 3-run decision to Chilton high school, Eastern Wisconsin conference champ. None of the losses was by more than 4-run spreads.

Neenah, Menasha Gridders Open Practice at Colleges

Neenah — When colleges and universities throughout the country open football practice Thursday morning, a number of players who prepped at Twin City schools will be among the candidates.

The state's two largest universities each will have a representative from Neenah on the starting unit. Tom Wiesner has been honored by being named co-captain of the University of Wisconsin eleven while Herb Roedel, former St. Mary ace, begins his second season as a starting guard on the Marquette squad.

Wiesner is listed at 208 pounds but will report in at about 211. Roedel weighs about 220. Both have been lettermen since their sophomore years.

Ripon Candidates

Candidates at Ripon college include Dick Montonati, formerly of St. Mary, 2-year letterman, at quarterback and defensive halfback, halfback Ed Meyer and guard Jim Miller, junior lettermen; and quarterback Marv Carlson, Neenah, up from the frosh ranks.

Among the hopefuls at Lawrence college of Bill Meyer, end, and Marv Bayer, guard, lettermen from Neenah, halfback Dave Thomsen, Neenah, and backs Fred Flom and Dave Robinson, Menasha. Flom prepped at Wayland academy.

Among the players who will not report for practice are Gene Gries, St. Norbert college, and Tom Balthazor, St. Thomas, Minn. Gries, a junior center from Neenah, played the last two seasons while Balthazor, Menasha saw limited action at fullback. He will not return to St. Thomas but will attend the Spencerian school at Milwaukee.

Air Force Fires Second Successful Titan 'J' Missile

Cape Canaveral —(AP)— The air force has fired its second successful operational prototype of the Titan intercontinental range missile, but again has failed to recover a data capsule from the rocket's nose cone.

A powerful "J" series Titan, propelled by modified engines, flew a 5,000-mile course down the Atlantic missile range Tuesday. The 30-inch cylindrical capsule ejected from the cone and parachuted into the water, but recovery ships and planes were unable to find it.

The capsule carried instruments to record the cone' performance, especially during its fiery plunge back through the earth's atmosphere from a height of more than 600 miles. However, all nose cone information was not lost. Devices in the re-entry body, radioed back much data.

Despite the recovery failure, the air force was pleased with the flight test results. This was the second success—after a pair of failures—for an advanced "J" series Titan, the model scheduled to become operational late next year.

Dozen Lettermen Head Candidates On Menasha Team

Jays Lack Experienced Boys At Quarterback, Guard Spots

Menasha — Preseason football practice at Menasha High school has attracted between 45 and 50 hopefuls, including a dozen lettermen.

The Bluejays went through their second 3-hour drill under new Coach Emmett Boyce and Leo Kenney Tuesday morning and will hold 1-a-day drills until the opening game against Appleton here, Friday Sept. 16.

The Schedule

Sept. 16—Appleton (H).
Sept. 23—New London (H).
Sept. 30—Kimberly (T).
Oct. 7—Shawano (T).
Oct. 14—Two Rivers (T).
Oct. 21—Clintonville (H).
Oct. 28—Kaukauna (T).
Nov. 5—Neenah (H).

Dave Ristau, 2-year letterman, who played offensive end and defensive halfback, hasn't reported. Neither have several of last year's jayvees but, on the brighter side, the turnout of sophomores is much larger than in previous years.

Block at Quarterback

Quarterback and guard are the positions lacking experienced boys. Jeff Block, a senior up from the jayvees, has inherited the signal - calling post from the graduated Jim Stenson. Tom Steinmetz, a junior, who was out with an injury last year, and sophomore George Massey, the starting quarterback on Neenah's frosh squad last year, are Block's understudies.

Cook, the only letterman guard, has been bothered by sore knees. He saw quite a bit of action last year after his brother, Bob, who has graduated, was injured. Stuck, a defensive regular last year, and Jim Godeck, a boy who saw some action but not quite enough to earn a letter, are other guard candidates.

Collins and Prange are the leading end candidates, backed up by Heitl. Collins was out most of last season with a broken collar bone. He was a regular up until then. Prange then became a regular to pair with Ristau.

Anti-Catholic Material Flooding U. S., Senator Says

Washington—(AP)— Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) says the country is being flooded with "false and libelous anti-Catholic materials" aimed at Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee.

Recalling the 1928 campaign in which Alfred E. Smith, another Roman Catholic Democratic candidate, was defeated by Herbert Hoover, Kefauver told the senate Tuesday that "dirty" tactics making an issue of religion figured in the race.

Smith might not have won anyway, Kefauver said, but added:

"The question now is whether the ghost of 1928 has been laid to rest. All indications are that it has not — that it is riding high."

Area Drivers Pay $20 Forfeitures

Oshkosh — Four Fox Cities area residents have forfeited $20 each to the Oshkosh police department for traffic violations. They included:

Monday's Results:
Canal Plant 10, Neenah Plant 3.
River Street 7, Ind. Relations 0 (forfeit).
Canal Plant 21, Neenah Office 4.

Menasha — Canal Street won two more games, its eighth and ninth of the year, Monday evening in the Marathon Softball league at Jefferson park.

The Canal Plant team registered a 10-3 triumph over Neenah Plant and then came back to thump Neenah Office 21-4 in a makeup contest.

Doug Wiatrowski hurled both victories. In the Neenah Plant game, Canal cinched the verdict with a 5-run outburst in the sixth inning. Quelland was the loser.

Trainees scored an 8-5 verdict over Carton Shipping-Press in the opening game. Johnson was the winner and Fuhrman was tagged with the loss.

The Trainees sent across all of their runs in the fourth inning. Trainees made four in the second and one in the seventh.

Industrial Relations forfeited to River Street Plant and will also forfeit the rest of the games on its schedule.

It was scheduled to play Neenah Office tonight. Instead, Trainees and Washington Street will collide at 6:30 in a makeup game.

Other games today are River Street versus Neenah Plant at 5:15 and Washington street versus Carton Miehle at 7:45.

Macs Schedule Exhibition Tilt Against Fondy

Menasha — The Menasha Macs will begin preparation for the Northeastern Wisconsin amateur baseball tournament at Green Bay with a practice at 6 p.m. today at the Menasha ball park.

The Macs have scheduled an exhibition against Fond du Lac's entry here Sept. 8. They open tournament play Sunday afternoon, Sept. 11 meeting the winner of the Door County - Manitowoc county game.

The Macs apparently have won the Fox River Valley league championship with their 15-1 record. The schedule is completed except for makeup games. The Macs have four and runnerup Little Chute - Kimberly, the only team with a chance to tie for the crown, seven. However, most of the other league clubs are satisfied to call their seasons completed.

Tuesday's Results:
Banta's 5, Packagers 0.
Ramblers 6, Lakeview 3.

Neenah — Banta's sewed up a share of the championship of the Twin City Industrial league's national division by blanking the Marathon Packagers 9-0 Tuesday night at the Recreation field.

The Marathon Ramblers remained in contention and at the same time knocked first half champion Lakeview out of the race by dealing the Kimberly-Clark entry a 6-3 defeat at Jefferson park.

The Packagers made nine hits off Banta's Dick Wahlgren but he didn't walk anyone. The Publishers tallied three times in the first inning, added one in the third and came up with five in the sxth on three hits, two walks and three errors. The big blow was Darold Eggert's double.

Collect 2 Hits

Ron Inouye and Eggert each had two hits for Banta's while Don Lornson collected three for the Packagers. Johnson, Vandenberg and Braun all had two.

The Ramblers scored twice in the first inning, saw Lakeview take the lead with three runs in the top of the second and then came back to add a trio in the bottom of the frame to turn back Lakeview.

The victors picked up 10 hits, two each by Dick Olson, "Bud" Geibel and Doug Wiatrowski, "Chuck" Miller and Gerry Plamann each had two hits for Lakeview. Wiatrowski was the winning pitcher and Ray Renier, the loser.

Twin City '9' Wins Title in Girls' Meet

Seymour — The Neenah-Menasha Girls softball team won the championship of the Fox River Valley Girls league tournament by defeating Billy Club of Oshkosh 7-4 here Tuesday night.

The setback in part reversed three previous losses to the Oshkosh club, two in league play and the other in the state tournament.

Neenah Circuit Opens Pin Season

Neenah — The 1960-61 bowling season in the Twin Cities will be officially opened Thursday when the Neenah South Side Men's league holds its initial session at 9 p.m. at Lakeroad Lanes. The circuit has been expanded from eight to 12 teams.

Most of the other Twin City leagues will start within the next two weeks.

Menasha Makeup Rained Out Contests in Menasha Tourney

Menasha — Three games and possibly four are carded at the fourth session of the Twin Cities Labor day softball tournament Friday night at Jefferson park.

Banta's and Wertsch's of Oshkosh will square off in a 6:30 p.m. second round game. Green Bay Floral and Lom's Bar of the same city square off in the second contest, a replay of last Sunday night's rainout.

Wisco Bar of Two Rivers and Lakeview will meet in the third game. It also was washed out last weekend. The Appleton Riverside Paper - Gilbert Paper contest, also scheduled for Friday may also be played then or may be changed to Saturday afternoon.

Menasha Driver 8th In National Races

Beloit — Wayne Holmes of Menasha placed eighth in a field of 10 in D stock hydro as the national outboard races concluded here Monday afternoon. Holmes, who qualified by capturing a second place in the divisionals at Winneconne, collected 111 points.

Richard O'Kner of Lake Mohawk, N. J., won the event with 527 points. No other Wisconsin driver finished in the top 10.

Dinner Closes Little League's Initial Season

'Rip' Collins, Former Cardinal Great to Be Main Speaker

Menasha — Menasha's Little League will put a formal conclusion to its first season at a dinner for players, coaches and guests at 6:30 p.m. Thursday at the Elks club.

Main speaker will be James "Rip" Collins, a member of the fabulous St. Louis Cardinal Gas House Gang of the thirties.

Henry Young, Neenah, will be master of ceremonies, the Rev. Donald Stoegbauer of St. Mary Catholic church will give the invocation and the Rev. Robert Jacobson of St. Timothy Lutheran church will offer the benediction.

Guests will include Dave Koslo, former major league hurler, Henry Rauch, Green Bay, district Little League commissioner; Harry Kargus, park superintendent; Robert Jacobson of St. Timothy Lutheran church will offer the benediction.

Guests will include Dave Koslo, former major league hurler, Henry Rauch, Green Bay, district Little League commissioner; Harry Kargus, park superintendent; Robert Vanevenhoven, recreation director; Mayor John Klein and Paul Bayer, who has leased land to the league for its own field.

Bob Cole, league president, will introduce the players and coaches and special recognition will be given to the 12-year olds, who will be overage next year.

Tickets for the $2.75 country style dinner are still available at the Elks club, Hedberg's and Hidde's.

Club Building For Legion Is Still Problem

Citizens Threaten to Take Action if Work Starts Without Permit

Kaukauna — Taxpayers in the area where the American Legion contemplates establishing a clubhouse are threatening to take action if the city does not stop that organization from carrying out remodeling work on a tavern building purchased recently.

The Legion does not have a building permit for the work as the building inspector refuses to issue a permit since the building is located in an area zoned as residential. Legion members and their legal advisor contend the area is without zoning as the city council did not act on zoning within a prescribed time after the building was annexed to the city.

Earlier the common council voted to grant the Legion a liquor license on the property after all city and state ordinances governing the operation of a tavern were met. This included attachment of lines to the city sewer system, use of city water and a ruling on whether the building would be a conforming use due to its location.

Want License

The Legion wants the liquor license and agreed to meet the requirements. Changes are being made to the interior of the building and some window changes are being made on exterior walls, all without a building permit. The inspector refuses to grant the permit pending a ruling on how the property is zoned.

Adjacent property owners object to the establishment of a clubhouse in a residential area and contend this site was zoned residential by the county prior to annexation to the city and thus it remains residential.

City officials are being called by both sides and the problem is expected to be brought before the council at 7 p.m. Tuesday. The city attorney is expected to ask the council for clarification of their decision to grant a liquor license after requirements were met.

Woman Suffers Neck Pains in 3-Car Mishap

Little Chute — One driver complained of pains in the neck after a 3-car collision at Buchanan street and Highway 41 about 5:40 p.m. Monday, but only minor damage was reported to the vehicles.

According to police Miss Bonnie L. Johne, 20, 1453 Main street, Green Bay, passed a car driven by John L. Lemmon, 34, 1009 Eastman street, Green Bay, stopped suddenly as a car driven by Leslie G. Henning, 41, 1149 Colonial street, Green Bay, was stopped on the highway waiting for a fourth car to make a left turn and the Lemmon vehicle hit the Johne car pushing it into the Henning auto.

Football Gear To be Issued at Combined Locks

Combined Locks — Candidates for the Combined Locks Grade school football team will be issued gear in the school gym following registration for classes Friday morning, according to Wayne Hull, principal.

Boys from the fifth through eighth grades are eligible to try for the team. Coaches this year will be Don Robinson and Edward Wulgaert. No definite schedule is set up as the team has games arranged with B-squads from Holy Cross and St. Mary of Kaukauna and from Holy Name Kimberly, and St. John, Little Chute.

Firemen Called to Thilmany Mill Fire, No Damage Reported

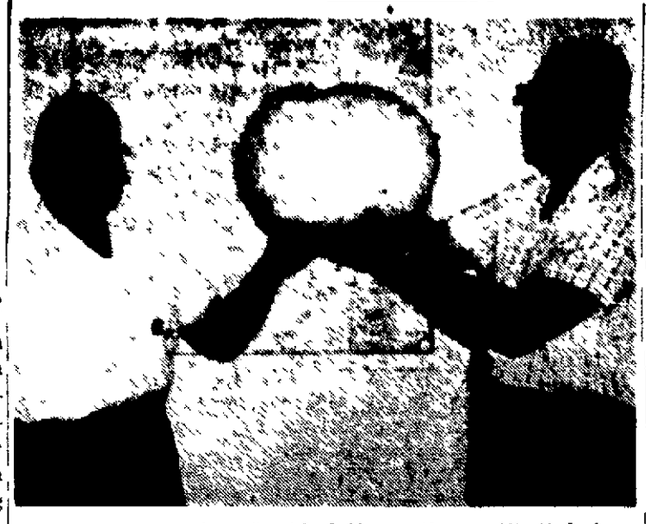

Kaukauna — Firemen were called to the Thilmany Pulp and Paper company about 10 a.m. Monday when sparks from an overhead crane ignited dust which had accumulated on beams in the polyethelene department.

The fire set off the overhead sprinkler which automatically sounds an alarm at the fire station. No damage was reported and the fire was out before firemen arrived.

Eagle Auxiliary Schedules Bake Sale

Kaukauna — Members of the Eagle auxiliary will sponsor a bake sale at 10 a.m. Friday at 401 Lawe street.

Women are to bring items to the clubrooms Thursday night or to the scene of the sale early Friday.

Many Meals Can Be Had From the puffball being held by Police Lt. Robert Main, left, and Police Chief Harold V. Engerson of Kaukauna. Neither officer cared to try what some people term a "delicacy" but others on the force took it home. The puffball was found on the George Proper farm, route 3, Kaukauna.

KHS Faculty to Hear Address By UW Education Professor

Kaukauna — Dr Glen Eye, professor of education at the University of Wisconsin, will be speaker for the first orientation meeting of public school faculty members at 9:30 a.m. Thursday, according to Julian Bichler, superintendent of schools.

Faculty members of Combined Locks and the Outagamie County Teachers college have been invited to attend. Prof. Eye will speak on "Implications For Professional Self Improvement" and will cover the responsibilities of teachers, board of education members and the community.

Panel Members

After the talk, a panel and teachers will join in a discussion and question and answer session with the speaker. Panelists will be Dallas Werner representing the high school teacher, Miss Mary Landreman representing the elementary teacher, Dr George Behnke, chairman of the teacher's committee of the board of education, and Guy McCorison, president of Thilmany Pulp and Paper company who will represent a citizen's view.

In-service education training meetings are scheduled Thursday afternoon and all day Friday. New teachers attended a special orientation session Wednesday.

Regular classes for students are scheduled to get underway Tuesday morning.

Kimberly Sets School Opening

Four New Members Join Faculty for 1960-61 Sessions

Kimberly—Classes at Kimberly High school are scheduled to get underway Wednesday with teacher orientation scheduled for Tuesday.

All but four members of last year's faculty are returning. New faculty members include Miss Shirley Bournoville who will teach home economics. Darrell Larson who will teach freshmen English and geography, Allen Leicht who will handle mixed chorus and Andre Raney who will teach Latin and English 10.

Democrats Will Use Soft Sell in South

Master Plan by Smathers Will Avoid Platform, Accent Past

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE

Washington — Amid a series of gloomy private advices coming up from the south to party leaders, a decision has been made to keep the Democratic presidential campaign in Dixie strictly a thing apart.

White

The effort there will be deliberately and wholly different, in tone and in human terms, from what will be attempted all over the rest of the country.

Elsewhere Sens John Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson will run a tough, aggressive race, asking no slightest quarter from the Nixon-Lodge Republican ticket and offering none But inside the south the keynote will be expressed in these terms "Take it easy don't crowd anybody . . sell it soft"

Outside the south Kennedy is bypassing or at least supplementing the old-line regular Democratic organizations in many states and cities. Inside the south the campaign will be geared 100 per cent into the traditional organizations of the established southern leaders — governors, senators legislators, sheriffs and so on

Need Clearance

Nothing will be done on behalf of the Democratic campaign in any southern state until it has been "cleared by that state s Democratic chieftains No new 'Kennedy-Johnson committees" for example, from outside these hierarchical ranks will either be set up or allowed to function

This strategic approach is largely the work of Sen George Smathers of Florida, who has been chosen by Kennedy and Johnson as field marshal for the southern and border states as well Smathers objective, speaking realistically is not the impossible one of holding every single one of those states It is rather to keep Republican inroads to the irreducible minimum

Because he could not do so, he does not seriously attempt to hide the fact that the Democrats are deeply frightened about the south. Confidential estimates from that area vary in detail and emphasis. They all, however, include the somber word "trouble."

"Real Trouble"

"We are in real trouble now," some run. "We are expecting real trouble," run the others. The so-called "Catholic issue" — that Kennedy is a member of the Catholic faith — is endlessly repeated in these messages. Another factor mentioned again and again is the Democratic convention's markedly liberal platform, which already has been repudiated by nearly every important Democratic politician in the south — including Smathers himself

Operation Dixie therefore will proceed on this pattern: National Democratic party speakers will not go into the south without Smathers' prior agreement No party handbill, no party pamphlet, will be circulated without his knowledge and concurrence No effort whatever will be made to defend the Democratic convention platform

Rather the purpose will be to ignore that platform whenever it is possible. Wherever there are overpowering local demands that it be discussed, the southern Democratic campaign reply will be this: The southern leaders never accepted that platform.

Instead, they would point out that any convention can write a platform but no convention can make any platform into law Only congress can do that — and the south no matter what happens in November, will still have power in congress

Heart of Plan

(This doesn t mean that Kennedy or Johnson will back up an inch on the platform It only means that the southern campaign will frankly leave Kennedy and Johnson on this point)

The heart of the Smathers plan, in short, contemplates these things:

1. Policy of noninterference in the south by northern Democrats

2 A minimum of talk about who is the Democratic presidential candidate and a maximum of talk about the south's old allegiance to the Democratic party as a collective institution.

3 No harsh attacks on bolters or potential bolters, on the theory that the more such people are pushed, the more they will broaden the bolt by soliciting other resentful Democrats

Modern X-Ray Treatment Calls for Caution, Not Fear

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

"Dear Dr Molner: About six years ago my daughter had X-ray treatments on her face for acne. Could this amount of radiation have made her sterile? She is now 26, has been married six years, and is childless Her doctor can find nothing wrong with her She had a miscarriage the first year she was married. — A D"

Dr. Molner

No, the X-ray for acne could not have caused sterility. I realize, naturally, that a great deal has been printed about the dangers of excessive radiation, whether from fallout or otherwise

It is well for us to guard against excessive radiation (or, indeed, any needless radiation), but we must also keep in mind that moderate radiation (X-ray) for useful purposes is not to be feared

Since people in general do not have the time or opportunity to study this whole topic in detail, learning how many Roentgen units are involved in a single X-ray, or what tiny fractional portion of one is represented in a single X-ray exposure, it leaves a great many of us wondering How much is too much? How careful should I be? Should I worry about being harmed by X-ray?

No Connection

What you want from me is a practical rule of thumb, not a scientific dissertation First of all, in your daughter's case, X-ray treatments of the skin of the face had no effect on the matter of sterility, because the rays did not reach the procreative, or reproductive organs.

Since your daughter has been checked by her doctor and nothing was found wrong, I'd ask this: Has her husband been examined? For sterility is as apt to be on his part as on hers

My advice, in fact, is always to check the husband first, because this is easier and less expensive And since either partner in the marriage can have some flaw or defect preventing conception, why should the blame be automatically placed on the women first? It shouldn't.

Rule of Thumb

But to go on about radiation The best rule of thumb is this: When X-ray is clearly needed, either for diagnosis or treatment, go ahead and have it. The amount of radiation is not going to be big enough, for any practical purpose, to do any harm.

We are more cautious than we used to be about X-raying the pelvic region of pregnant women, but this caution is the nature of a reasonable safety measure rather than avoiding violent damage.

Let me put it this way: If we noted (as we have!) that motorists tend to drive faster than they did years ago, it's good sense for us to drive five miles an hour slower. If we get in that habit, we'll save lives, usually including our own.

It's somewhat the same with radiation. If we are more careful to avoid radiation unless it is clearly needed, we reduce, slightly, the cumulative risk. It's a very slight factor, but an inch is an inch, and a wee bit of precaution is a wee bit of precaution

Neither Harmful

"Dear Dr. Molner Which television is least harmful to the eyes, the black and white or the colored? — Mrs. D C"

Why say "least harmful"? Neither will hurt your eyes It s just a matter of which you like best.

Temporary Relief

NOTE TO MRS. G.B.: Yes, ACTH (as well as cortisone) has given temporary relief to many arthritis sufferers Where is it obtainable? Only from your doctor, because it is powerful stuff and must be given with care

* * *

My leaflet, "The Lost Secret of Reducing," tells how to get rid of fat the easy way For your copy write to Dr Molner in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long self-addressed, stamped envelope and five cents in coin to cover cost of handling

K-C Meeting Opens Series Between Firms

Sessions Designed To Acquaint Lake States Producers

Kimberly — The Kimberly-Clark corporation and its 1,500 pulpwood producers in the lake states of Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota are becoming better acquainted through a series of meetings to discuss mutual interests and problems.

The firm's employe magazine, "Cooperation," in the current issue, tells about the program through a pictorial account of the initial gathering at the Kimberly mill.

Six or seven meetings will be held this fall at various locations in the three states

Wood for Mills

These pulpwood producers supply wood for the company's three pulp and paper mills, Kimberly and Niagara in Wisconsin and the plant at Munising Mich.

Twenty-five per cent of the wood is cut from the corporation's 600,000 acres in the Lakes states and the other 75 per cent from land owned or controlled by the producers themselves.

Meetings are designed to offer as much help as possible to the producers Through its district foresters, Kimberly Clark is prepared to help with management practices, diseases and insect problems, reforestation and marketing.

Where possible, meetings will include tours of one of the three pulp mills as at the gathering at Kimberly. This enables producers to see the end result of their work.

Evangelist to Speak

Kaukauna — Evangelist Charles E. Lacey, Demopolis, Ala., will be guest speaker for Bible study services at the Community Gospel chapel at 7.30 p.m. Thursday.

The guest speaker is also scheduled for talks at two Sunday services.

Government Helps Kill Pesky Mosquitoes

Remove Stagnant Water, Spray Adult Bugs, Leaflet Recommends; Appleton Does Same

Mosquitoes are bothersome to picknickers and outdoorsmen, a problem to farmers and costly to businessmen, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reports in a leaflet on control of the pests.

The insects cause livestock to lose weight by driving them from lush pastures to barren hillside and cause poultry to lose weight and lay fewer eggs, leaflet says. Mosquito annoyance to workers may lower their efficiency.

By reducing attendance at outdoor theaters, amusement parks and other outdoor facilities when they are in greatest demand, mosquitoes cut into businessmen's profits

The first thing to do to combat mosquitoes is to find and eliminate their breeding places, standing water. Containers to remove include the cans, discarded tires, tree holes, stagnant pools and swampy places. Cesspools, septic tanks, rain barrels and storage tubs should be tightly covered; bird baths and watering pans should be emptied and washed at least once a week, and rain gutters should be cleaned out

Kill Larvae

If standing water can't be eliminated, the next chance is to kill the larvae, or wigglers, by spraying, dusting or oiling the water. The agriculture department publishes a list of sprays that can be used.

The Appleton health department this year has thrown DDT crystals into pools of stagnant water throughout the city and Dr. Marvin S. Kagen, health commissioner, urges citizens to eliminate stagnant water on their property

To kill adult mosquitoes, the health department has sprayed the city three times with a 5 per cent DDT solution and has sprayed the parks more often

Individuals can get temporary relief from mosquitoes by using residual sprays, emulsions or oil solutions applied to surfaces in the home or other buildings where the insects are likely to rest or hide. As long as these sprays remain on the surfaces, they kill mosquitoes that come in contact with them

Quick Relief

For quick relief, such as during picnics or other outdoor gatherings, space or contact sprays can be used.

Aerosol bombs and other household sprays can be used inside. For best results, close windows and doors during spraying and for 5 to 10 minutes afterward, the agriculture department recommends. A residual spray may sometimes be needed on dark or secluded spots in the home.

Insect repellents, sold under various trade names, can give several hours of protection against mosquito bites.

Most insecticides are poisonous and should be handled with care. They should be plainly marked, kept out of reach of children and animals, and used as directed, scientists warn.

Bing Crosby Prepares for TV Special

Singer Relaxed, Confident as He Rehearses Show

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Radio-TV Writer

Hollywood —(AP)— Watching Bing Crosby rehearse for his latest TV show is deceiving. He looks as relaxed as a sack of wet wash, but actually old pro Bing is poised, confident and sure of himself.

Bing's next hour-long special will be shown on ABC network Oct. 5. The show was in rehearsal six straight days, through the weekend, and goes before the cameras today.

The format of the show is the successful one used in his two specials last year. Crosby strolls around a tastefully austere and apparently vast stage, meeting his guest stars and singing a long, uninterrupted string of familiar old songs. There will be a lot of that apparently spontaneous kidding in the Crosby style, particularly with sons Lindsay, Philip and Dennis.

Breezes Along

Crosby breezed along his mapped and measured path as if he were out for a Sunday morning constitutional. Occasionally he departed from the lines printed on the cue cards to add some light-hearted comment. Sometimes he would get a little too funny and break up the rest of the cast.

When it was time to rehearse a dance number, Crosby wandered over to the sidelines for a cigaret and conversation.

Crosby thinks he has his working schedule organized to perfection this year: "Just about right — a couple of shows of my own, a few guests shots, and my golf match. Now, if we can just get good weather for the golf match. Excuse me, I've got an entrance to make."

North Central Gets New Stops

Feeder Hits Big Time With Routes Between Large Cities

The civil aeronautics board authorized a vast increase in airline service in an area between the Great Lakes and the Ohio river. At the same time the board allowed North Central airlines to compete on routes that have been served only by bigger trunklines.

The board handed big new route systems to Lake Central and North Central. Some but not all the new points awarded the local airlines have been served by trunklines.

C.A.B. Vice Chairman Chan Gurney, in a partial dissent, said the expansion lifts Lake Central out of the local airline class and, in effect, makes it a regional trunkline. The new routes give Lake Centrol a system extending from Chicago to Washington and Baltimore.

Large Volume

Both Lake Central and North Central were given rights to fly a potentially large volume of shuttle service between big cities. North Central was authorized to fly between Detroit and Cleveland and Lake Central was given a smiliar route between Pittsburgh and Detroit.

North Central was given new routes between Chicago, Detroit and Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and between Detroit and Cleveland. North Central also was given rights to serve a number of Michigan and Wisconsin cities.

Savoyards Popular Off-Broadway Group

These Actors, Public, Can't Get Enough of Gilbert and Sullivan

Bad-tempered William Schwenck Gilbert was disinclined to do any more work than absolutely necessary, and wrote his librettos at night.

Under the circumstances, the miracle was not that the unlikely collaboration of the two Victorian gentlemen produced a handful of small masterpieces, but that anything got written at all.

(Today 11 of their 14 comic operas are delighting a third generation of Gilbert and Sullivan enthusiasts around the world. (No score of their first operetta exists, and their last two, written after their personal relationship soured, aren't very good.)

In America, amateur presentations of the colorful favorites, "H.M.S. Pinafore", "Yeomen of the Guard" and "The Pirates of Penzance" burgeon like the flowers that bloom in the spring.

Television, Too

Every performance by the American Savoyards, only professional G&S company in the United States, is sold out weeks in advance. Their limited off-Broadway season is being extended month after month, and this fall they may tour the country.

Even television has felt the appeal of the tuneful, topsy turvy world of Gilbert and Sullivan. A colorcast of "The Mikado" starred a G&S buff named Groucho Marx as Ko-Ko, Lord High Executioner of Titipu. Director was the famous Savoyard Martyn Green.

Queen Victoria, who knighted Sullivan and urged him to compose better things, thought Gilbert's plot for "Mikado" was "rather silly." The good queen's critical judgment to the contrary, "Mikado" proved to be the most popular operetta ever written.

Sometimes during a G&S performance, it's hard to tell who's having more fun—the audience or the actors. In their traditional stylized acting, the American Savoyards, for example, have an infectious enthusiasm that's felt across the footlights.

New Blue Cross Plan Approved

Propose Setting Uniform Costs for Nationwide Groups

San Francisco —(AP)— The American Hospital association Monday endorsed Blue Cross plans to provide improved and more uniform coverage throughout the nation for the organization's nationwide accounts.

The new arrangements are to go into effect Sept. 30.

Dr. Frank S. Groner of Memphis, Tenn., the AHA's new national president, said "the AHA's overwhelming endorsement provides the approval of the third of the three major organizations involved."

The others are the Blue Cross commission and the Blue Cross association. Groner, administrator of Baptist Memorial hospital of Memphis, has been a member of the Blue Cross commission and is a past president of the American College of Hospital Administrators.

He said the new setup, while complex when considering the thousands of hospitals involved, will basically do this:

"It will provide the mechanism by which all of the plans can produce the same high quality product at virtually the same cost in all locations."

Stressing that the new unifying unit will apply primarily to nationwide accounts, the new move is intended to provide that a man working for a national organization in San Francisco will get the same benefits at the same cost as a co-worker based in New York or elsewhere.

"It's hoped we'll be able to eliminate differences that may crop up from state to state," Groner said.

The AHA, while heartily endorsing Groner's description of the new Blue Cross nationwide setup, rejected a proposal that it recommend adoption of a Canadian plan for government financing of all hospitals.

Louis A. Reed, medical economics professor at Cornell university's graduate business school, had asked the AHA delegates to consider the Canadian plan.

Medical Care Bill Benefits Explained

Until States Work Out Details, Extent of Payments Not Known

BY JOE HALL

Washington — (AP) — The medical care plan for needy persons over 65 which has cleared congress is designed to aid 12,400,000 Americans with their health costs.

This is 78 per cent of the 16 million persons over 65 in the nation. Sponsors concede, however, that the degree of help may vary widely, and there's no way of knowing how many actually will be helped.

That is because, while the federal government stands ready to put up hundreds of millions of dollars for the program, it is entirely up to the states to set up details of the operations.

Look to State House

Thus an elderly individual wanting to know how he might benefit must look to his statehouse for the answers—particularly to those who now adminster the public assistance welfare programs in his state.

The plan is contained in a compromise social security bill sent to President Eisenhower by congress Monday. He is considered sure to sign it.

Secretary Must Approve

The states must obtain the general approval of the secretary of health, education and welfare of the way in which they intend to operate the new program.

Based on experience with the present public assistance program, they will have wide latitude in setting eligibility standards and in determining the type and amount of payments.

Under the medical care plan, the federal government will do two things:

Helps Two Groups

1. It will increase substantially the amount of grants it makes to the states to help with medical expenses of the 2,400,000 persons now on the old age assistance relief rolls.

2. It will join the states with a liberal matching formula in paying for a new program of meeting medical bills of an estimated 10 million persons who are not on relief but whose incomes are inadequate to take care of all of their health expenses.

For the first part, the federal government will participate in an additional amount equal to $12 multiplied by the number of old age assistance recipients in each state. The federal matching on this sum would be 50 to 80 per cent, with the biggest share going to states with lowest per capita income.

360,000 People a Year

An estimated 360,000 of the persons on old age assistance need medical help in any one year.

For the new program of aid to persons with incomes high enough to keep them off the assistance rolls, the bill authorizes unlimited federal funds, again on a 50 to 80 per cent matching formula.

Some legislators say the cost of both tyes of payments could exceed $2 billion in a year if the states took the fullest advantage of them.

However, social security administration experts estimated that the federal outlay would be $202 million the first year, with the states putting up $61 million.

By the fifth year, they figured the federal cost might be $340 million, with $180 million coming from the states.

However, the plan would work out so that many states would not have to pay out anything to get the extra old age assistance medical funds, at least at the outset.

That is because they now pay medical bills for their assistance recipients in excess of federal matching grants. Thus these states can—and government experts think they will—continue their present level of payments but cut down their share of the cost as the new federal money takes over a bigger portion.

Vary Among States

The social security administration figures the new program will be started on an extremely modest scale in many states.

Thus some states are figured to put up only $2,000 for this in the beginning year.

The plan is to be administered under the public assistance section of the social security act. Some states now make quite liberal monthly payments to those on old age assistance under this provision; others have a low scale.

Different Plans Possible

Within each state, each recipient generally has a budget tailored to his individual needs and checked by a case worker.

Under the new plan, medical costs could now be given more prominence in a budget. It is expected that in most instances the state would pay the hospital, doctor, drug store or other supplier directly for the health services.

A state could contract with a health insurance organization, such as the Blue Cross, to provide medical services to needy old persons.

People May Pay Part

Also a state might set up a plan under which a person with an income of, say, $2,400 a year, might be required to pay the first $200 of doctor bills and $250 of hospital bills in a year with the medical care program taking care of all costs beyond these.

The bill provides that the new program for persons not on old age assistance shall cover those "whose income and resources are insufficient to meet" all of their medical bills.

But it leaves it up to the states to determine just how this test of need shall be applied.

Driver Pays Fine After Hitting Bicycle Rider

Waupaca — Oscar G. Kellin, 52, route 2, Almon, was fined $25 Tuesday by Police Justice George Whalen for inattentive driving which resulted in the injury of an 8-year-old bicycle rider Monday.

Dean Erdman, son of Mrs Norma Erdman, 608 E. Fulton street, is in good condition after he suffered friction bruises when he was thrown from his bike after being hit by Kellin's truck at Fulton and Maple streets.

Police said Kellin was driving west on Fulton and made a right turn onto Maple while the boy was riding at the right curb.

Kellin said he didn't see the boy.

Driver Fined $110 For 4 Violations

Waupaca — Joseph L. Sankey, 69, Stevens Point, Tuesday admitted in Justice court a stop sign violation, the illegal use of license plates, failure to transfer title and not having current registration. He was fined a total of $110 by Police Justice George Whalen.

Police said Sankey was driving west on Royalton street Monday and failed to stop at Churchill street, for which he was fined $10.

He was fined $25 for not transferring the title from the last owner and for failing to send for registration and license plates.

Low-Cost Compacts Change Car Market

BY SYLVIA PORTER

Porter

He is making the $2,000-and-under price class the fastest growing segment of the new car market.

He is causing a convulsion in the U.S. market for foreign cars. Sales of foreign autos in our market have been plunging in the last few months — but at the same time, sales of the low-priced Volkswagen and Renault are up.

He is shrinking Detroit's capacity to absorb steel, textiles, glass, rubber, other materials that go into a typical U.S. car. Some of the basic industries for a while at least must find and develop other markets that will make up for Detroit's low buying.

Compact Saves Money

He is also buying less gas and oil because a compact car uses less than the old standard size model.

He is proving that money can be saved on the purchase and maintenance of a compact car and is inviting other industries and services to compete for these new savings.

He is sending out signals that economy-mindedness is no fad—and that a new trend in U.S. taste and thought may be starting.

Although the compact car is the highlight of the auto industry this year, the total figures do not reveal the extent to which the inexpensive car has caught on. The startling fact, according to Ward's Automotive reports, is that in 1960 nearly 1 million cars —or 17 per cent of the industry's production—were in the $2,000-and-under price class as compared with a mere 3.4 per cent in this class in 1959.

Almost two-thirds of all the compacts produced in 1960 carried a window sticker suggesting a retail pre-tax price of $2,000 or less. While in the 1961 model year, just beginning, there will be a shift to slightly higher priced compacts, there also will be increased emphasis on the least expensive models (under $1,800).

Needs Fewer Supplies

The U.S. auto industry has rediscovered the old axiom that the way to compete is to compete. In the second quarter of 1960, foreign sales slumped 17.2 per cent under the comparable 1959 months, according to estimates. The fall in June was a thumping 45 per cent. There is no doubt that the explanation is the competitive U.S. compact car.

But surging upward against the trend were sales of the low-priced Volkswagen and Renault. If Detroit is to compete up and down the line, it also must produce cars in this price range and it will.

The popularity of the compact is adversely affecting Detroit's suppliers and the petroleum industry. A Corvair weighs 66 per cent less than a Chevrolet — which means it takes much less steel, rubber, glass, upholstery fabric. The driver of the Falcon gets 20 to 24 miles a gallon against the 13 to 15 miles a gallon obtained by the driver of the Ford V-8—which means that the owner of a compact over a year buys considerably less gas and oil than the owner of a standard size model.

The compacts accounted for more than 26 per cent of all Detroit's production in 1960, may account for 50 per cent of its output in 1961. We may be only starting to glimpse the extent to which the economy-mindedness of the U.S. consumer will influence the economy of the United States.

6 Persons Die in Crash on Heavily Traveled Road

Berlin, N.J. —(AP)— A head-on collision on a heavily traveled highway Monday brought death to six people and injuries to two more.

The victims were: Two mothers from the Cheltenham section of Philadelphia, Mrs. Lorraine Zimmerman, 31, and Mrs. Rita Sklaroff, about 33; Mrs. Zimmerman's son Andrew, 8, and daughter, Sharon, 2; Mrs. Sklaroff's daughter Eileen, 2, and Cataldo Scarantino, 61, of Waterford, N.J., sole occupant of the second car.

In serious condition at Cooper hospital, Camden, was another of Mrs. Sklaroff's daughters, Deborah, 11. Admitted to Our Lady of Lourdes hospital, Camden, was a son of Mrs. Zimmerman, Samuel, 5. His condition was listed as satisfactory.

State police said it appeared the women and children were returning from a day in Atlantic City. The two mothers still wore bathing suits. They were headed toward Philadelphia when Scarantino's car crossed over the 4 lane highway and struck the other car, police said.

Camden County Coroner Robert Blake has scheduled an autopsy on Scarantino in the belief that he may have fallen asleep at the wheel or had a heart attack.

The crash tied up traffic for nearly an hour on the highway, a main artery to Atlantic City and other shore points.

Jamboree Held at Riverview; Prizes Given

Eight "Horses" Were Entered in the golf race and other women at Riverview's jamboree selected their favorites to win, place or show. Mrs. Charles Henderson, left, marks the scoreboard while taking the "bet" of Mrs. E. N. Krueger. Mrs. John W. Green, right, is studying the line-up to choose a winner. Mrs. Paul A. Tepper won the race. A 2-ball foursome was one of the day's special events. At right, Mrs. H. Shelby Lee shoots a long drive while her partner, Mrs. Edward J. Zeiss, watches. The first prize for this event went to Mrs. Oscar C. Boldt and Mrs. Robert D. Rae, who shot a 37 on nine holes.

Manier Girls Win Riverview Tourney

Miss Marcia Manier is women's championship flight winner at Riverview Country club. Her sister, Judy, was runner-up in the August tournament, and Miss Ann McKenny won third place. Prizes were awarded to these and other winners of summer golf at the jamboree day awards' luncheon Tuesday at Riverview.

Flight A low scorers were the Mmes. William B. Hale, first, E. N. Krueger, runner-up, and Charles J. Hawkinson, Jr., consolation. Winners of Class B competition were the Mmes. M. E. Olson, W. J. Frawley and John W. Green, first, second and third, respectively.

Low scorers and prize winners in other flights were: Class C, Mrs. F. A. Meythaler, Mrs. William A. Daniel, Jr., and a consolation tie between the Mmes. Stephen Freschl, Earl A. Fetting and Kenneth E. Kloehn; Class D, the Mmes. John M. Rosebush, Robert C. McKee and H. Shelby Lee, and Class E, the Mmes. William C. Gallaher, George A. Behnke and Wilbs M. Van Horn.

Summer Team Play

Twelve groups of four have been entered in team play this summer. "Scotchson-the-Rough" won first place. Its players are the Mmes. Palmer B. McConnell, captain, Carl J. Schroeder, Alfred A. Bradford and Robert D. Rae. Second place went to Mrs. E. F. Mielke's "Brassie Julep".

During the awards presentation, good fellowship prizes went to June handicap winners, the Mmes. Robert D. DeCock, Ade S. Dillon and B. F. Smith. Mrs. C. B. Sitterson, Jr., was July handicap winner. Runner-up in that lay-off was Mrs. Mielke.

Mrs. Earl A. Fetting was awarded a trophy for top place in the handicap-lowering category. Others who won prizes for reducing their handicaps were the Mmes. J. Edwin Woody, A flight; Don Morrissey, B flight; F. H. Sprowl, C flight; Robert C. McKee, D flight; and A. Sherman Frinak, E flight.

Ladies' golf committee co-chairmen, Mrs. William A. Daniel, Sr., and Mrs. Paul A. Tepper, tallied the results of ringer score competition for the summer and Tuesday announced that the following flight players won: A flight, Mrs. Sitterson; B flight, Mrs. McConnell; C flight, Mrs. Edward E. Uehlein; D flight, Mrs. Rosebush; and E flight, Mrs. Behnke.

Jamboree Winners

Special events in connection with jamboree day play consisted of a golf-horse race, a 2-ball foursome tourney, and punchy putting. Mrs. Tepper was the winning "horse" golfer. Second prize went to Mrs. C. J. Hawkinson, Jr., and third place to Mrs. W. J. Frawley. Other entries were the Mmes. McClure, Woody, Sitterson, William B. Hale and James McKenney.

The 2-ball foursome matches resulted in Mrs. Oscar C. Boldt and Mrs. Rae shooting 37 on 9 holes for first prize. Second place went to Mrs. A. Sherman Frinak and Mrs. Frank Wright, Jr.; third to Mrs. Mielke and Mrs. M. E. Olson; and fourth to Mrs. Vilas A. Gehin and Mrs. Carl J. Schroeder.

The Mmes. McKenny, Gehin, Woody and Smith won the punchy putting event. tuesday's good fellowship prizes went to the Mmes. Hartley B. Barker, Boldt, Dan E. Cloud, Henderson, McKenny, Byron Yule and Edward J. Zeiss.

Riverview's jamboree day included a luncheon and awards program and concludes the 1960 season of women's competition on Tuesdays.

Couple Repeats Promises

Clintonville — Miss Patricia Olesen and Donald Prellwitz were united in marriage Saturday in an 11 a.m. double ring ceremony at St. Rose Catholic church. The Rev. John J. Murphy officiated.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Olesen, route 2, Clintonville, was given in marriage by her father. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Prellwitz, also of route 2.

Miss Peggy Olesen, Appleton, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Best man was Leo Mohnen, Menasha, brother-in-law of the bridegroom. Ushering duties were performed by Roger Olesen, brother of the bride, and Roger Prellwitz, brother of the bridegroom.

Dinner was served at Three Elms, Shawano, and a reception was held at the Rustic resort, Clover Leaf lakes.

Upon returning from a wedding trip to northern Wisconsin and the Mackinac Bridge, the couple will live at route 2, Clintonville.

The bride is a graduate of Clintonville High school and was employed in Appleton. The bridegroom is self-employed.

Visit Germany

Dr. and Mrs. James M. Campbell, 830 E. Harrison street, left Appleton Saturday to fly by jet to Frankfurt, Germany, where they will visit the parents of Mrs. Campbell. They will tour Europe for two months, returning here in early November.

Dr. Campbell is a psychologist at the Green Bay reformatory.

Newlyweds Honored at Open House

Mr. and Mrs. Philipp Vogt, 1743 N. Morrison street, entertained about 45 friends and relatives at an open house Sunday in honor of their son and daughter-in-law who recently returned from their wedding trip.

Miss Carol Louise Tomlin and Philip Vogt were married on Aug. 13 in the chapel of First Lutheran church, Stoughton. The Rev. Ames W. Stolen performed the double ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tomlin, Stoughton.

Given in marriage by her brother, Richard Tomlin, Pensacola, Fla., the bride was attended by Miss Barbara Ann Janes, Stoughton. Charles Kluge, Appleton, was best man for his cousin and Ralph Tomlin, Jr., brother of the bride, ushered.

The new Mrs. Vogt will be a junior in education at the University of Wisconsin. Mr. Vogt is a junior pre-medical student at the University of Wisconsin. He is employed as a medical technician for St. Mary's hospital, Madison, and is a member of Phi Eta Sigma. The couple will reside at 709 S. Orchard street, Madison.

Our Children

Beginning Pupils Need Mom's Cheery Attitude

BY ANGELO PATRI

One child differs from another and the differences are never so plain as on the first day of school for the beginning pupil. One marches gaily along with an older child, chatting like a magpie. One holds his mother's hand but gets on his line, kisses his mother good-bye and that's that. One, and he is always present this first day, refuses to release his mother's hand and yells lustily at any suggestion that she leave him. This one is the teacher's problem, not the mother's, this time.

After various experiments with this sort of child we found that if his mother left the building, his cries ringing in her ears, left him to the class and the teacher, we soon managed to distract his attention and catch his interest. He cried for a while. The other children comforted him. Usually a motherly little girl soothed him.

If we managed to hold him the first session we had little difficulty afterward, but if his mother lost faith, stole back and peeked into the room, and the child saw her, it was over for that day and usually for the term. Once she took him home ahead of time the cause was lost.

Only Child

This sort of child has been conditioned to hold on to his mother. Long before he is of entrance age he should have been weaned from this domination for domination it usually is. If there are other young children in the family this is sooner done. The only child is encouraged to cling to his mother who fondly thinks he is adoring her. Maybe he is but often I have thought the shoe was on the other foot.

Often a tearful mother will say to the teacher, "Be kind to him. He is only a baby." The teacher of the first grade is usually an experienced woman and knows what to do with the beginners to set them in an attitude of acceptance and trust. There is no need of a mother's fear of harsh treatment for her youngster. Nor should she cry at parting with him on the first day of his school life.

A crying mother upsets not only her own child but some of the others as well. It does not take much to start a group of little children crying under such circumstances and mothers can be of great help to their children and to the teachers if they will brace up and smile and wave good-bye with a cheery, "I'll be waiting for you at noontime."

One last word to the teacher please: Tell her if the child has any special need for attention: a hearing defect, a visual defect, a need to go to the toilet frequently. She needs to know such things so she can help the child.

Designing Woman

Change of Wall Color With One Coat of Paint

What color to paint walls isn't always just a question of color scheme, or the amount of light in the room, or the room mood effect. Sometimes the question is more complicated because only one coat of paint will be applied, too, often the landlord's allowance. Then some colors should be ruled out unless another coat or two can be added—color under the single top coat has a stealthy way of showing through. This would certainly be true for Mrs. F. X. C., who asks how one coat of rose-beige would be over medium bright green.

The rose-beige might look exactly right in some lights, Mrs. C., then lose its fresh rosiness in muddy shadow when the light changes. Green and red are complementary colors, and complementary colors dull each other. One coat of a light color is bound to suffer when it goes over a dark or medium shade of the color that is its complement, yellow over violet, for example, or melon over blue. Try a pale sage green, as different a green from the one you have as possible, which might be richer for deeper, brighter green under it, or a gray or beige that benefits from green shadows. Or decide to add a second and perhaps a third coat of paint.

Mrs. C. M. "I like orchid and lilac colors, but would they be wrong to use for wallpaper in a bedroom with an eastern exposure? The room is 8 feet by 9½ feet, has a white taffeta bedspread and white curtains, a light-finished Hollywood bed and a medium walnut dresser."

The colors you like aren't wrong for your bedroom, but the amount you use makes a big difference in the effect on the room. Shades of orchid and lilac in sparing pattern on a white background create a light and bright and very pretty room, and seem to enlarge small space. Unless it is quite bright, a lilac or orchid shade for the wallpaper background create a quieter effect, absorbs light. If the windows with their white curtains are very large, white background paper might make the room too light, but this is less often an objection than dullness.

Mrs. R. Q. "Our two boys are outgrowing the cowboy wallpaper in their bedroom and my husband says I should look for imitation knotty pine paper. Is this a good idea, or have you other suggestions for papers that would fit in without making it necessary to change too much in the room?"

A wood-effect wall covering must be considered for how well it will blend with the woodwork in the room. When it does, it's a good choice for a boy's room, but it can be one of several real woods that are paper - thin veneers mounted on paper rather than imitations. You'll see many appropriate plaids, stripes, geometric patterns and simple textures, too, when you shop, and you might look for textures in the new hardy vinyl wall coverings.

Good Habits Save Time, Trouble

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Good bridge habits will save you a lot of time and trouble, but it's possible to have too much of a good thing. Whenever you're playing an important contract, check your habits by giving each play a second thought.

Opening lead — ♠10

East won the first trick with the ace of spades and returned a spade to South's king. Declarer promptly led out the king of hearts, and the slam just as promptly went kerflooey. East was sure to get a trump trick.

Nobody can blame South for playing the first two tricks quickly. After all, he was just following suit. But nobody forced him to barge ahead with the trumps before he had thought about the hand.

Only Danger

The only danger to the slam was a 5-0 trump break. It would take South about two seconds to absorb that fact.

If West had five trumps, nothing could be done about it. If East had five trumps, however, the situation could be handled. Declarer just had to lead a low trump twice through East.

This could be done only if dummy's two low trumps were reserved for this purpose. South couldn't afford to waste one of dummy's low trumps on his own king.

The correct play is to start the trumps by leading to dummy's queen. When the bad break shows up, a trump is returned from dummy through East. When East puts up the nine, South wins with the jack. South returns to dummy with the ace of clubs to lead another trump through East, and the slam is assured.

Daily Question

Partner opens with two hearts (forcing to game), and the next player passes. You hold: S-A 6 5, H-10 9 7 6 2, D-9, C-Q J 9 8. What do you say?

Answer: Bid three hearts. Agree on the suit first and show aces and other controls later. You expect to get to a slam eventually, but there is no need to rush matters.

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

Clue to Trim Hips

No matter how you weigh in — light, just right or heavy — you are not exempt from hips that are out of all proportion to your weight. You see wafer-thin girls with hips jutting out like a bustle in the back. You also see plump ladies who carry more padding in the hips than elsewhere.

What, oh what can account for this unfair distribution? Could it be a quirk of nature? That's the claim usually made by a lass or lady with out-sized hips.

She unswervingly declares, "All my weight just naturally goes to my hips, and there is nothing I can do about it. I've tried everything."

Has she now? Has she tried improving her posture? When posture is faulty, hips sooner or later fall prey to more than their share of weight.

How can that be? Poor posture imposes an unnatural strain on the hip muscles. As a protective measure, they cushion themselves with extra flesh — flesh which is drawn from less needy areas of the figure.

Obviously, if you wish to control your hipline, you must keep your posture in line. Clues to controlling your hipline via posture follow: when standing or walking, always draw the buttocks under the body; tilt the pelvis upward; flex — relax — the knees.

You do — and your hips will not outdo you!

* * *

For a lovelier figure, walk with the grace that nature intended! To check or improve on your ability, send for "Clues To Good Carriage," my leaflet giving complete instructions on shoes, stockings and walking techniques that enhance both carriage and hipline. Write to me in care of this newspaper, enclosing a large, self - addressed, stamped envelope, and five cents in coin.

Today's Etiquette

BE PUNCTUAL

I have recently moved here from another part of the country and am not familiar with some of the customs. I have been invited to a luncheon in a private room of a restaurant at 12:30 p.m. Is it considered fashionable to be late? If so, should I arrive at 12:45 or 1 p. m. Or does my hostess mean that lunch will be served at 12:30 and therefore I should appear at noon or shortly after?

Louise Davis Answers:

Sometimes trying to be fashionable is downright rude. Your hostess stipulated 12:30, so I suggest that you arrive on the dot. There will be no need for a red face if you are first for no one can make a mistake by being punctual which is a must for a luncheon or dinner. It is likely that lunch won't be served at 12:30. A perfect hostess will allow time for late-comers, even though she hopes her guests will be on time. Furthermore, a social interlude before a luncheon or a dinner is always enjoyable. There must be extra time too for such things as removing wraps and introductions. Many a pot on the kitchen stove will stand too long awaiting those thoughtless guests who think it's smart, even dramatic to arrive late. Refreshments for parties, such as a tea, can stand without spoiling, therefore guests don't have to be so punctual.

Your Problems

Lonely Teenager Blames Limp For Lack of Friendship, Dates

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a very lonely teenager. Polio has left me with a withered arm and a limp. People shun me.

I've read books on how to get along with people, but they don't apply to cripples. My parents have had nice parties and invited kids my age. They come but they don't invite me back. I've asked girls to go out with me, but they find polite excuses to refuse.

I'm not hard to look at and my condition isn't bad enough to create pity. The worst part of it is the limp.

I'm not feeling sorry for myself because I know there are many handicapped people in this world who are a lot worse off than I am. Can you help me? I'll settle for just one good friend.—C.V.

Dear C. V.: If you are lonely and without friends it's not because of the crippling effects of polio. The real handicap is your personality and your sour outlook on life. So long as you harbor the notion that a limp can stand in the way of your happiness—it will.

Millions of people who are not only handicapped but disfigured have a wide circle of interesting friends, lead full lives, are invited, included, elected to office and marry and have fine families.

Re-read some of those books and then put the information to use. Knowledge is of no value unless you put it to work for you.

* * *

DEAR ANN: We have two sons, 6 and 8. They like to watch TV, which my wife thinks is fine because it keeps them out of her hair for hours at a time.

The trouble is at night they sit in front of the TV until they are so tired they can't see straight. When I tell them to go to bed their mother says "Don't nag the kids. They'll go to bed when they're tired." She's a smart woman and is right about most things. Is she right about this?—Outnumbered

Dear Out: Have you ever seen a 6 or 8-year - old who will leave a TV set and go to bed because he's tired? Chances are good you never have and you never will.

Youngsters need to be guided and directed. Your wife is letting her children down. Step in, Dad.

* * *

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Necking and Petting — And How Far To Go" enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Spread of Easy Money Indefinite

Only Prime Rates Now Lower; Drop in Reserves Helpful

BY SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

New York —AP— How far and how fast will the trend toward easier money spread?

Short term interest rates turned downward months ago. The first signs of easier mortgage terms have been reported. But it was only this week that the banks took the first step toward making business borrowing ch aper

The stock market greeted the cut in basic interest charges by many top U.S. banks as a promise that easier money would needle a sluggish economy. The bulls saw it as inspired by government financial agencies and aimed at getting business on the go again.

Majority Higher

But many bankers aren t so sure that the easier money trend will spread to all bank borrowers soon. The cut to 4½ per cent from 5 per cent was in the prime rate And that is afforded only to a relatively few of the biggest corporations with the best credit ratings. These are the ones that are said to suffer least when money is tight and dear.

The majority of bank loans are made at higher rates. And each bank (with an eye on what his competitor is doing) determines how prime a customer is and how much he should pay for whatever money the bank is able and willing to lend him.

Even the charmed circle of those enjoying the prime, or lowest, interest charge is subject to contraction in times of tight money, or to expansion when the banks have idle money on their hands they need to put to work.

Many banks complain that they are loaned up at present. This is especially true in some booming sections, such as the Pacific coast, where bankers are saying there's no slackening in demand for loans and no reason for them to cut interest charges. And lending conditions and rates are often quite different in the big cities and the smaller ones.

Prune Prime List

While these banks may drop the prime rate, they can prune the prime list. And some say they may.

The federal reserve board has taken pains to see that the banks as a whole have more money they can lend. It has twice cut the costs of borrowing such money from federal reserve banks, once in June and again this month.

And between today and next Thursday it is relaxing various bank reserve requirements so that in all some 600 million dollars more will be made available. These added reserves could be used to swell bank loans by about 3½ billion dollars

This should come in handy, since demand for business loans normally turns upward in the fall as factories borrow to produce and retailers to carry stocks for the Christmas trade.

Bolster Profits

And the banks will find it handy in bolstering their profits. Some see the added supply of lendable funds and the expected increase in demand for loans bringing in enough to offset any cut in interest charges likely in the next few months.

But for the banks' customers the question still is: When can I get money cheaper and how much cheaper?

For the lucky few on the prime list the answer is a cut of one half of one per cent right now In terms of earnings this means a drop of one quarter of one per cent, since corporations charge off interest costs before splitting earnings with the U S. treasury roughly fifty-fifty

For the majority of bank borrowers the answer is It depends on the conditions where you are located, on your bank's opinion of your credit rating and whether it is already loaned up or has some idle money to lend

The Start of a New School Year came for about 350 students at Fox Valley Lutheran High school Tuesday as they crowded into the school auditorium for chapel service and a welcome and orientation assembly before classes began. Freshmen were at school Monday for their orientation program. The FVL students, among the first to return to classes, will be followed by Catholic students, Thursday, most rural students, next Tuesday, and Appleton public school students, next Wednesday.

Herter Pleased With OAS Results

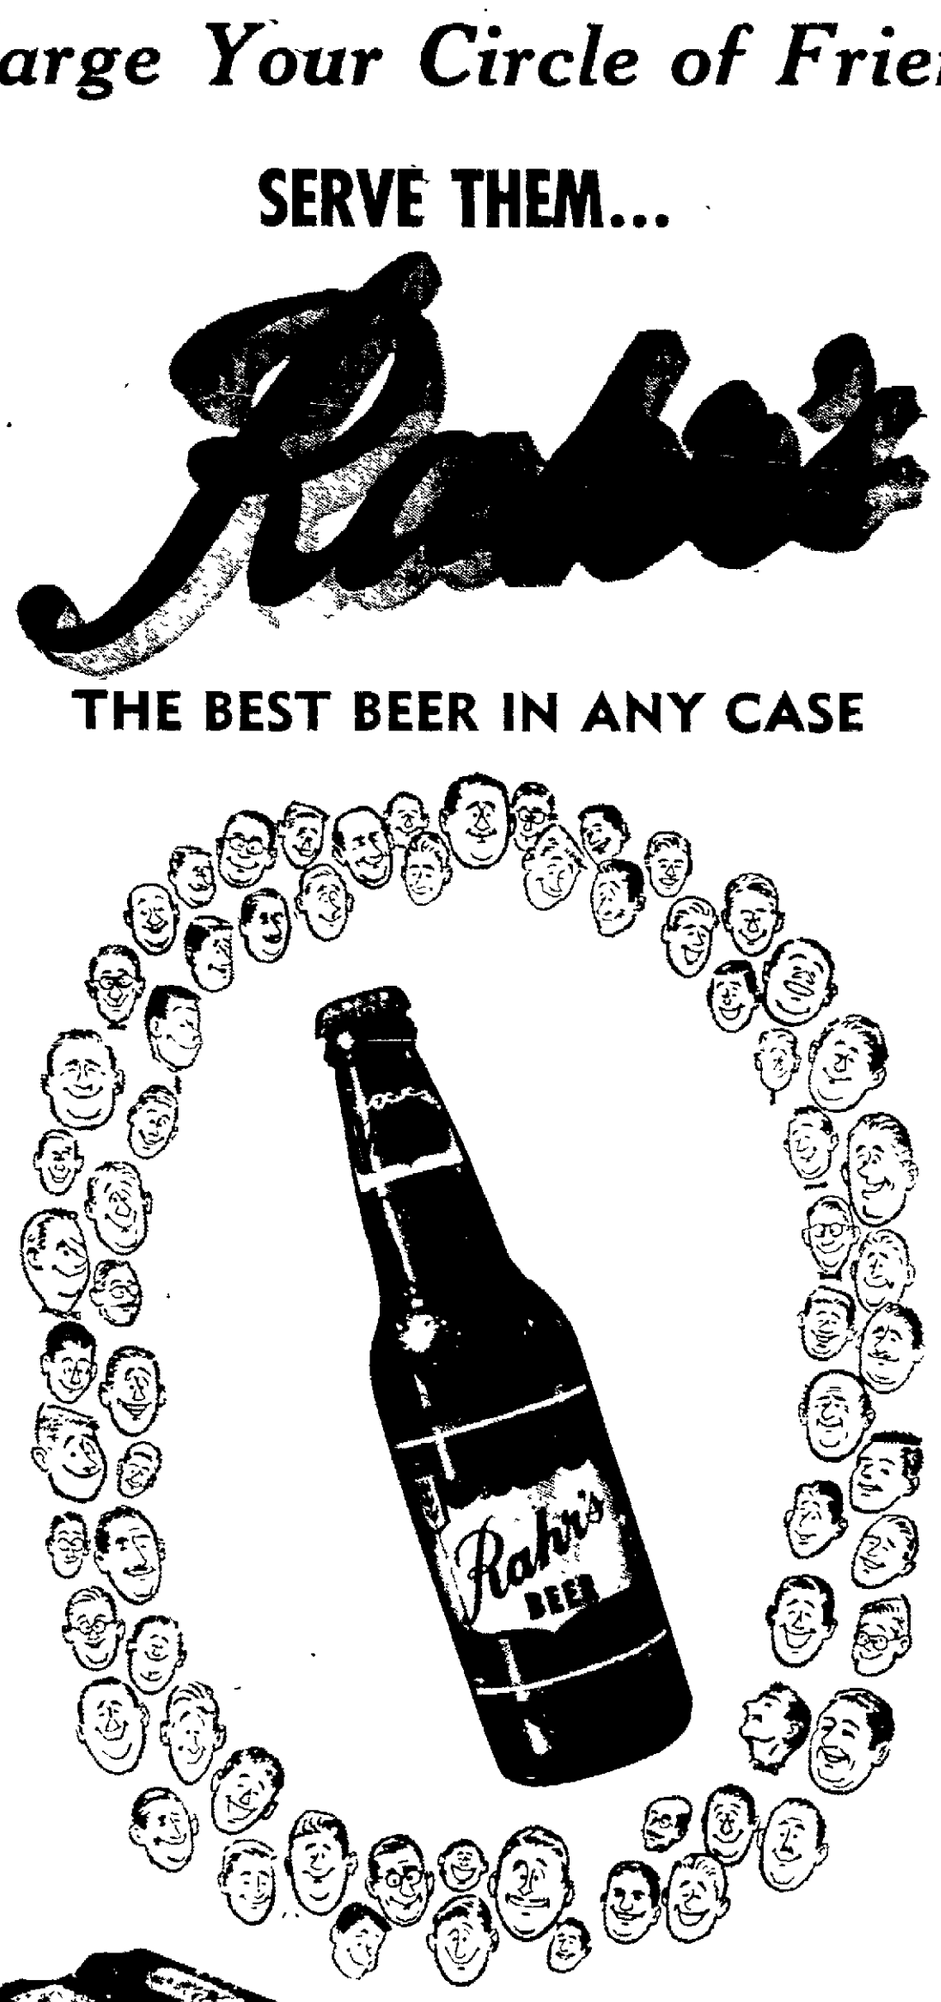

Washington —P— Sec. of State Christian A. Herter returned Tuesday from the western hemisphere foreign ministers conference terming the meeting evidence of solidarity in the Americas

"It was a good performance Herter said on his return from San Jose Costa Rica He added

"There should be no question in anyone's mind as to the success of the meetings . in strengthening the effectiveness of the inter-American system

"Through their representatives there the peoples of the hemisphere expressed their determination to protect their heritage of freedom — not only from Soviet intervention but also those within the hemisphere who would lend themselves as tools for such intervention."

He said the indictment of the Castro government of Cuba was clear and that measures taken against the Dominican government "are intended to contribute to the establishment there of a government which will be both representative and responsive to its obligations within the inter-American system."

The Marinade Is What makes this Lemony Lamb en Brochette a culinary success. To prepare: Blend one-half teaspoon Tabasco sauce, one-half cup salad oil, one-fourth cup lemon juice, one-fourth cup red wine, one tablespoon onion juice. Add to this one teaspoon dry mustard, one-half teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon basil. Lamb cubes are allowed to soak in marinade for five hours. Then on a skewer, alternate cubes of meat with onion chunks, mushrooms and tomato wedges.

'Bring the Family, We're Eating Out,' Welcome Summer Invitation

What is it that makes eating outdoors so enjoyable? Is it the food, the weather, the gayety of the surroundings or the fact that children aren't underfoot and the wide outdoors muffles their noisy play?

Without pondering the reason, we'll get on with the preparations for a Chick-N-Que, just another name for chicken cooked outdoors.

This one is planned for a family or neighborhood group with everyone's whims and demands attended to. The feature of the menu is the chicken, of course, with broiler-fryer chickens your best choice whether you grill halves, quarters or parts.

For the grown-ups there's a zesty Chick-N-Que Sauce and man-size pieces of chicken. Count on ½ broiler - fryer chicken for each grown - up. With children it is practically impossible to figure their appetite, but one large or two small pieces per child should do it. Cut chicken in sizes desired.

For the young children, the chicken pieces are smaller and the sauce is mild. The chicken is cooked in heavy duty aluminum foil.

Serve with the chicken a hearty green salad tossed with the best from the kitchen garden or the green grocer's stands. For the children, relishes to eat out of hand.

To quench outdoor thirst, make it well chilled soft drinks with milk for the little ones.

Dessert might be watermelon, fruit in season or a big sponge cake. It might be pie or pudding or whatever your specialty happens to be.

Chick-N-Que Sauce

- ½ cup corn oil
- ½ cup lemon juice or cider vinegar
- ½ cup water
- 1½ tablespoons salt
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 1½ teaspoons Tabasco sauce

Measure ingredients into a saucepan. Heat to boiling. Keep hot for basting. Mix thoroughly before each basting. Makes enough sauce for two to three broiler - fryer chickens.

Preparing the Fire

If it is possible with your outdoor grill, set the grill 12 inches or more from the heat; or as far as you can. Chicken should cook slowly for best results.

Start the fire about half an hour before cooking time. Prepackaged charcoal briquets with a quick - action starter are convenient to use and give a quick even heat. Lining the grill with aluminum foil before arranging the briquets makes clean-up easier.

Use enough briquets to cover the cooking area but pile them no more than two or three inches high. If additional briquets are needed, add them to the outside edge of the fire without disturbing the fire, and move them to the center or needed area after they have stopped flaming.

Grilling Chicken

Brush chicken parts with Chick-N-Que Sauce and place on grill skin side up. Prepare chicken parts for children by brushing with a mild sauce or brushing with corn oil then sprinkling with salt. Wrap in heavy, duty aluminum foil, place on grill. Cook until chicken is fork tender, turning and basting frequently.

Potato Chips Play an Important role in summer meals. They're excellent for picnics away from home, patio fare, snacks and add a nourshing but festive note to quick summer menus. Chips are popular for dips, in casserole dishes or in combination with soups, sandwiches and as a fine fill-in for a salad plate lunch.

Chick-N-Que Is Another name for chicken cooked out of doors. A zesty sauce is made for adult portions and a milder one for the children. The chicken is wrapped in aluminum foil after being brushed with the sauce. Then its grilled until fork tender.

Man's Recipe

HAYDN S. PEARSON

It is interesting to watch people—and yourself—change as the years roll by. When you are in the 20 to 40 bracket, it is difficult to understand how some folks can think as they do. You have undoubtedly known neighbors, friends and relatives who had strange slants of mind.

Pearson

But when you reach the point where you creak a bit in the mornings, and you deliberately figure ways to conserve energy, you suddenly realize that tolerance of others' points of view is one of the major secrets of happy living.

This easy lemon pie is an excellent dessert after a substantial meal. Thirty years ago I did not care for lemon flavor; now I enjoy its saliva-starting, tangy tartness.

Use one cup water, one cup sugar, three and a half tablespoons cornstarch, two eggs separated, three tablespoons lemon juice, grated rind one lemon, pinch of salt, two tablespoons sugar, a baked pie shell.

Put water and cup of sugar in pan and bring to boil. Add cornstarch moistened to a paste with cold water. Cook five minutes, or until really thick.

Add egg yolks beaten, lemon juice, rind and salt. Cook mixture a minute or two longer. Cool.

Beat the egg whites until stiff, and add the two tablespoons of sugar as you beat. Fold this tenderly into the cooled filling and pour into the baked shell. I like this pie and will be glad to hear your reaction if you try it.

Double Flavor Treat

These Cupcakes Will Please Any Family, Budget

Your family will rave about Banana-Nut Cupcakes, and your food budget will feel no strain! Cream one-half cup shortening and one cup sugar together until light and fluffy.

Stir in two beaten eggs. Add one cup mashed ripe bananas and one teaspoon lemon juice. Mix well. Sift together two cups sifted enriched flour, one tablespoon baking powder and one-half teaspoon salt. Add to creamed mixture and blend well. Add one cup chopped nuts.

Bake in greased muffin cups in moderate oven 20 to 25 minutes. When cool, spread tops with confectioners' sugar icing and sprinkle with one-fourth cup chopped nuts. Makes 18 small cakes.

Tangy Salad

Here's a tangy salad to whet summer doldrum appetites. Drain the olive oil from a can of Norway sardines. Arrange thin slices of tomato on a platter and cover with thin cucumber slices. Top with whole Norway sardines. Season to taste. Chill and serve with mayonnaise on the side.

Top AFL-CIO State Heads Renominated

Kennedy Extolled, Byrnes Berated by Principal Speaker

Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay—George A. Hab[illegible] and George W. Hall [illegible] renominated without opposition for second terms as [illegible] and secretary-treasurer respectively, at a Tuesday afternoon session of the state AFL-CIO convention at the Brown County Arena. Elections will be held this afternoon.

A 2-way battle for the vice-presidency was averted when William B. Angus of Madison withdrew after having been renominated. Still in the race are Howard F. Pellant and John W. Schmitt, Milwaukee. Pellant is a Democratic assemblyman and United Auto Workers official. Schmitt, member of the AFL-CIO state executive board, is a brewery worker.

Twenty-two candidates, including twelve incumbents, were nominated for seats on the 16-man executive board. Schmitt is one of four incumbents not renominated. Another is John Grant of Racine, resigned. In today's balloting the top 16 will be elected.

Incumbents renominated were Walter Burke, Gerald J. Enright, Arvel W. Kinney, Joseph J. Maley and Clarence Seefeld, all of Milwaukee; Orla Coleman, Madison; Leonard E. Peterson, Superior; Reno Plenge, Nekoosa; Lawrence Reno, Oshkosh; Paul L. Whiteside, Kenosha; Giles Wierman, Kewaskum, and Peter Zagrodnick, Cudahy.

Other Nominees

Remaining nominees are Tony L. Russo, Kenosha; Ralph Bowes, Peter Pavlovich, Alfred Holdorf and Edward L. Edwards, Milwaukee; Ray Blum, Janesville; Milan Stone, Eau Claire; Al Benson, Racine; Reinhard Ziehr, Wisconsin Rapids, and Ed Zeininger, Menasha.

Principal speaker at the afternoon session was James L. McDevitt, national director of the AFL-CIO's committee on political education (COPE). McDevitt warned delegates to study party platforms and candidates' voting records and to back those candidates who best represented their interests, regardless of party label.

He said that politics is not a matter of party labels. Actually, in congress, he charges, most anti-labor legislation bears neither Republican or Democratic labels but is the result of a coalition of southern Democrats and northern Republicans who are dominated by the National Association of Manufacturers. Such restrictive bills as Taft-Hartley and Landrum-Griffin, he said, were passed by this coalition, just as all social and favorable labor legisla-

...ion since 1934 had been defeated by it.

He explained the recent AFL-CIO endorsement of the Democratic ticket as the result of a study of the records of the candidates and the party platforms. Kennedy, he said, had been generally favorable to labor, whereas Nixon had never shown anything to indicate sympathy with or understanding of the problems of working people.

Among Wisconsin congressmen, McDevitt ripped into the records of Reps Van Pelt, Laird and John W. Byrnes. He was particularly critical of Byrnes whom, he declared, "never had a right vote, even by mistake."

McDevitt declared that CO-PE was not trying to force anyone to vote a particular way. Voting was up to the individual, he stated, but he pointed out that labor needed only a few additional seats in each house of congress to destroy the southern Democrat-northern Republican coalition.

Appleton Driver Escapes Serious Injury in Crash

Kiel — Willis Duwe, 27, of 2618 N. Richmond street, Appleton, escaped with head and scalp lacerations when he drove his car into the side of a semi-truck trailer about 12:08 a.m. today on Highway 57 on the viaduct north of here.

Ruben F. Wendt, 40, Green Bay, the truck driver, told county police he pulled to the shoulder of the road and slowed down when he noticed Duwe's car approaching. He said Duwe struck his truck while he was on the shoulder.

County police estimated the damage at $2,500. Duwe was treated by a Kiel physician.

AFL-CIO Endorses Gov. Gaylord Nelson

Nine Democrats, One Republican Receive Support in Wisconsin Congressional Races

Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay — The Wisconsin AFL - CIO convention this morning endorsed Gov. Gaylord Nelson for reelection and pledged at least $10,000 for his campaign. The money is the state labor organization's share of the national committee on political education (COPE) allotment for the state gubernatorial contest.

The convention also voted to spend $18,500 for nine Democratic candidates for congress and Rep. Alvin O'Konski, Mercer, Republican incumbent in the Tenth district.

Democratic congressional candidates endorsed include Milo Singler, Shiocton, Eighth district, and Kenneth Traeger, Gresham, Seventh district; Gerald Flynn, incumbent, First district; Robert Kastenmaier, incumbent, Second district; Norman Clapp, Third district; Clement Zablocki, incumbent, Fourth district; Henry Reuss, incumbent, Fifth district; James Megellas, Sixth district, and Lester Johnson, incumbent, Ninth district.

In addition to Gov. Nelson, endorsements for state offices include Lt. Gov. Philleo Nash, Atty. Gen. John Reynolds, and William Evans, candidate for secretary of state.

COPE is engaged in a program of mass voter registration and turnout. Its funds come from voluntary contributions by individual union members.

Echo to Make Two Passes Each Evening

The Echo communications satellite will be visible twice each evening this week in the Fox Cities area, weather permitting.

Today—9:13 p. m. and 11:18 p. m.

Thursday—8:50 p. m. and 10:55 p. m.

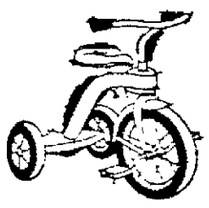

Friday—8:28 p. m. and 10:33 p. m.

Saturday—8:05 p. m. and 10:10 p. m.

The satellite will appear slightly north of west and cross the sky toward the southeast. It will enter the earth's shadow when it is about two-thirds of the way up in the sky and about due west, Gale V. Highsmith, computer for the Milwaukee Astronomical society, says.

The satellite appears as a bright star moving rather slowly. When it passes into the earth's shadow, it no longer reflects light from the sun and becomes invisible.

U.S. Shot Putters, Sprinters Qualify

Schuler and Mulliken Cop Swim Titles

BY TED SMITS

Rome — (AP) — America's husky shot put aces, favored to make a sweep of the medals, led the way today into the opening of the Olympic track and field competition, where the United States hopes to overhaul Russia in the unofficial team point standings.

Bill Nieder, Dallas Long and 2-time champion Parry

AP Wirephoto

Bill Mulliken, 21-year-old Champaign, Ill., swimming standout, captured the men's 200-meter breast stroke championship Tuesday in the Olympic games.

Nieder, the former University of Kansas ace who holds the world record at 65 feet, 7 inches, and the other two Yanks easily tossed the shot past the 54-11¾ qualifying minimum.

Reach Second Round

The United States, trailing Russia by 26 points, also got rolling in its pursuit of points as Dave Sime, Ray Norton and Frank Budd eased into the second round of the 100-meter dash along with co-world record holders Armin Hary of Germany and Harry Jerome of Canada.

The only other track and field event to be decided today, however, was the women's broad jump—where only one U.S. gal, the 1956 silver medal winner, Willye White of Greenwood, Miss., qualified.

Great performances in swimming Tuesday that won two gold medals gave the U. S. team 72 points, only one behind Germany and 26 points behind the Russians who were capitalizing in fields they were expected to dominate.

The swimming duels electrified a crowd of 10,000. And there were offbeat incidents to magnify the interest. Carolyn Schuler of Orinda, Calif., broke her own Olympic record in winning the finals of the 100-meter butterfly race. Bill Mulliken of Champaign, Ill., triumphed in the 200-meter breaststroke finals.

AHS' Dillon Begins Rebuilding Job With Eager Group of Terrors

4 Offensive and 3 Defensive Regulars Return From '59 FRVC Runnerup Team

BY MIKE DREW
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Monday's and Tuesday's opening workouts showed Dillon just what he'd expected during the off - season. The Terrors will again be big—as they have been during their recent successful years. And, the 1960 candidates are as eager as any group which has confronted Dillon in his 17 years of running the AHS gridiron controls.

But, graduation has taken a bigger bunch of stars than he's lost at one time in a long while. Linemen Jim Manier, Dick Heiss, Tom Kottke, Dick Wankey and Ron Tollefson were a hefty group of all-conference performers, end

Crowd of 41,143 Pushes Attendance At LA Over 2 Million

(From AP Dispatches)

In other action, San Francisco nipped Philadelphia, 2-1, Chicago topped Cincinnati, 5-4; and Milwaukee stopped St. Louis, 10-0.

Thorsland's Win Gives Foxes Split

Sets Club Record With No. 13; Anthony Swats 2 Homers as 'Magic Number' Is Cut to 2

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

Though Fox Cities' history-making annexation of the Three-I league pennant was delayed at least 24 hours Tuesday night, pitcher Arne Thorsland authored an historic footnote to the 1960 Foxes' saga.

In hurling the Foxes to an 8-1, doubleheader - squaring triumph at Goodland field, Thorsland became the biggest winner in the club's 3-year history.

Hurls 13th Win

The strapping (6-foot-4, 200 pounds) Thorsland, whose delivery, some baseball men claim, is reminiscent of the great Walter Johnson's, now owns 13 victories, a total that surpasses the record of 12 set by Fred Bruckbauer in 1959.

Topeka won the 7-inning opener of the bargain bill, 12-5, to ruin the Foxes' hopes of clinching at least a share of the championship. As it turned out, the Foxes couldn't have sewed up the pennant even with a double win since runnerup Sioux City defeated Burlington.

Tonight may be the night that the Foxes wrap up the first pennant in the area's modern pro baseball history. They play Topeka in a "Gasoline Alley" night game at 8 p.m. Complimentary tickets for the affair have been distributed by area filling stations.

The brilliant Braves' southpaw, pitching as well as at any time in his illustrious career, fired his third shutout of the season Tuesday night and the fiftieth of his career as he defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 10-0, on a 5-hitter.

It was Spahn's sixth straight victory and ninth in 10 decisions since the All-Star break. His season record is 17-7.

The victory enabled the Braves to snap a losing streak at three, and move back into second place, a fraction of a point in front of the Cards. Milwaukee and St. Louis are 6½ games behind the Pirates.

'Make or Break'

12 Hits

While Spahn dazzled the Cards, the Braves erupted for 12 hits off three St. Louis pitchers. The biggest blow was a 3-run homer by Hank Aaron, his thirty - fourth, which capped the scoring in the eighth inning.

Aaron and Joe Adcock each drove in four runs. Aaron drove in his first with a harsh infield single in a 4-run seventh.

Vince Warns That Cardinals Will be Tough

Brown and Jarus Run With First Offensive Unit

Green Bay —(AP)— Coach Vince Lombardi continued to tell his Green Bay Packers today that they aren't as good as the score they ran up against the Chicago Bears last Saturday would indicate. The Packers beat the Bears in an exhibition football game, 35-7.

The Bears stopped themselves, Lombardi said, adding that the Packers can't expect to have that happen very often when they meet other National Football league teams this year.

The Packers resumed training Tuesday in preparation for their next exhibition game to be played here on Monday, Labor day with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Will Be Tough

Lombardi warned his men that the Cardinals will be tough and that the Packers can't expect to get the breaks like they did against the Bears. The Cardinals beat the champion Baltimore Colts, 31-21, in aff exhibition game last week.

The Packer coach hopes to sharpen his running attack before the next game. He tried two new men as offensive backs Tuesday, using Bob Jarus, a fullback from Purdue and Don Brown, a former Cardinal halfback, with his first string offensive unit. Both are good runners.

The Packers plan to make the Labor day game a "Family day" event, with children under 12 being admitted for 50 cents. About 50 autographed footballs will be given to the youngsters.

Beccera Declares He's Retiring After Losing Bout

Juarez, Mexico —(AP)— Elroy Sanchez of Juanajuato, Mexico, knocked out World Bantamweight Champion Jose Beccera in the eighth round of a non-title bout Tuesday night while 18,000 fans screamed.

Feels Like a Father

Jesse Owens Harbors No Jealousy Though His Records are Broken

BY WILL GRIMSLEY

Rome —(AP)— The rise of a new and phenomenal generation of record-smashing track champions has left no pain or jealousy in the heart of Jesse Owens, the all-time great of America's Olympians.

"I feel like a father who has come to watch his successful children," the brilliant Ohio State athlete of the 1930s said today.

"It gives me a wonderful sensation to watch them win and to hang up new records. I feel that I have had a part in it."

It was Owens who on an unforgettable afternoon, May 25, 1935, at Ann Arbor, Mich., set four records within the space of an hour. One of them — the broad jump record — endured until Ralph Boston bettered it a couple of weeks before the opening of these 17th Olympic games.

4 Gold Medals

In the 1936 games at Berlin, with Hitler goose-stepping toward World war II, the lithe Negro from Cleveland won four gold medals in an amazing one-man show. He won the 100 and 200 meter races, the broad jump and shared in the sprint relay.

His records in the 100 10.3 seconds and the broad jump 26 feet, 5¾ inches still are the targets of the world's present stars during the next ten days.

"As my records fell, one by one I found myself with mixed emotions," Owens said.

"At first, I was resentful. It was like owning a toy and treasuring it for many years —then having it suddenly snatched away.

"There was disappointment and a great feeling of emptiness. Then I realized that I had set the records which drove these boys to new heights. It gave me a wonderful warm feeling."

Owens today is lean and hard, although at 185 he is 20 pounds above his weight of the 1936 games. Tremendous energy and drive give him a look of youthfulness.

Sentiment Smothered

Although one of the outstanding athletes ever to compete in this mighty international sports festival, Owens found sentiment smothered by cold bureaucracy when he sought to pay a visit to Olympic Village Tuesday.

"They knew me, but that made no difference—I had no credentials," Owens said. "I got in on a trainer's badge." Two weeks shy of his forty-seventh birthday, Jesse works with the Illinois Youth commission out of Chicago. His job is kids—keeping them out of trouble, rehabilitating the delinquents.

"I love all the athletes, but I have three favorites on the present squad," he said. "John Thomas, Rafer Johnson and Ralph Boston.

Nice Kid

"As for Thomas, it's not that I am awed because he can high-jump 7 feet 3 inches. It's just that I admire the way he does it. He is such a nice kid."

"I think Johnson is fantastic. I always thought anybody who ran over 220 yards had to be crazy. But this fellow works his heart out for two days in 10 different sports for one lousy medal. It's the test of a real man.

"I don't know Boston well, but I like him. When he jumped 26 feet 11¾ inches to break my record recently, he told somebody that I had given him an okay, that I had said I was tired of the old record, anyway.

"I really didn't say it. It was a good thought on Boston's part and he was dead right."

Big Joe Adcock Stars With Long Hits, Tenderay Steaks

The Braves' Joe Adcock is one of the longest hitters ever to play in the big leagues. He holds the record for the longest home run at County Stadium a 470-ft. blast into the pine trees behind the center field fence.

Big Joe makes a hit with Braves fans when he slams one of his tape-measure specialties. And he makes a hit with the Adcock family when he works at the outdoor grill. "I like to grill Tenderay steaks from Krambo," he says. "Tenderay's flavor and tenderness makes me a real star in the cook-out league."

U. S. Choice beef earns the name Tenderay only after forty-four hours of extra care in specially-lighted, rigidly climate-controlled rooms. It's this extra care that gives Tenderay the flavor and tenderness that makes it the favorite of men who know their steaks.

Tenderay gives you more for your money, too. Every Tenderay steak is triple-trimmed to remove excess fat, waste and bone before it is weighed and priced.

Extra flavor, extra tenderness, extra value make Tenderay Fox Cities best buy in steaks. Get Tenderay this week at Krambo. And if you don't see the cut you want, press the "Special Service" button. The Krambo meat man will help you get just what you need.

Chisox Edge Nats, 11-10, In 10 Innings

Yanks Stop A's to Retain 1½-Game Edge Over Orioles; Runnels Goes on Hitting Spree

By The Associated Press

It will be a long time before American league fans forget Tuesday night.

In Washington, there was a wild, wacky 10-inning spectacular in which the White Sox and Senators scored one run between them in the first seven innings and 20 runs in the next three, Chicago won, 11-10.

Batting Rampage

In Boston, the Red Sox took both ends of a twi-night doubleheader from Detroit after 7½ hours and 24 innings. Boston won the opener, 5-4, in 15 innings and the second game, 3-2, in 10 innings.

Boston's Pete Runnels went on a batting rampage with nine hits. Boston Manager Mike Higgins also went wild, charging out to the mound to square off with Jim Bunning after the Tiger pitcher had beaned Don Buddin with a pitch.

In New York, a torrential rain and flash floods kept many would-be Yankee stadium customers home, but those who made it saw the Yankees rally in the ninth to defeat Kansas City, 3-2, and maintain their 1½-game lead over Baltimore.

Only in Baltimore, there was no untoward incident as the Orioles whipped the Indians, 4-1.

For seven innings in Washington, the fans saw a tight pitching duel between the White Sox' Frank Baumann and the Senators' Pedro Ramos. Washington led, 1-0, at the end of seven.

Chicago took a 2-1 lead in the eighth on two walks and singles by pinch-hitter Ted Kluszewski, Roy Sievers and Minnie Minoso. Washington bounced back with four runs in its half, three coming on Jim Lemon's thirty-first home run.

The White Sox roared back with five runs in the ninth, Minoso's 3-run homer giving them a 7-5 lead. Washington tied it on Billy Gardner's 2-run blow. In the tenth, Nellie Fox doubled home two runs and Gardner's wild throw gave Chicago two more for an 11-7 lead. The Senators bounced back with three runs on a double by Bob Allison, a triple by pinch-hitter Julio Becquer and a home run by Lennie Green.

Sixth Hit

Runnels' sixth hit, a double in the fifteenth, scored Frank Malzone with the winning run for Boston in its first game. A throwing error by Tiger shortstop Chico Fernandez permitted pinch-hitter Tom Brewer to score the winning run in the tenth inning of the second game. "Rocky" Colavito had tied the score in the tenth with his twenty-seventh home run for Detroit. Runnels added three hits in the nightcap to tie Chicago's Al Smith at .324 for the batting lead.

In the seventh inning of the second game, Buddin was hit on the forehead by loser Bunning's pitch. That brought Higgins racing out of the dugout to charge Bunning with deliberate beaning.

Three ex-Kansas City players starred in the Yankee victory. With the score tied, 2-2, in the ninth, Joe DeMaestri, traded by the A's to the Yankees last winter, singled and was sacrificed to second. Hector Lopez, another ex-Athletic, singled DeMaestri home with the winning run. Cletis Boyer, still another old K-C player, drove in the first two Yankee runs with a home run, his twelfth.

strikeout victims to bring his 1960 total to 163 in 142 and 1-3 innings. Arne's amazing 2-year pro total now stands at 343 whiffs in only 249 and 1-3 frames.

His 13-4 current record combined with his 1959 Class D Appalachian league mark for an abbreviated season adds up to a 22-9 career record. Thorsland has won five straight times since Aug. 3 and has taken nine of his last 10 decisions.

Hits Lead-Off Homer

Anthony led off the 4-run second inning against Namon Johnson with his seventh homer of the season—a 350 footer. Bob Saverine's sacrifice fly and Powell's 2-run whack to center field rounded out the big inning.

Two walks, Powell's run-scoring single and an error lengthened the Foxes' lead to 6-0 in the fourth.

Topeka Retaliates

The Foxes had opened a 3-0 lead in the first 2½ innings of the opener. But, the Reds, who acted as the home club for this make-up of a Topeka rain-out, retaliated with two big innings. They hit the Foxes with a 7-spot in the third and a 5-spot in the sixth.

After two hits and a walk had filled the bases against starter Bob Cooper in the Topeka third, Dashner singled home two runs. Pavelitch's single tied the game and brought in Dick Hunt from the bullpen. Larry Rancourt promptly beat out a bunt to fill the bases.

Vic Davalillo, an outfielder-pitcher, struck the decisive blow—a 2-run double past Powell. It turned into a 4-run play when Johnson's throw from right field got past third base, permitting two more runs to score.

12th Split of Year

Saverine made the circuit for the Foxes in the first inning on two errors and two stolen bases. Powell singled in the frame's second run.

The Foxes added one in the third on Montgomery's bunt and a pair of errors and rested their case in the fifth on Anthony's 2-run single through the box.

The split was the twelfth for the Foxes in the 27 doubleheaders they've played this weather - plagued season. They've won both ends 12 times and have lost a pair only thrice.

Fox Cities Manager Earl Weaver was ejected from the first game for a too-strenuous protest of a called ball in the fifth inning but returned to the coaching lines for the nightcap.

Dick Sucher Qualifies for U. S. Tourney

Milwaukee —(AP)— Dick Sucher, of Milwaukee, qualified for the U. S. Amateur Golf tournament Tuesday when he scored 72-73—145 to lead the Wisconsin contingent that sought a berth in the national meet.

Watler Atwood of Madison had 72-74—146 for second place in the qualifying test at Brynwood Country club. He will be the first alternate to the meet.

Other scores included: Fred C. Mosley, Madison, 73-74—147; Ken Berke, Milwaukee, 72-76—1 8; Jackie Allen, Madison, 77-71—148; Sam Ruskin, Milwaukee, 74-78—152; Steve Smith, Green Bay, 72-81—153; Jim Harding, Milwaukee, 84-81—165.

Cowboys Cut 5 Players, 48 are Still on Roster

Delafield —(AP)— The Dallas Cowboys of the National Football league, have cut five men from their roster.

The Cowboys, who are training at St. John's Military academy, released Earl Randolph, an end from Arizona State; Jim O'Hara, a center from Wayne; Bernie Buzynski, an end from Holy Cross; Frank Klein, a guard from Northern Texas State and Pete Johnson, a defensive back obtained from the Chicago Bears.

Dallas still has 48 men on the roster but four are on the injured list.

Two of the injured players were sent back to Dallas Tuesday for examination by physicians there. They are Ray Fisher, a defensive tackle obtained from the St. Louis Cardinals, who has trouble with his knee and Don Perkins, a halfback from New Mexico, who has a foot injury.

U. S. Adds Two Gold Medals In Swimming

Wood of Portland, Ore., who was just about in the lead at the turn in the butterfly and suddenly bumped into the lane buoy. She grabbed the chain and seemingly quit. She climbed out of the pool and ran into hiding, in shame. Later, she explained she had swallowed water and "could not go on."

Germany, pushing in the team battle, got a great boost in the aquatics from Dresden's diving doll, Ingrid Kramer. She copped the 10-meter (33 feet) platform title from Paula Jean Pope, Santa Ana, Calif., America's veteran of three Olympics. Paula burst into tears, knowing this was her last crack at Olympic competition.

In the heat won by the great young Australian, John Konrads, Kolesnikov dived into the water from lane 7, then splashed around as if he were frolicking on a Florida beach. He wasn't ill, officials who checked said later, he apparently was "just having some fun."

By the time Konrads had sped to victory in the heat, the Russian was still splashing along and had covered less than half the distance.

The Russians sprang two surprises. Viktor Kapitonov won the 175.3-kilometer (108.6 miles) cycling road race, beating out Italy's Livio Trape, in a sport Moscow never has bothered much with before.

And in fencing, the Soviet Viktor Jdanovich captured Russia's first fencing gold medal, the men's individual foils. The U.S. Arthur Axelrod, of New York, at 39, won the third place bronze-first time since 1932 that the Americans had done so well at fencing.

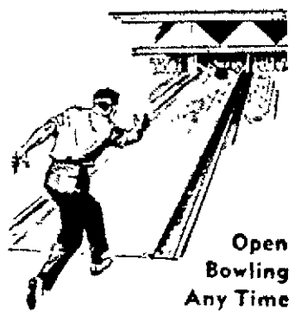

One of the great disappointments for the American team came in the wrestling. The last three U.S. entries were eliminated as Russia and her satellite East European comrades completely dominated the Greco-Roman division.

In the late morning men's track events, the three U. S. entries qualified for the second round in the 800 meters. Ernie Cunliffe of Claremont, Calif., eased in with 1:48.8, and Jerry Siebert of Willits, Calif., had 1:48.9. Tom Murphy of Brooklyn qualified by winning the final heat in 1:52.1.

A second U.S. rowing crew, also from Lake Washington, looked for another chance in the repechages after being beaten in the four oars without cox by Britain in the final 100 meters. The Yanks were Art Ayrault, Ted Nash, John Sayre and Dick Wailes.

AHS' Dillon Begins His Rebuilding Job

Cal Kluess and the versatile Dave LaViolette were also picked as tops in the conference. An injury in the club's lone setback (to champion Green Bay West) kept talented quarterback John Nussbaum from a chance for post-season honors.

Dillon isn't wasting time in his efforts to find replacements for this outstanding gang. In Appleton's only 2-a-day drills Monday and Tuesday he drove his players hard. He has not been known as a tough taskmaster, using other methods to get good results.

Once Daily

The Terrors were to swing into once-daily sessions today. The coach wasn't sure Tuesday whether he'd practice Saturday or Monday (Labor day) but he thought he might give his troops a long weekend. "They've worked pretty hard," he said.

The leading candidates reported in pretty good physical condition. A group of about 20 of them practiced together, on their own, about twice a week all summer.

It appears that senior Dick Bloomer has inherited the first team signal-calling job from Nussbaum. Dick hasn't got the passing arm of John (who could sail the pigskin 70 yards in the air) but he may prove to be a bit steadier. He's worked hard during the summer and is in excellent shape.

Hietpas to Start

Another certain backfield starter is Marv Hietpas, with end Wayne Polizin one of the only two both-ways operators returning from the 1959 powerhouse. Hietpas, whose forte is crunching straight-ahead power, will play either fullback (most probably) or left half.

Don Brock, who exhibited exciting break-away speed on several occasions last fall, will see plenty of action at one of the halfback spots. Bill Hopkins, a sawed-off little competitor of about 5 feet, 5 inches, will give 'em all a battle for the other.

Battling for first team halfback jobs will be junior Cary Anderson, a star of the 1959 JVs, and Pete Kafura, a "phenom" as a ninth grader who has yet to come into his own after two years on the varsity.

Will be Strong

End will definitely be a Terror strength. Three of the eight returning letter winners are wingmen? Polzin, Jerry Gendron and Dave Walter.

Walter was one of the league's finest defensive players as a junior. The long and lanky Gendron has a fine pair of hands and good speed. He's been kept out of early contact because he hadn't completed WIAA registration, but he has shown good promise as a punter.

Polzin is a good pass-catching threat who doubled as a regular defensive corner-man in 1960. Another good end is golfing star John Manier, who was running in Gendron's spot in Tuesday's workout

AHS lacks experience in the interior line where only two letterwinners — Ed Felauer and Larry Feistel—return.

Cary Anderson and Clark are the only juniors in the entire group. Of the 44 drilling with the varsity Tuesday, almost 75 per cent (30) were seniors. The only sophomore on the varsity at present is Mike Woehler, who is in a race with John Wordell for the second team quarterback job.

The other sophs are working with JV Coaches Gene Vanden Heuvel and Keith Kohlman. Herdis McCrary, Jr., is again assisting Dillon, coaching the line. The non-conference opener comes two weeks from Friday, at Menasha.

Foxes Set Player Appreciation And Inter-Faith Night Events

Friday evening's opening contest of an 8-game Fox Cities Foxes - Green Bay Dodgers series will be "Player Appreciation Night" at Goodland field.

The Appleton Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the 8:30 tilt, with all tickets available at 25 cents. Tickets can be obtained from area business places and will also be sold at the gate the night of the game. Proceeds from the promotion will go towards purchasing gifts for the players and Manager Earl Weaver.

Inter-Faith Night

Sunday night, the Foxes meet the Dodgers in an 8 p. m. "Inter-Faith Night" game at the park. Regular ticket prices will prevail. Forty per cent of the ticket purchase price will be returned to the church of the buyer's choice.

Monday (Labor Day) night a team picture will be passed out free to each person attending. If it rains Sunday, Monday will be Inter-Faith night, with a doubleheader beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Team pictures will also be passed out as long as they last at Wednesday evening's contest with Green Bay, the final tilt of the home season.

The Foxes play at Green Bay in a doubleheader Saturday and in single games Tuesday and Thursday evenings. A caravan of cars and buses to Green Bay are slated for the Thursday game (the season's finale). Persons interested in joining the caravan can call the Foxes' office.

'Bobo' Olson Meets Jones In Chicago

This will be the first time Olson has appeared in Chicago since he lost his title here to "Sugar" Ray Robinson in 1955. Robinson knocked him out in the fourth round of that match.

The bout will be televised by the ABC network at 9 p.m. (CDT).

The 32-year-old Olson, fighting as a light heavy since he returned from a brief retirement in 1956, won his last eight fights and has moved to sixth place among 175-pound contenders.

Jones, 24-year - old New Yorker, is undefeated in 15 professional fights and now ranks fourth among the light-heavies.

Rams Washing Hands Of Billy Cannon Case, Hirsch Announces

Los Angeles—Elroy Hirsch, Los Angeles Rams' general manager, washed his hands of the celebrated Billy Cannon case with these words:

Hirsch said Tuesday the Rams are dropping the right to appeal a federal court decison which sent Cannon, former Louisiana State University All-America halfback, to Houston of the American Football league.

The Rams claimed Cannon signed to play for them in the National Football league but later signed a more remunerative contract with Houston.

One Step Closer

AL Will Probably Expand to 10 Teams for 1962 Campaign

New York — (AP) — The American league was one step closer to 10 clubs today, with the strong probability the two still unnamed new members will be playing baseball in 1962.

The league brass meeting here Tuesday in one of its two resolutions stipulated that the proposed expansion to 10 members "be effected not later than Dec. 1, 1961." The resolution was passed unanimously.

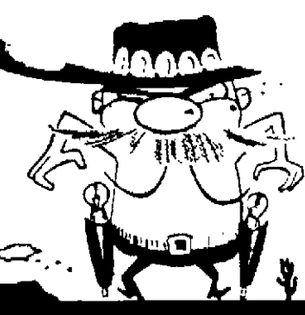

The other resolution stipulated that each of the two new members "shall provide and conduct a professional club in such city as shall be approved by three-quarters vote of the present members of the league." This also was passed unanimously.

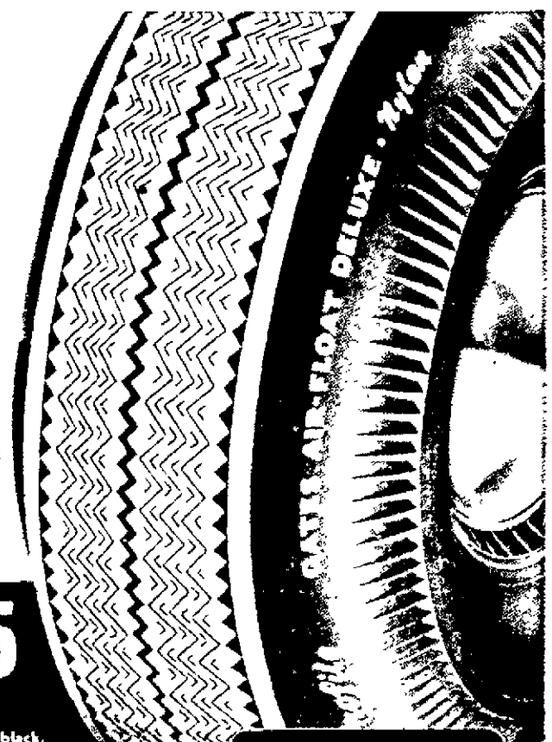

In making their decision, the club representatives used material from the report of their realignment committee, which met with the National league's expansion committee and the Continental league in Chicago, Aug. 2.

The next meeting is scheduled immediately following the World Series, and it probably will be a joint meeting with the National league, which has yet to hear the report of its expansion committee.

Bleier's Duels VFW '9' for City Softball Crown Tonight

Barmen's Werner Pitches 1-Hit, 2-1 Victory Over UCT Entry

Bleier's bar, of the Classic league, and VFW, of the Fraternal circuit, will meet at 6 p.m. today on the Wilson school diamond for the Appleton city softball championship.

Bleier's shaded Fraternal league champion UCT, 2-1, Tuesday on "Bud" Werner's dazzling 1-hitter. VFW outdueled Riverside of the Classic league, 3-1, as winner Don Calmes, Jr., and loser Norm McIntyre each yielded but five hits.

Veteran hurling star Werner struck out seven and walked one in stopping UCT. The losers had taken a 1-0 lead in the top of the fourth but Bleier's came back in the bottom half of the inning on a run-scoring triple by "Bud" Everts.

In the winning Bleier's sixth, Bruce Kobs singled and Werner walked and then Jim Kirkland singled for the game-winning run. Bob Duszak got the only hit off Werner.

Calmes struck out none and walked one in hurling his club into the finals. McIntyre fanned three and walked two. VFW grabbed a 1-0 lead in the second but Riverside tied the score in the fifth on singles by Gordon Gerrits, Bob Kiel and Tom Grishaber.

In the 2-run VFW sixth, catcher Weyenberg singled and there was a 4-base error.

lected two RBI's with a 2-out, bases-loaded single in the first inning off starter Ernie Broglio. He walked in a similar bases-jammed situation to force in another run in the third.

Broglio settled down after that, but the Braves went to work after he left for a pinch-hitter in the seventh.

Touch Off Attack

Aaron then singled off the pitcher and when the ball eluded the shortstop Bruton came all the way around. Wes Covington singled for another tally and Adcock then laid down a squeeze bunt scoring Mathews. Johnny Logan's hit to right accounted for the fourth tally of the inning.

Boozer Hurls 1-Hit Victory

Blanks Braves; Sioux City Rolls Over Burlington

By The Associated Press

What was intended to be a drag bunt wound up as a bloop single and deprived Des Moines' John Boozer of a no-hitter in the Three-I league Tuesday night.

Cedar Rapids' Charlie Smith came up to bat in the seventh inning and, obviously trying to drag the ball past the pitcher, hit a blooper that fell safely in short right. That was the Braves' only offensive gesture in an 8-0 setback.

Boozer struck out nine and walked only one. Gene Kerns and Larry Cutright each batted across two runs for Des Moines.

Topeka held Fox Cities to a split in their doubleheader. Topeka won the opener, 12-5, but then lost, 8-1.

Sioux City rolled to an 11-2 victory over Burlington as Junior Reedy drove in five runs with a three-run homer and two singles. Lincoln won the first game at Green Bay, 6-0, but the Dodgers came back to get a split of the doubleheader, 12-7.

Official Start Of UW Drills Set Thursday

About 70 prospects — only nine of them lettermen from last year's Big Ten championship team—are expected to be on hand for the preview to Thursday's official start of practice sessions.

Fifth Season

Coach Milt Bruhn, starting his fifth season as Badger head man, has indicated he'll rely on a 3-platoon system to get the most from a sophomore-studded crop of talent.

Under the system, Bruhn's starting eleven would see service on both offense and defense and second and third team members would operate as units in their respective specialties.

Fred Steinke Shoots 76—Same as His Age

Fred Steinke, 222 N. Durkee, shot his age in golf at the Reid Municipal course recently. Steinke, who is 76, toured the 18 holes in a 76, four over par.

Golfer Has Improbable Ace With a Bad Shot

Minneapolis — (AP) — The most improbable hole-in one made so far this year undoubtedly belongs to golfer A. A. Lenhart.

Golf Digest, which keeps a record of aces, says Lenhart was teeing off on the 135-yard third hole at Minnesota Valley course here, but topped his shot. The ball headed for a water hazard, skipped three times on the water, hit the bank, bounced high in the air and fell into the hole.

Fraser, Laver Seeded 1-2 in U. S. Tourney

Defending Champ Considered 'Sitting Duck' by Insiders

New York — (AP) — Can Neale Fraser repeat as United States national singles tennis champion?

Most of the players—the top ones—in the tournament which opens Friday in Forest Hills, privately think Fraser is a sitting duck.

"He could win it," said Adrian Quist, manager of the touring Australian team, today, "but Rod Laver has been playing awfully well."

Hardly an expression of confidence in Fraser, who last year not only won the United States title, but won two singles and shared in the doubles in leading Australia to victory over the Americans in the Davis cup challenge round.

Not Impressive

Since then, though, Fraser has been anything but impressive. He lost the Australian title to Laver, and failed to come through at Wimbledon.

Fraser and Roy Emerson won the national doubles last week and it could be that Fraser is pulling his game up to a peak for the nationals.

Then came Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, Earl Buchholz of St. Louis; Bernard "Tut" Bartzen of San Angelo, Tex.; Roy Emerson of Australia; Ron Holmberg of Brooklyn, and Bobby Wilson of Great Britain.

Food Handlers Law Discussed by Board

Will Study Federal Regulations To Determine Local Application

Should Appleton have its own food handlers ordinance or should it adopt the federal regulations?

The city does not have such an ordinance now, but it was suggested by the board of health that one be written to provide licensing and inspection of all food handlers.

The board today decided to ask the city to buy 30 copies of the U.S. Health department code for study by its members and aldermen.

Council action this month approved the board's request for an ordinance and it was referred to City Atty. Don Jury.

Objection Voiced

A board member strongly objected, saying it is not good government to adopt regulations without first making sure they are applicable to the individual community.

After studying the federal code board members will make a recommendation to the welfare and ordinance committee.

It was reported the school system has joined in the city request for a state survey of local nursing services.

Harold Jerke, parks superintendent, will be asked to attend the next board meeting, to find out on whose authority he has been spraying for Dutch elm disease in the parks.

Spraying Policy

Board members felt that an October, 1959, council ruling on all spraying in the city should be enforced. The ruling says that any spraying for any reason will be governed by the board of health.

The health group will investigate the need for an anti-litter ordinance recommended by it Sept. 23, 1958. The request was referred by council action to the welfare and ordinance committee, but nothing was ever done, one member said.

The board's concern now is to see if it is necessary, along with an ordinance proposed by the street and sanitation committee, to force contractors to remove dirt and debris from streets at construction sites, or let the city do it and bill the contractors.

Purchase of a duplicating machine for the health department office was approved for $381. The board is asking that $600 be transferred from the department's salary account to the materials and equipment account to cover cost of the machine and paper.

Failure to Put God First Called Root of Evil

Minneapolis Pastor Speaks at Meeting Of Methodist Clergy

"The failure to put God first in everything we do is the root of all evil," said Dr. Chester A. Pennington, minister of the Hennepin Avenue Methodist church, Minneapolis. He spoke at First Methodist church Tuesday night during the second evening of the Methodist Wisconsin Area Pastors' school.

"We live under His judgment — even including the church," he said. "If you want to be the servant of God, know the grace and mercy of God, be the instrument through which God can speak, you must live under the judgment of God."

Dr. Pennington said that God is jealous of anything that takes people away from Him. This means that idolatry is the most serious sin.

Coveting Is Idolatry

"Even covetousness is idolatary. To want anything besides the will of God is idolatry and the effect of idolatry is cumulative," he stated.

The speaker said that God is consistent — He is merciful, but just. "God is King—He demands absolute obedience and speaks in judgment against those who oppose or reject him," he added.

Dr. Pennington will speak again at 8 p.m. today in a meeting open to the public.

The Rev. Dr. Helmer Ringgren, formerly of the University of Uppsala, Sweden, and now on the faculty of Garrett Biblical Institute, also is lecturing at the pastors' school. He is a professor of Old Testament interpretation and his theme for the week is "The Psalms as Documents of Personal Religion."

Dr. Ringgren said the Psalms in their most exterior context were written for use in the temple, as hymns are. But, he added, they also are valuable for a personal religious experience.

He stressed that the Psalms are rooted in fellowship and God-centered.

Man Fined for Tipsy Driving

Rural Menashan Arrested After Car Sideswipes Another

Charles F. Gerhartz, 25, route 2, Menasha, was fined $100 in municipal court today for drunken driving. Acting Municipal Judge Stanley A. Staidl revoked his driver's license for one year.

Gerhartz was arrested by Appleton police Aug. 10 after his car sideswiped a parked auto in the 300 block of W. College avenue and he pulled into a parking place because a tire blew out.

Appleton Gets Third Spraying For Mosquitoes

Appleton is being sprayed for mosquitoes for the third time this summer and it may have to do it a fourth time.

Claude N. Greisch, sanitation department superintendent, said today about half the third spraying is completed. The remainder will be done in the next four nights if weather permits.

Wind, rain and temperature are all factors in determining when spraying can be done effectively, he said.

Dr. Marvin Kagen, city health commissioner, ordered the third spraying last week, after a new supply of DDT solution was received. The city was out of the solution for about two days, Greisch said.

Greisch reported mosquito reproduction this summer has been extraordinarily high because of a wet spring, which created numerous pools of stagnant water, ideal breeding spots.

The effectiveness of the third spraying will determine if a fourth is necessary.

St. Mary School Faculty Attends 3-Day Workshop

Sister Mary Anaclete, principal, directed a workshop Monday, Tuesday and today for the faculty of St. Mary school, which opens Thursday.

"Scripture in the Elementary School" was the second day's theme. The Rev. A. M. Grill, pastor, spoke on the importance of teachers, under church guidance, instilling in students a knowledge and love of the Bible.

The courtesy emphasis in September will be on respect in the home, school, church and community, Sister Mary Calixtus said.

Muggy Air To Remain In Fox Cities

Isolated showers sprinkled areas in eastern Ohio, Massachusetts and Wyoming during the early morning. Rain fell in most of eastern Washington and considerable fog was reported throughout the Ohio valley and eastward into the middle Atlantic states.

The 5-day forecast calls for temperatures 6 to 10 degrees above normal, with about a half inch of rain Sunday or Monday.

Break Seen in Chilton Strike

5 Women Desert Line; Pickets Fail to Halt Restart of Work

Chilton — The first break in the solidarity of the strikers at the Richardson Rod and Reel company has been noted as massed picketing failed to prevent the resumption of operations at the plant Tuesday.

Production at the plant, struck for five weeks after a deadlock in drawn-out contract negotiations, was resumed after five women deserted the strikers and returned to work. The management hired two non-union workers and said two more will be added to the staff today.

Rod and Reel workers of the International Association of Machinists, AFL-CIO, called on local members employed by Chilton Metal Products company to reinforce their picket lines at Richardson.

Help Arrives

More than 50 turned out after the Metal Products plant day shift went off duty Tuesday and cars were parked across driveways into the Richardson plant.

However, Sheriff C. J. Kosmosky said the pickets removed the cars when he ordered them to and reported there was no violence shown to the former pickets or the non-union workers.

The strike was called July 26 when contract negotiations broke down after three months and 11 meetings. The union contract expired in May.

The strikers claim the offer made by the company, a division of the M-B corporation of New Holstein, differs only slightly from the conditions prevalent before the strike.

The company has offered a $1.20 hourly base rate, a bonus plan, time and a half for work beyond eight hours daily rather than based on a 40-hour week, and an additional half-day paid holiday.

Polio Takes Life Of Oshkosh Girl At Green Bay

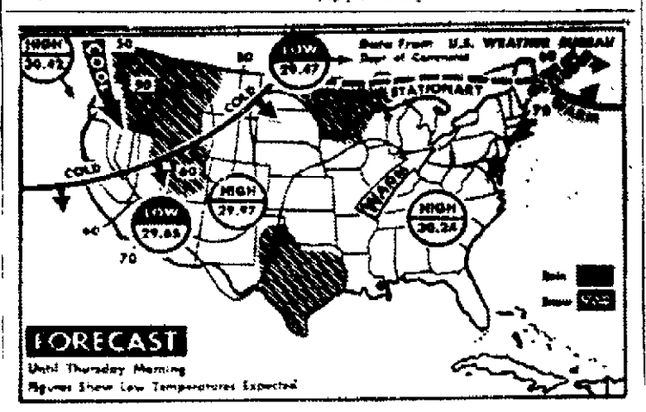

Green Bay —(AP)— A 14-year-old Oshkosh girl died of polio today, becoming the first known person to die of the disease in Wisconsin since October, 1959.

Susan Sheldon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Payne, Oshkosh, died in the polio center at St. Mary hospital. She became ill Saturday and was taken to St. Vincent hospital where her case was diagnosed as polio.

Officials said she had some polio shots since she came here early in July to spend the summer. They did not know how many shots she had received, but she had none before coming here.

In Madison, the state board of health said today two polio cases were reported in the week ending Aug. 20, raising the 1960 total at nine cases, compared to 18 in the same period last year.

The cases were in Dane county, a non-paralytic case, and in Vernon county, the type unspecified.

A Few Thunderstorms Are Likely over the upper Mississippi valley and Texas tonight while light rain and scattered showers and thunderstorms are foreseen for the western Rockies and the northwest. Continued humid weather is due for the middle Atlantic states and the northern Appalachians, while cooler readings are expected in Washington and Oregon.

Parking Authority Ordinance Tabled

City Planner, Traffic Engineer Should Come First, Board Told

Board members agreed nothing should be done on the authority until the city decides if it is going to hire a city planner and traffic engineer.

The move to table the ordinance came when Ald. Alvin Tews gave a report on a parking workshop he, the mayor and Traffic Lt. John Gosch attended in Chicago. Tews and Ald. Thomas Schneider proposed the parking authority last year.

He also said it was reported at the workship that a combined city planner-traffic engineer, as proposed by Schneider, is not a good idea.

Tews said city planners from around the country say the two posts are highly specialized fields which demand separate training and experience.

Also, he related, the cost of hiring a man qualified in both fields would be prohibitive for a city the size of Appleton.

Consulting Firm

Director of Public Works Edwin Duszynski proposed the city determine which of the two is needed most, then retain a consulting firm to study and make recommendations on the other problem.

He said that no matter which the city hires first, the man would be able to interpret the reports of the consulting firm because of his training and experience.

The city has requested the state bureau of personnel to evaluate the combined post of planner-engineer and to recommend a salary schedule.

In other business the board approved the color scheme for the new southside swimming pool and will recommend renewal of hospital, medical and surgical group insurance with Wisconsin Physicians Service, the present carrier.

Rate Increase

Renewal date is Oct. 1, and there will be a rate increase for the first time since 1952, when the firm became the carrier for the insurance.

The city pays half the premium and employes the other half.

The rate for a single person will go from $2.92 a month to $4.24, and for a family from $7.70 to $11.36.

A rate increase was necessary, the firm, said because of its experience in covering city employes. Claims paid in the past several years have risen sharply. Actuary figures show that for every dollar of premiums received the firm has paid out $1.24.

If claims in the next year drop to 92.3 per cent of premiums received the city will get a refund, and if claims drop to 82 per cent or below a rate reduction will be given, the firm reported.

Aetna Insurance company made a bid for the city contract, but its rates were about 24 cents a month higher for single persons and $3.23 higher for families, compared to the increased rates of Wisconsin Physicians Service.

Court Picks Attorneys for 2 Defendants

Trials Postponed For Louisiana, Green Bay Men

Waupaca—Trials of a Montgomery, La., man and a Green Bay man were postponed indefinitely by Judge Wendell McHenry this week when both of the accused asked the court to appoint attorneys for them.

Willard McBride, 22, Montgomery, La., faces charges of car theft and contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Edward J. Hart was named his attorney.

McBride was arrested by Shawano police on Aug. 13 when the car he was driving crashed into a ditch on Highway 29 near Happy Corners. It is charged McBride took the car from Clintonville on Aug. 9 and spent the time until the accident with a 16-year-old girl.

Herbert C. Thompson, 24, Green Bay, is charged with burglary. Richard E. Johnson was named his attorney. It is charged Thompson broke into the Neinhaus Service station, New London, on Aug. 14 and stole $70.

He was returned to New London on Aug. 18 after he was arrested in Green Bay as a peeping tom.

Around Home...

State Sen. Gerald Lorge became a father Tuesday — in his Bear Creek law office.

Sen. Lorge and his wife, Christinia, who live in the same building, were on their way to the hospital but never got out the door. A new London doctor arrived about 15 minutes after a young son was born and took mother and infant to New London Community hospital. Both are doing fine. Sen. Lorge's comment: "I never want to go through that again."

The Lorge's also are the parents of a 1-year-old son, Robert Gerald. The new boy has not yet been named.

Rabbit Foot Key Chains Go To Five Best Cookie Counters

BY CAPPY DICK

There'll be five winners in this contest. Each will receive a real rabbit foot as his award. The furry little paws are equipped with key chains so the winner of one of these pocket charms may carry all his keys on it. The puzzle is fun to solve, although care must be taken to avoid missing any of the cookies. The cookie in the boy's hand is to be counted in arriving at the total.

To enter the contest the first thing to do is count the cookies. When you are sure you have missed none of them, clip the picture out.

With your paints or crayons, color the cookies. Paste the picture on a sheet of paper or a postal card. Add any decorations you believe will make your entry especially neat and attractive because this will count along with accuracy when the judges decide the winners.

Lesson in English

BY W. L. GORDON

Words often misused: Do not say, "There was rain enough that the ground was saturated." Say, "There was ENOUGH RAIN TO saturate the ground."

Often mispronounced: Nuncio. Pronounce nun-shi-oh, accent on first syllable.

Word study: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day.

Today's word: eremitic, solitary; living alone, as a hermit or eremite. (Pronounce ehr-ee-mit-tick, accent third syllable). "His existence at that frontier post was an eremitic one."

Padlock Pried Off School In Consolidation Fight

About 50 persons milled around as Marlin Klopfenstein broke the lock off the front door. There were no incidents. Only 13 of the school's 22 pupils attended the first day's classes and officials warned that the other nine would be ruled truant unless they appeared today.

The lock-breaking incident was the second in the dispute with the Green County School committee. The first occurred Sunday, but at night another lock was put in place.

Poplar Grove residents are protesting a decision by the county committee which split the district and ordered some of the students to continue at Poplar Grove and others to attend classes at Brodhead, then go on to high school at Juda.

Electors voted to close the school, taking the position that if it remained open the district would be required to pay tuition for commuting pupils. If the school were closed, the state would pay the tuition.

Green County School Supt R. T. Haskee said the position was illegal, so the district went to court. Haskee then ruled that pending a court decision, all the students should attend Poplar Grove.

When School Board Clerk Clyde Davis arrived Sunday to clean the building he found it padlocked. He pried off the lock. Another appeared during the night and was removed Monday.

Kennedy Forms Nonpartisan Unit On Foreign Policy

Washington —(AP)— Sen. John F. Kennedy announced Tuesday the formation of a 4-man nonpartisan group of post-election advisers on national defense and foreign policy.

Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, told a news conference that he intends to criticize vigorously in the campaign "various aspects of current national security policies."

"But that criticism will be responsible and constructive," he said.

Kennedy announced the following group will help make available to him "the broadest range of expert thought in this critical area, without regard to party":

Paul H. Nitze, former director of the state department policy planning staff, chairman; David K. E. Bruce, U. S. ambassador to Germany from 1957 to 1959; Roswell L. Gilpatrick, chairman of the board of trustees of Aero-Space corporation, a private agency responsible for technical supervision of the ballistic missile and military space projects of the air force, and James A. Perkins vice president of the Carnegie corporation and member of the Gaither committee appointed by President Eisenhower in 1957 to survey national security problems.

Quotations Down At Opening but Move Higher Later

Telautograph, in which trading was halted for two full days prior to an 80,000-block just before Tuesday s closing bell, was delayed again for an hour and 18 minutes after today's market opening

Comptometer the most active stock Monday, could not be traded Tuesday because of a deluge of orders which exchange officials were unable to match. After an hour and 45 minutes of delay, it opened today on 65 000 shares

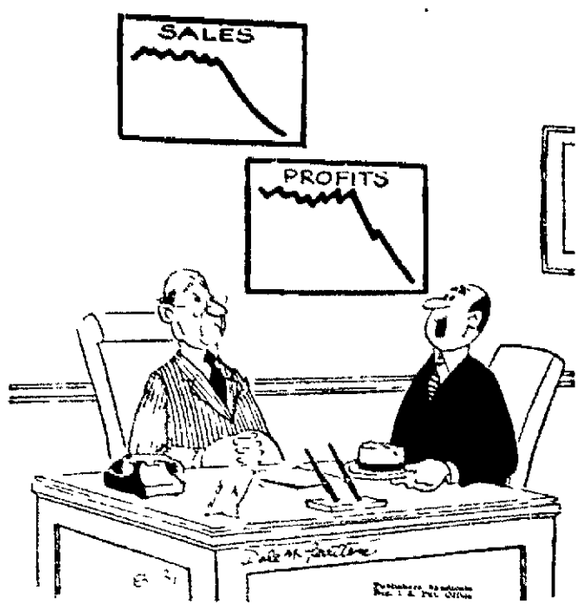

After a series of trades in both stocks, trading was halted once more because of accumulations of buy orders

In early trading the market seemed headed for its fifth straight decline from the August top reached last week

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down .30 with the industrials off .50 the rails off .20 and the utilities unchanged

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 1 33 at 625 07

Safety is YOUR Responsibility

When in Doubt, STOP!

DRIVE WITH CAUTION

YOUR CHIEF OF POLICE ASKS THAT YOU BE ON THE ALERT FOR CHILDREN.

The first rule of safety is . . . SLOW DOWN AND LIVE! Those few extra moments you spend driving slowly may save a child's life, perhaps your own! Be sure your car is in top mechanical condition! Poor brakes and slippery tires can, in an emergency, mean death instead of life!

You have delegated authority to us to enforce traffic regulations . . . but YOU, nobody but YOU controls YOUR car! If you are involved in an accident . . . if a child is injured or killed . . . YOU are responsible! Remember, children are hasty, unable to exercise judgment. It is up to YOU to watch out for them, to be extra-cautious, extra-alert! YOUR judgment as an adult has qualified you for a driver's license . . . so YOU must accept the responsibility for the safety of our children by exercising more than usual care. You can NEVER replace a life!
